The arrest was made, police reported, after one of their operatives had purchased a pint of liquor from Wright.

Will Rogers Remarks:

ILE DE FRANCE, Feb. 5. (To the Editor of The Times:) The one person that I have missed on this trip home is Charles E. Hughes, who was aboard on my last one. No one on the boat will ever forget his cheerful good nature and the whole-souled fellow that he showed himself when we landed. Everybody was in favor of giving him the same position in America that Mussolini so thoroughly enjoys in his country. I especially missed him last night in the charity entertainment. He is a fine fellow and smarter, too, than you would think. He is not so much in book learning, but in his rough, uncouth native way he will make us a good man on that Supreme couch, and he can't possibly do us any harm, for Supreme Court decisions will always remain the same five against four, when it's six to three that's called unanimous. So good luck to you, Charley.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TAFT VISITED BY HOOVER

Ex-Jurist Found Improved

Call Follows Word of Gain Made by Patient After Restful Night

Late Bulletin by Physician Describes Condition as Unchanged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Displaying recuperative powers which surprised even his doctors, William Howard Taft, who is dangerously ill at his home here, was able today to receive his friend, President Hoover.

The Chief Executive and the broken man, who once held the Presidency and only a few days ago relinquished the office of Chief Justice of the United States, were together only a few minutes. There was a lingering handclasp as they parted.

Mr. Taft, for whose ultimate recovery physicians have little hope, was sitting up and cheerful when the President called. Mr. Hoover took his hand and greeted him with a smile and an expression of gratification that he was feeling better.

PLEASURE EXPRESSED

The former President smiled and feebly expressed his pleasure at the visit.

The President remained in the room for only a little while, exchanging a few words with the sick man. As he departed he again clasped Mr. Taft's right hand.

The visit was at the invitation of Mrs. Taft, extended during the forenoon after the physicians had found their patient to be in better condition than they had hoped for.

Several hours after the departure of the President physicians attending Mr. Taft said he had "maintained the improvement noted this morning, has rested quietly and has taken more nourishment."

After an unusually restful night—the first under his own roof in weeks—Mr. Taft awoke today feeling much better than yesterday, when he arrived from Asheville in a state bordering almost on collapse. During some of the day he was able to sit up in an easy chair.

SONS TO VISIT HIM

Visiting their patient early in the day, the attending physicians issued this bulletin just before noon:

"The Chief Justice is slightly better than yesterday. He spent a quiet night and is comfortable this morning."

While Mr. Taft's condition showed some improvement overnight, physicians have given up all hope of curing the complication of diseases from which he is suffering. The two sons of the 73-year-old former President, Charles P. and Robert A. Taft, are getting ready to come to Washington.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

Shortly before midnight tonight Mr. Taft's condition was described by Dr. Thomas A. Claytor, one of his physicians, as unchanged.

The physician, after spending five minutes with his patient, said the former Chief Justice and President of the United States had not yet gone to sleep.

Dr. Claytor added that Mr. Taft is in no immediate danger unless complications develop. He repeated that his condition seems to be improved over what it was yesterday.

Dr. Claytor said the next visit will be made tomorrow.

MEXICAN YOUTH SHOOTS PRESIDENT ORTIZ RUBIO

the palace. The ceremonies were comparatively brief and were followed by a short Cabinet meeting. It was just 2:30 p.m. when the Presidential car came through the honor gate.

The shooting prompted a rush by motorcycle policemen, who seized the assailant and hurried him into the Presidential palace. The crowd surged forward, but the foot police and troops on duty held the populace in check.

The Presidential chauffeur, although wounded in the face, with great presence of mind kept his car going and steered between the lines of guards, disappearing toward the Ortiz Rubio home before may of the witnesses of the near tragedy could comprehend what had happened.

PRISONER QUESTIONED

The would-be assassin was questioned at once by Joaquin Amaro, who had just been sworn in as Secretary of War, and by Puig Casaurano.

For a time the authorities refused to make any announcement respecting the identity or motives of the prisoner. Then they gave out his name as Daniel Flores, but later corrected this to Miguel Flores. His age was given at 22 and it was stated by the police that he had acknowledged himself a follower of Jose Vasconcelos, defeated Presidential candidate of the Antire-electionist party.

The significance of this latter fact lay in the recent announcement by the police that they had nipped in the bud a Vasconcelista plot which had for its object the assassination not only of Senor Ortiz Rubio, but also the death of Emilio Portes Gil, the retiring provisional President, and other officials.

The police said the plotters, like the conspirators who killed Abraham Lincoln had tried to wipe out the American Civil War Cabinet, had hoped to create a condition of confusion which would permit them to seize the reins of government.

FAILS OF PURPOSE

If this was the object of Flores, it totally failed of its purpose. After the initial excitement over the shooting had subsided, the capital became quiet and tonight was almost normal, except for anxiety as to possible complications in the case of the President.

One eyewitness of the shooting declared that Flores was accompanied by companions, who waited near him in an automobile.

But the Presidential guard rushed the assailant so vigorously that the others had no opportunity to succor him, although they took advantage of the temporary confusion to speed away in their car. There was no official confirmation of this report.

Others said the assailant fired over the shoulders of soldiers who were guarding the exit from the palace. They said he took deliberate aim, but his bullets first hit the frame of the closed machine in which the Presidential party was riding and therefore were somewhat spent when they struck the occupants. This, it was said, accounted for the slightness of the injuries suffered by Ofelia Ortega.

TIME WELL CHOSEN

The time of the attempt on the Presidential life was well chosen from the assassin's viewpoint. Extraordinary safeguards had been thrown about Senor Ortiz Rubio on his way to the stadium, throughout the inauguration and on his ride to the national palace where he met and organized his Cabinet.

The large guard had been somewhat lessened after the new President entered the palace, although the regular Presidential guard stood by to protect him there. A crowd of curiosity seekers had gathered about the honor gate to see him depart for his home, and this gave opportunity for Flores to approach the place unnoticed.

TRINKETS FOUND

A 50-peso gold piece worth about $25 in American money, and a few religious trinkets were found on the gunman but there were no papers to reveal his identity or involve possible accomplices. Six hours after the shooting he was taken from the National Palace and turned over to the Attorney-General's office. His home was announced as San Luis Potosi.

Meanwhile the President was removed from the hospital, leaving there at 6:25 p.m., and arriving at his residence at Vera Cruz and Durango streets twenty-five minutes later.

A heavy guard accompanied the ambulance through the streets and more than 100 uniformed police formed a cordon around the house. Admittance was refused to any except the highest government officials.

The bullet which grazed the President's wife cut her ear and made a slight wound in her scalp. She left the hospital for her home several minutes before her husband departed. Maria Rosh Ortega, the young niece, suffered a slight wound in the ear.

Officials of foreign government, sent here as representatives of their nations at the inauguration, called at the Foreign Office tonight.

A signed statement was given out later by Senor Portes Gil, which said:

"Upon taking charge of the Department of the Interior, I think it is my duty to address the nation and to give an account of the savage attempt by an individual named Daniel Flores, who, when the President and his family were leaving the palace en route home after the ceremony of inauguration at the stadium, fired six shots from a revolver, with the result that the following were wounded:

"The President, his wife, Josefina de Ortiz Rubio, his niece, and the chauffeur who was driving the automobile in which they were riding.

"Fortunately the wounds, which might well have been grave because of the delicate places they struck, are not of fatal consequence. The President, his wife and the other wounded persons were promptly attended at the Red Cross Hospital and are entirely free from danger.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN

"The criminal was apprehended and turned over to the Attorney-General for investigation.

"This vile act clearly reveals that there are in the country morose elements who shun no method, whatever its character may be, to cast the nation into chaos and ruin.

"While the judicial authorities will probe this attempt to the bottom, I consider it my duty to make it known that the revolutionary government is firm in its determination to enforce the principles of the Mexican social movement. It is ready to face any situation that may arise and will punish severely all criminal attempts of this nature.

"The nation, therefore, may remain calm, especially since they are assured that the plotters of the attempt which came near causing the deaths of the President and his family have managed only to lower their cause in the eyes of public opinion. Meanwhile the revolutionary government has amply fortified its position."

VASCONCELOS BLAMES CALLES FOR UNREST

Jose Vasconcelos, defeated Mexican Presidential candidate of the Antire-electionist party, last night said he does not personally remember Daniel Flores, the Mexican youth who yesterday made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate President Ortiz Rubio during inaugural ceremonies at Mexico City.

Vasconcelos issued to The Times the following statement:

"I have been stating during a whole year that there could not be peace in Mexico until a free election was effected. It is necessary to substitute government of public opinion for the present government of graft and murder. During the last six years Calles has been using the iron hand with the result of a half-dozen revolutions and constant agitation and trouble.

"Economic ruin is also bound to continue and inability to meet foreign obligations with governments of the Calles type that have to maintain a tremendous army to support themselves against the people's wills. Practical men are hard to convince by words, but I suppose that facts will move them; the sad fact of the reprisals taken by all people when denied their rights.

ANGER JUSTIFIED

"I feel sorry for the fate of the young man who has sacrificed himself. I do not remember him personally. Undoubtedly he was exasperated to see his country dominated by brutal force. If he was a student, as reports indicate, then it is natural that he should feel anger because, during my Presidential campaign, students and other unarmed civilians were shot down in the streets of Mexico City and elsewhere by Congressmen and policemen directly protected by Portes Gil. At the ceremony of today the very murderer of one of these students, Germand Del Campo, arrived in the same car with ex-President Calles.

"Of course, it is sad to think of Ortiz Rubio hurt because he is nothing but a tool of Calles. I hope for peace in Mexico, but I know that peace never comes without justice, so let us hope for justice first."

GOV. TAPIA FORWARDS RESIGNATION TO CAPITAL

MEXICALI, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—In accordance with an unwritten law affecting all major appointive offices in the republic Gen. Jose Maria Tapia today forwarded to President Ortiz Rubio his resignation as Governor.

The message to the newly inaugurated President was sent from Tia Juana where Gov. Tapia is visiting, but its contents were made known through official channels at the territorial palace here.

Tapia explained in his telegram to Ortiz Rubio that his resignation was offered in order that the new Federal executive might be unhampered in his selection of subordinates. "As a loyal Mexican citizen, my services shall always be at your command," Tapia assured the new President.

It is understood here that the filing of this resignation is merely in accordance with Mexican custom, and Tapia had been given full assurance that he would be retained as territorial Governor here under the new administration before he assumed the office of Governor on January 3.

HOOVER SENDS BEST WISHES TO NEW CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—President Hoover today cabled his greetings to Pascual Ortiz Rubio as the latter was inaugurated President of Mexico. He said in part:

"It is my confident hope that Mexico under your leadership may enjoy the greatest possible prosperity, and that the relations between our two peoples and governments will continue to be characterized by friendship, understanding, and cordiality. I beg of your excellency to accept also my best wishes for your personal health and happiness."

uration, occupied the diplomatic box nearest the Presidential stand while a score or more of the new President's official guests from the United States occupied positions in the forefront. The rest of the American visitors occupied chairs on the inaugural stand.

NOTE OF FRIENDSHIP

There was a note of friendship for the United States throughout the proceedings. Americans passed through the police lines and ticket takers without question while others had to produce their credentials in order to get to the central arena.

The inauguration itself passed without incident of any kind, although a double guard of Presidential escorts had been thrown around the entrance and inaugural stand, both as a mark of honor to the incoming and outgoing Presidents, and as a precaution against any manifestation.

Probably never in Mexico has such a vast pistolless crowd gathered. Scores of guards were assigned to the entrance gates whose only function was to pat hips and remove pistols or eject any person so injudicious as to bring along firearms.

One feature of the ceremony was the number of photographers, more than thirty, who kept up a constant barrage of picture-taking throughout the ceremonies.

ican social movement appeared beneath a humble cloak but has been gradually ascending," President Ortiz Rubio said, pointing out that up to now the culture element in the country had held itself aloof from the revolutionary element, but the two are uniting.

JUDICIARY REVISION

The administration of justice which frequently has been branded as corrupt, said the President, "constitutes one of the deepest preoccupations of my government and it is hoped to reform the judiciary system which has grown to become an unreality officially based on metaphysical concepts," adding that the modification of law should be a product of experience gained from their enforcement. "The revolution is able to demonstrate that it is capable of organizing justice," he said.

As to economic matters, the President declared, "A study of our resources will be undertaken with every precision. The 2,000,000 square kilometers we possess have enough economic potentiality to sustain easily more than six times our population. If this population at present is unable to live even in relatively human conditions this is due to the profoundly distant relations between the landowners and the lower classes who are entitled to their divisions of the land. Some technical deficiency exists in the matter of carrying out the land laws, and these are factors of political significance which it will be necessary to modify."

LESS FRICTION URGED

A general appeal was made by Senor Ortiz Rubio for collectivity among both land granters and grantees, and less friction in the application of the agrarian laws which he feels is more feasible now "because our new ideology has rectified the concept of property, generalising the average Mexican concept of citizenship and its attendant duties, leaving no other superiority than that which is derived from capacity, from intelligence, from productive ability and from purified integrity.

"We now aspire," he continued, "to perfect the necessary technique for the exploitation of our natural wealth for the well being of our people. Restitution of the communal grant makes even more urgent the intervention of the government in the implantation of the adoption of modern methods in cultivation which alone can produce in proportion to our needs at the same time working for the social betterment of those who receive parcels of land, and for the consolidation of our most esteemed conquests."

LEAVES DOOR AJAR

Of particular interest to the United States as affecting future relations between the two countries is the fact that the President, while he did not specifically say, as he has done in recent statements to the press, that all land expropriations should be paid for in cash, he did leave the door ajar for conjecture by strongly intimating that there would be no further seizures except as specifically provided in the agrarian law.

"The administration under my charge," Senor Ortiz Rubio said, "will be a social government, erasing every line of separation between society and the state. Mexico because of her geographical position between two oceans and neighbors of one of the most powerful nations in the world; because of her exalted conception of distributive justice, which places her among the advanced peoples of the earth; and because of limitless resources, should be considered as an advanced and modern state.

PRAISES PAST LEADERS

"For this reason the transformation of her social institutions is needed as urgently as the selection and careful preparation of her public men. I shall select men of efficient, scientific preparation for their tasks, but only on condition that their spirit, their knowledge and their courage are at the service of the postulates of revolution. We are here to make a better country, that Mexicans may benefit from the dignity of being men."

In closing, Senor Ortiz Rubio paid tribute to two men, Portes Gil and the late Gen. Obregon, whose uncompleted term he begins today.

YOU have heard the jokes—good and bad about the quick lunch habit of Americans.

Perhaps the quick lunch used to be a joking matter. Or a rather sad affair—according to how you look at it. Perhaps the quick lunch at many eating places is no better than it ever was.

From the days of the quaint colonial inns, eating places have become world-famous for good food.

Not all Green Lantern Fountains are equipped at present to serve hot lunches. But gradually they are equipping themselves—as space becomes available, and trained chefs and attendants have fitted themselves for this superior service.

Gunmen Continue Reign of Terror in Chicago

Wounded Victim Succumbs; Another Man Shot

Week's Killings Total Seven and Two Near Death

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—The mad symphony of gunmen killers played on today with deadly staccato notes. One man was wounded, another died of wounds suffered yesterday. Score for one week, seven dead, two hovering on the brink of death.

Phillip Meacher, 35 years of age, superintendent for a construction company, stood watching men work on a South Side building. Two men in a small coupe drove near him and opened fire. Meacher fell as several shots struck him in the back. The motive was unknown tonight, but terrorists are suspected.

William Healy, seventh target of gunmen in the week's terror, died in a hospital after naming his assailants—three racketeers. He quarreled with them in a beer flat early yesterday, he said, then two of them shot him.

PATROL TIGHTENED

Officials and police adopted extraordinary patrol measures. The State's Attorney ordered his assistants to obtain indictments for gun toting against any gangsters that could be picked up.

Chief Municipal Court Justice Olson urged insanity proceedings to isolate racketeers and gunmen for life.

The only actual murder charges to grow out of the present flare, it appeared, will be lodged against Jack Neville, George (Monk) Campion and Jerry Cotter, the man named by the dying Healy.

The recent crime wave began one week ago with the shooting of John Genaro, brother of Peppi Genaro, alleged gangster. Genaro still is alive. Next came the killing of Barney Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Cab Company, and Glenn Jackson, cab driver. Authors and motive for the crime remain unknown. Next day, Julius Rosenheim, informer and extortionist, fell—shot to death. Another day and the next victim was Joseph (The Dude) Cada, gangster and racketeer. Then Healy, and yesterday Phillip Marchese and Joseph Buciere.

CHILDREN SEE SLAYING

Two men shot Marchese to death near a school in sight of several children. He, too, was a racketeer.

The killers of Buciere invaded his home, turned up the volume of the radio and shot him. Buciere was a grocer. His brother said he formerly had been engaged in liquor traffic.

The week's activities also included several bombings, two of which caused damage estimated at $100,000 each.

Also today, two robbers held up the Hubbard Woods Trust and Savings Bank and escaped with approximately $3000; and two negro robbers slugged and probably fatally injured Fred Mayer, 72, owner of a secondhand store, when he resisted hold-up.

EXPERT ON REVENUE WINS FEDERAL POST

TAX BOARD POST GIVEN TO WOMAN

Senate Confirms Georgia Teacher Who Strived Hard to Qualify Herself

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The dream of a Georgia school-teacher that she could fit herself to hold an important government position came true today when the Senate confirmed the appointment of Miss Annabel Mathews as a member of the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

Having entered the government service at a salary of $900 a year, Miss Mathews now assumes a judicial position that pays $10,000 annually. She had prepared herself for the post through study of law and of tax matters while a government clerk. She will be the only woman member of the board of sixteen.

Miss Mathews was born in Gainesville, Ga., on December 31, 1883. After graduating from Brenau College, she taught school in her home State until she came to Washington to enter the Internal Revenue Bureau on March 4, 1914. Apt in her work from the start, her advance in the service began less than a year after she had entered it and she developed into one of the outstanding experts of the huge staff employed by the government.

She received her law degree in 1921, after which she was appointed an attorney in the office of the general counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau. So expert had she become in tax matters, especially those relating to double taxation, that she was selected over the men of the office to attend international conferences on tax matters held abroad.

Advancing steadily she finally became attorney in the general counsel's office at a salary of $4000 a year.

HOOVER AIDS COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

System Called Greatest Advance in Handling of Charity Obligations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—President Hoover, speaking to a group of Community Chest workers in the East Room of the White House, today declared the Community Chests represent "our greatest advance in the administration of charity.

"Their great purpose," he said, "is the handling with large vision of the obligations of a whole city to its less fortunate residents."

The development of the Community Chest, Mr. Hoover added, had assured skill in the administration of charities as well as freedom from prejudice. The Community Chest also assures support to charities of vital necessity but of little emotional appeal, he said.

The address was delivered in connection with a Community Chest drive now being conducted in the District of Columbia. The capital city of the nation, the President asserted, should lead in its evidences of acceptance of obligations to the less fortunate and in devotion to spiritual developments.

TARIFF SLASHED ON CHEMICALS

Coalition in Senate Puts in Ripping Fine Day

Some Duties Reduced Below Existing Level

Democrats Bolt, However, on Three Occasions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The Democrats and Republican independents who, with few exceptions, have held the whip hand in the Senate revision of industrial tariffs, succeeded today in slashing six chemical duties below the level of existing law, restoring five levies to their present status, and cutting one proposed increase in half.

The coalition suffered three reverses, however, as the Republican regulars, strengthened by half a dozen bolting Democrats, came back to stem the tide of downward revision.

NINE ROLL CALLS

The day proved one of the most dramatic and busiest of the five months the Senate has wrestled with the House tariff bill. Finished with more than 450 committee amendments, the first of the fifteen rate sections of the measure was opened to individual changes, and they came thick and fast.

Nine roll calls were required to settle as many disputes that would not down via the viva voce route.

Although assured by Democratic leaders that the minority party did not propose to "run wild" with reduction proposals, but would confine its rate cutting to articles where importations were negligible, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, arranged for a conference tomorrow to map out a program for future action with respect to coalition proposals and to determine the attitude toward final passage of the measure.

PASSAGE FORESEEN

Leaders look for a final vote by the 15th inst., and it is understood that while somewhat upset over reverses suffered at the hands of the coalition, Republican regulars will vote for passage in order to get the bill to conference with the House.

After losing by a tie on the first vote of the day, regarded as a test, Democrats maneuvered for absentees and after consideration won by a margin of two votes to lower the present levy on acetic anhydride, used in the manufacture of silk dyes and aspirin, from 5 to 2½ cents a pound.

Other rates cut below existing law were those on boric acid, which was lowered from 1½ to 1 cent a pound; acetone from 25 to 20 per cent; low-grade aluminum sulphate, slight reduction; collodion and other liquid solutions of proxylin from 35 to 30 cents a pound; compounds of cellulose known as vulcanized or hard fiber from 35 to 30 per cent.

PRESENT DUTIES KEPT

Proposed duties on the following chemical products were cut to the level of the present law:

Formic acid, phosphoric acid containing over 80 per cent acid by weight; Synthetic gums and resins; dry, ground or bolted chalk; gelatin, glue size and fish glue not specially provided for.

An increase in the rate of casein glue, proposed by Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee to make it conform to the increase in the casein duty, was approved without debate.

The biggest setback of the coalition forces was the defeat, 41 to 38, of a Democratic proposal to restore existing rates on all chemical in Paragraph Two of the chemical schedule embracing hydrocarbons.

LEAVE PARTY FOLD

Six Democrats went over to the Republican side to help reject the amendment, and a like number aided a little later in the defeat of another Democratic amendment, which would have cut the present duty on ethylene glycol from 6 cents a pound and 30 per cent, to 6 cents and 20 per cent.

Senator La Follette, Republican independent, Wisconsin, lost in an attempt to lower the rate on high-grade aluminum sulphate, while a compromise was reached on the calcined magnesia levy, the Senate agreeing to an increase from 3½ to 5 cents a pound. The House and pending bill had proposed 7 cents.

Explaining the Democratic position Senator Harrison said: "Nobody is going wild on this proposition. This side of the chamber is just as anxious to develop the domestic chemical industry as the other side but we are asking the Republicans to join us in cutting rates where evidence shows they are unjustified."

Watsonville Defendants' Kin Arrange Demonstration

Accused Youths Smothered With Hugs and Kisses

Performance Renewed Until Court Adjourns Hearing

WATSONVILLE, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Women's and girls' kisses and hugs halted proceedings at the very beginning today of the preliminary hearing of eight Watsonville youths before D. W. Rohrback, Pajaro Township justice of the peace, on charges of rioting in the recent anti-Filipino disturbances.

As the young men were led before the bar a crowd of mothers, sisters, aunts and sweethearts surged forward, swept the court officers from their feet and grasped the defendants with endearing cries and caresses.

BLOCK PROCEEDINGS

For several minutes wheels of justice were completely halted, while Justice Rohrback and Constable Cano vainly tried to restore order.

Throughout the hearing the women renewed their demonstrations, encouraged by the cries of men spectators. The proceedings were so delayed, Justice Rohrback was compelled to continue the case until next Friday morning after the testimony of Filipino witnesses only had been heard.

EIGHT DEFENDANTS

The defendants are Robert Smith, George Barnes, Ramon Davis, Fred Spangler, George Sias, Charles Morrison, Fred Majors and Edward Fry. Smith, Spangler and Sias are charged also with attempted robbery.

The Filipino witnesses, lettuce pickers at the Andrew Storm ranch, testified the defendants burst in on their bunkhouse, threatened them with guns and searched their effects. This has been denied by the youths.

WHEAT MARKET CRISIS IMPENDS

Farm Board Calls Growers to Meet Situation

Emergency Measures May be Resorted to Today

Corporation to Hold Excess Grain in Prospect

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—In the face of another chaotic day on the grain exchanges, both here and in foreign countries, the Federal Farm Board today called together for the first time its newly appointed advisory committee of wheat growers.

While the closed session adjourned tonight for another day's deliberations, rumors persisted that a national stabilization corporation will be announced, this type of holding organization being provided in the Federal Farm Marketing Act as a last resort in case of surplus production or other critical marketing situations in the United States.

WHEAT GROWERS MEET

Meeting with Alexander Legge, chairman, and Samuel R. McKelvie, grain member of the Farm Board, were men representing the entire wheat growing interests of the nation.

While no indication of the committee's discussion today could be obtained from its spokesmen, Mr. Legge branded as "utterly without foundation" a report that the Federal Farm Board had applied for $100,000,000 more of the half billion dollars appropriated subject to call by the board.

After closing at a small advance Tuesday the wheat market dropped off again today, wavering under uncertain trends and closing the third day of lowest prices for wheat of the season at 3-4 to 1 3-8 cents lower. May wheat was quoted at $1.18 3-8 in Chicago.

RUMORS DENIED

Reports that the co-operatives had accumulated some 12,000,000 bushels of grain during the recent heavy runs of country sales were denied at the Chicago headquarters. It is understood that somewhat under 2,000,000 bushels have been bought on the Farm Board's basic loan figures at Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago, very little being purchased in the Southwest.

Should the advisory committee on wheat decide to recommend the formation of a stabilization corporation to the Federal Farm Board, it will carry out the provisions of the Marketing Act which make it possible to use government funds to buy up such part of the commodity as is deemed necessary to relieve domestic markets, and to hold, process or sell the commodity at its discretion.

PROFITS LESS LOSSES

Any losses suffered in this transaction are taken from the board's revolving fund and the law provides this shall be a loan, to be repaid later "from future profits from its surplus control operations." The law also provides that the corporation's officers must "exert every reasonable effort to avoid losses and to secure profits, but shall not withhold any commodity from the domestic market if the prices have been unduly enhanced, resulting in distress to domestic consumers."

This provision of the Federal Marketing Act is regarded by many to be one of the outstanding delegations of Federal powers to groups of commodity producers.

Disputed Land in Elwood Oil Field Not Public

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The Department of the Interior announced today it had decided that a trip of land in Elwood oil field, Santa Barbara county, California, which had been under dispute, is not public land but is part of the Los Dos Pueblo ranch.

The department held that consequently there had been no oil trespass on government land in that locality. In the opinion rendered by Assistant Secretary Edwards, the Pacific Ocean was held to be the southern limit of the Pueblo ranch.

The tract in dispute was said to be very valuable, owing to its large production of high-grade oil.

He refused to accept the unofficial returns showing his defeat by T. Semmes Walmsley, acting Mayor, by more than 8000 votes, and said he will await an official tabulation.

Union Protests Free Tariff for Church Material

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The tariff group of the American Federation of Labor tonight made public a protest to the Commissioner of Customs against the "policy of the Treasury Department in permitting free entry of marble for walls and floors for installation in church buildings."

The letter, signed by M. J. Flynn, executive secretary of America's Wage Earners' Protective Conference, said, "The practice of permitting free entry . . . of almost any and every article entering into the furnishing, decorating, and even the building of a religious edifice has reached such proportions that the only relief which American workers, depending upon their labors for a livelihood, have is to refuse to perform any work upon those buildings containing imported marble or other imported articles."

LOBBY REPORT WAITS ON KING

Dye Importer Reiterates Story of Contribution

First Gift Accepted, Other Refused, He States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Senator King, Democrat, Utah, may appear before the Senate lobby committee to explain two contributions of $1000 each which Herman A. Metz, New York dye importer, said he made to the Senator's campaign fund in 1922 and 1928.

Reporting today to the Senate on the lobby committee's investigation of New York importers, Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, said he had been informed that King might wish to appear to testify concerning the contributions.

Senator King is now in a Baltimore hospital receiving treatment for a stomach disorder and could not be reached for a statement.

Robinson said the committee's report on its investigation into dye importers had been completed but that it will be held up pending the recovery of Senator King. The report consists principally of a summary of testimony given by the witnesses to the committee.

In a brief statement to the Senate Robinson said the National Council of American Importers and Traders, Inc., had "practiced every method of lobbying known" in advocating foreign valuation and lower rates in the tariff bill.

"I have no doubt," he added, "that this organization was formed originally in order to bring to bear influence in tariff matters."

Lieut. Norman S. Ives, commanding the S-4 and P. E. Grieshaber, supervising constructor of the company which designed the bell, came up from the submarine and were taken aboard the Falcon in the second test with the bell today.

Tests today were characterized as "successful and gratifying" by naval officers attached to the expedition.

Coughs

YOUNGSTERS use up so much energy every day. No wonder they eat so heartily. Their little bodies need quantities of wholesome foods to build them up.

Suddenly a cough develops, and they become weak and listless. It feeds upon their strength. It saps the precious energy they need for day-to-day existence. If neglected, it soon draws upon their vital reserves.

No wonder doctors say: "DON'T LET A COUGH DEVELOP. CHECK IT AT THE START!"

Pertussin brings quicker results by a safer method than the old-fashioned way of taking cough syrups. Pertussin is not a cough syrup like other remedies. Pertussin contains no narcotics or habit-forming drugs. You cannot overdose with Pertussin. Pertussin is an herbal preparation of unquestioned quality which has been used successfully for the relief of coughs, colds and bronchial irritations for more than 30 years. Pertussin is pleasant to take and helps to restore health.

Remember! Don't let a persistent cough weaken you. Especially during the winter months, a spoonful of Pertussin at the first sign of a tickling or irritation in the throat is often more than any other household remedy. Sold at all druggists.

"SHADOWS HUGER than the shapes that cast them"

[Alfred, Lord Tennyson, 1809-1892]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW"

By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper figure, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful figure.

BALDWIN URGES LESS SECRECY

Conservative Leader Scores Labor's Parley Policy

Commons Entitled to More Frankness, He Says

Use of Conference Given His Full Approval

LONDON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Stanley Baldwin, former Conservative Premier, in outlining policies of the Conservative party before a big gathering of his supporters at the Queen's Gallaum this morning, declared that if the Labor party wants the support which the Conservatives wish to give it in international affairs there will have to be more frankness on the government's part than there has been in the past.

Referring to the naval conference, Mr. Baldwin said that no one valued more than he the difficult position entailed by that parley, but he considered the Commons was entitled to more information than it had received. He remarked that the House learned for the first time through the press that two cruisers were going to be dropped.

"That is the kind of thing which makes the people of this country angry," he said. "If the scrapping is the result of an agreement into which the conference we ought to have been told. If, on the other hand, it was merely a gesture, we should have been told also.

"We have every intention of playing the game with the government. We want them to play their part. We are going to play the part which was played by the leaders of all parties when my friend Ramsay MacDonald attended the Geneva conference on naval disarmament and the leaders of both opposition parties found themselves in this country with Mr. Shearer.

"But we do take some comfort in the declaration made by the Prime Minister the other day when he gave expression to a sentiment with which we are in full agreement and which coming from the party which he leads, was the first time such an utterance had ever been made—'our navy is us.'

"Our navy indeed is us and when we discuss naval matters we are touched far beyond our intellect; we are touched in the depths of our sentiment and our hearts."

Mr. Baldwin previously had indicated Conservative sympathy with the naval conference, which the Labor party took its first opportunity to make a reality.

COOK'S PAROLE RECOMMENDED

Federal Board Acts in Case of Doctor-Explorer

Disposition Now Rests With Mitchell and Hoover

Leavenworth Term Result of Stock Promotion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP) — Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer serving a fifteen-year sentence at Leavenworth Federal penitentiary, today was recommended for parole by the Federal Parole Board.

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell has yet to pass on the parole board's recommendation and there is no intimation from the Department of Justice today as to what action will be taken. Should Mitchell approve the recommendation, it will be submitted to President Hoover for his approval.

Cook was convicted of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of petroleum stock. He becomes eligible for parole March 5, next.

Cook began his sentence on April 6, 1925, after he had been convicted at Fort Worth, Tex., before Federal Judge Killetts, who was sent there from the northern district of Ohio. Cook was charged with receiving about $375,000 from the sale of fraudulent stock. He was sentenced to serve fourteen years and nine months and to pay a fine of $12,000.

On March 22, 1929, President Hoover denied Cook's plea for executive clemency whereby he sought to have the sentence commuted to ten years, which would have enabled him to apply for parole sooner.

INDIANS CHARGE COERCION PLOT

Rich Klamath Tribe Attacks Government Bureau

Pressure Declared Used to Get Jobs for Lawyers

Right to Make Own Choice of Attorney Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Charges that Indian Bureau officials have undertaken to compel the retention of certain lawyers by tribes seeking redress from the government were made today to Senator Frazier, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the Senate Indian Affairs Committee, by accredited spokesmen for the Klamath tribe of Indians in Oregon.

Through a tribal committee composed of Ida M. Crawford, Wade Crawford and Luke Chester, the Indians, owners of Oregon timber and grazing lands valued at more than $30,000,000, as well as more than $1,500,000 in cash on deposit to their credit in the Indian Bureau, protested they were denied the right to employ an attorney of their own choosing at a fee of $100 a week.

The protest was accompanied with a request to the Senator to introduce a bill authorizing the Indians to select a legal adviser, to be paid out of the tribal funds, particularly for the purpose of studying a pending measure which proposes to conserve the Indians' estate by incorporating the tribe.

According to their story, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Rhoades approved the tribal committee's choice of an attorney, but later withdrew his approval on the advice of others in the bureau who, subsequently, the Indians charge, suggested the wisdom of employing certain attorneys known to specialize in Indian litigation.

Billie (Barbara) Riley

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce is again figuring in the "eternal triangle." This time it's the result of a heart-balm suit filed by Billie (Barbara) Riley, film danseuse, against Joe May, vaudeville headliner. Miss Riley, in filing suit for $100,000 against the actor, asserts she found a photograph of Peggy in May's pocket. Finding the photo wasn't so bad, Miss Riley declares, but it was autographed "Love—Pee Wee."

FLAG DESECRATION BILL PASSES HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Desecration of the national flag by using it for advertising purposes would be forbidden under a bill passed today by the House and sent to the Senate. The measure would prevent the use of the flag on boxes, signs and for other related purposes.

Farm Board Fails to Ask New Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The sum of $552,172,213 would be set aside for twenty-eight independent offices and agencies of the government under provisions of the annual supply bill for 1931 reported today to the House by the Appropriations Committee.

The measure shows a decrease of $141,687,627 under the current appropriations. It also is $1,511,825 below the budget estimates. The decrease resulted in failure of the Farm Board to ask for an appropriation toward its revolving fund.

NOT ALL LOANED

Last year a revolving fund of $150,000,000 to make loans to cooperative marketing associations was provided for the board. No additional appropriation was requested by the board in view of the fact that less than $67,000,000 has been loaned from the $150,000,000 appropriated under the $500,000,000 authorization for farm relief.

Under action by the committee, however, $1,900,000 was set aside for administrative and co-operative marketing expenses. The Veterans' Bureau received $311,225,000, an increase of $11,250,000 over the appropriations for this year. Additional hospital personnel, compensation to emergency naval and army officers injured in the World War and the settling of insurance claims took up the bulk of the increase. The bureau also received its permanent appropriation of $78,590,000.

For the White House $422,320 was set aside a reduction of $34,900. The shipping board was awarded $6,346,000, which is $5,148,800 less than the present year's appropriation.

I. C. C. GETS INCREASE

As a permanent agency the Federal Radio Commission was allotted $450,000, an increase of $285,560. The Interstate Commerce Commission was given $8,222,650, an increase of $772,825, but was refused an increase in the budget estimate of $1,007,000 for the determination of railroad valuations because of a proposed change in its policy.

The employees compensation commission received $4,210,000; the Federal Trade Commission $1,437,460; General Accounting office $4,191,000; and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, $1,231,000.

INCREASE IN VETERANS' APPROPRIATION EXPLAINED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The government has expended approximately $1,200,000,000 to date in providing term insurance for members of the naval and military forces engaged in the World War, $750,000,000 more than has been collected in premiums.

These figures were cited by Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau before the House Appropriations Subcommittee in justification for the $11,250,000 increase provided for the bureau in the independent offices supply bill for the fiscal year 1931. The bill as reported provides $511,225,000 for the bureau, of which $120,000,000 would be expended for this insurance, $4,750,000 more than last year.

FUTURE LIABILITY FACED

In addition to past expenditures for this purpose, Director Hines said, the government faces a future liability of about $1,230,000,000 which must be met by appropriations in years to come.

The upward trend of military and naval compensation awards for veterans of the last war accounted for another large increase in the bureau's appropriation for 1931, $196,000,000 being carried for this purpose as compared with $191,450,000 for the current year.

MANY APPLICATIONS

The present rate of compensation application, Hines told the committee, indicates that by June 30, next, there will be a total of 274,186 active awards of disability compensation, with an average monthly payment of $46.98 per award. More than 10,000 applications for compensation were filed in the first four months of the fiscal year 1930, he added, making an average monthly rate of about 3514. Records of the bureau show that about 30 per cent of the applications are granted, he said.

To meet the ever-increasing demands of veterans for medical and hospital treatment, the bill carries $196,000,000, an increase of $3,950,000 over last year.

Lords Approve Unemployment Insurance Bill

LONDON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The compromise proposal on the unemployment insurance bill, which the House of Commons offered the House of Lords last night, has been accepted by the majority party in the upper House.

Thus is averted the crisis which for a time threatened a political upheaval, with a possible dissolution of Parliament and new elections.

In the House of Lords this afternoon Lord Salisbury said the Conservatives will not oppose the Commons amendment to the Lords' amendment. This will insure passage of the bill, with the proviso that it is effective for three years.

The original measure, as it had passed the Commons, had an indefinite term of effectiveness, while the Lords' amendment restricted operation to one year.

POWER COMPANY WILL SPEND $10,474,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Great Western Power Company announced today that expenditures for electrical service in Northern California totaling $10,474,000 have been budgeted for 1930. New construction will account for a little more than $7,000,000 of the total, with operating expenses running close to $3,500,000.

The Recognized Summit of Achievement in Motor Cars

CADILLAC V-8 EIGHT-CYLINDERS

LA SALLE V-8 EIGHT-CYLINDERS

CADILLAC V-16 SIXTEEN-CYLINDERS

WITH the introduction of the sixteen-cylinder Cadillac, the Cadillac Motor Car Company has in the strictest sense provided for the three distinct price classifications in the fine car market.

The eight-cylinder Cadillac, with its luxurious Fisher and Fleetwood bodies, more than meets the needs of the major price classification and is established as the world's finest motor car—with the single exception of the new and more highly personalized Cadillac V-16.

As for the La Salle, the public's appreciation of its unequalled value and brilliant performance has impressively demonstrated Cadillac's ability to respond to the very real demand for a moderately priced quality car.

Since the building of the first eight-cylinder Cadillacs and La Salles almost half a million of these splendid motor cars have eminently served the most exclusive homes in America and abroad.

Really, no man or woman seeking the best possible investment in a fine automobile need look further. The eight-cylinder Cadillac and the eight-cylinder La Salle have attained such a degree of perfection that an understanding of their superiorities literally sets them apart from all other cars.

Ortiz Rubio Pronuncia su Discurso de Toma de Posesión

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Febrero 5. Hoy, en su discurso de toma de posesión, el presidente Ortiz Rubio de Méjico ha prometido, antes que nada, trabajo para el pueblo, y ha llamado a obreros y campesinos "la esperanza" de Méjico.

Dijo que procuraría remover toda clase de obstáculos entre el gobierno y el pueblo, pues aspiraba a establecer un "gobierno social" ligado con las masas por una inteligencia y un interés comunes.

Fue breve su alocución, pues se componía tan sólo de diez páginas mecanografiadas. En ellas deja sentados el programa y propósitos generales de la nueva administración, que va a regir el país durante los cuatro años, nueve meses, veinticinco días que quedan del no expirado período del presidente electo Alvaro Obregón, que fue asesinado el 17 de Julio de 1928.

Dijo el nuevo presidente que los ideales de la revolución—justicia y bienestar para todos—habían sido aceptados por la nación, como lo prueba el hecho de haber sido elegido él por el voto popular. De allí que su gobierno se obligue a no perder de vista la obra que se ha comprometido a llevar a cabo.

Todavía tiene que responder Riley de otra inculpación de asesinato por la muerte de su padre, Ace Riley, y de una de atentado con rirlas de hecho por haber herido gravemente a su hermano menor.

El señor y la señora Riley, granjeros, fueron muertos a tiros en su casa la noche del 6 de Diciembre de 1930. Walter, hermano de Herman, que estaba dormido, recibió también un balazo; pero su herida no resultó mortal.

Eclipse que Será Observado Desde el Aire

Llega de San Francisco la noticia de que la aviación y la astronomía van a colaborar el próximo lunes 28 de Abril en las observaciones que se harán de un eclipse de sol. El doctor H. M. Jeffers, astrónomo ayudante del Observatorio de Lick, subirá en avión cerca de Susanville para observar y anotar las fases principales del fenómeno.

La expedición, que se debe a la cortesía de William H. Crocker, regente de la Universidad de California, estará encabezada por el astrónomo J. H. Moore, del Observatorio de Lick.

El eclipse tocará un punto situado a cinco o seis millas al noroeste del monte Tamalpais, seguirá hacia el noroeste por los valles de Napa y Sacramento, el Cañón de Feather River y la orilla sur del Lago Honey, cerca de la frontera de Nevada. Será total la ocultación solar por algo más de un segundo de tiempo.

Ruling Sought on Storage Men

SAN ANTONIO

your opportunity

. . . opportunity to continue your vacation in a pleasant land . . . opportunity to see the transformation of the last of the great frontiers into an empire rich in happiness.

San Antonio—what enchanting pictures the very name evokes! Metropolis of Texas, it is the "mother city" of South and West Texas, where winter time is play time, with golden floods of sunlight drenching the countryside, and all Outdoors as your playground.

Here is a city of picturesque contrasts, set 700 feet above sea level in a fertile, fruitful valley, a city inspired by the memory of its stirring past . . . a city with its eyes turned to the future . . . a city 200 years young!

Through two centuries, since its founding by Spanish adventurers, San Antonio has grown steadily and surely, favored by happy climate, abundant, pure water, rich soil and its stragetic location at the cross roads of nations.

Here is a pleasant place to visit, a pleasant place in which to work and play. For San Antonians take time to really live. They have dedicated 2000 acres to public play, and you may have long hours out-of-doors, enjoying your favorite recreation, or motoring through the great empire of South and West Texas, peopled by 2,500,000 men and women happily at work, turning vast ranches into profit-making citrus orchards, truck gardens, dairies of pedigreed herds, cotton plantations.

For the gold the Spaniards sought was locked in the opulent soil! It gleams now in the citrus groves . . . in the "green gold" of winter truck crops . . . bubbles from the depths of the earth as the "flowing gold" of proven oil fields.

Here is opportunity for both pleasure and profit. On your way home from your wonderful California vacation, come by way of San Antonio. A welcome awaits you.

House Wets Greet Measure With Bristles Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Wholesale padlocking of places of business by prohibition prosecutors in the absence of their owners is made possible under an amendment to the Volstead Act, introduced in the House today by Representative Beedy, Republican, Maine.

Although lacking the formal indorsement of the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission, the Beedy bill is in exact line with one of the commission's recommendations and was generally accepted as an administration measure. Reports were that the bill has been examined and approved by the Department of Justice.

Two Wickersham commission bills already are under way in the House. The Williamson bill to put the prohibition unit in the Department of Justice will be taken up on the floor tomorrow and the Christopherson bill to eliminate jury trials in minor cases is before the judiciary committee.

MORE AND SHARPER TEETH

Mr. Beedy's bill, designed to put far bigger and sharper teeth in the padlock injunction provisions of the Volstead Act, provides in substance that a District, State, County or City Attorney, failing to locate the owner of premises asserted to be a nuisance, may issue a "substitute," or dummy subpoena and without serving it on the owner may go into court and have his place padlocked. It also provides that the judge may speed up the case if his docket is congested by referring it to a master for proceeding under equity rules.

Representative Beedy declared that his bill, if enacted, "will enable the district attorneys throughout the country to close hundreds of places where liquor is being openly sold in violation of the law." He added that "it will also assist in relieving congestion in the Federal courts."

"There are today 7455 of these pending injunction or padlock cases so-called" Beedy explained. "In a large percentage of these cases, the United States government is unable to proceed until some authority for substituted service is given through the enactment of a Federal statute.

It is to meet this urgent need in the enforcement of law that I have introduced this substitute service bill."

WETS START FIGHT

Hardly had the contents of the Beedy measure become known before the Congressional wets assailed it. Its reception augured rough sledding before it reaches the enactment stage.

Discussing its proposal to make padlock injunctions more effective, the Wickersham commission in its report asserted that many flagrant law violators are escaping padlocking by conveying a fraction of the title to a nonresident or by concealing themselves and evading service of process. This "grave defect" in the padlock law, the commission said, can be met by a simple amendment to the Volstead Act as provided in the Beedy bill.

In drafting his bill, Mr. Beedy explained, he used the language recommended by the commission almost word for word.

As an outstanding example of the type of asserted violator his bill will reach, the Maine representative cited the Waverly Club, New York. The club continued to run because marshals were unable to procure personal service on the true owner. The exasperated dry officials finally went before Federal Judge Thatcher, who cleared the club on the ground that in the absence of a Federal law to the contrary, personal subpoena service is mandatory.

Pease asserted that he told Crawford a loaded revolver was cached inside the prison August 14, 1929, and offered Crawford his services in questioning the convicts he believed responsible for smuggling the gun into the penitentiary.

WIDE DIVERSION CHARGES DENIED

Leak of Denatured Alcohol Closed, Says Doran

Illegal Use Only 3 Per Cent Last Year, He States

Court Action Indicated as Result of Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Answering recent charges of wide diversion of denatured alcohol to bootleg channels, Prohibition Commissioner Doran today said diversion last year did not amount to more than 3 per cent of the total production.

Senator Borah and others in Congressional circles have asserted recently the diversion of alcohol for illegal purposes is a major prohibition problem.

Doran made no mention of the attacks but he said agents of the Prohibition Bureau in co-operation with United States attorneys have been investigating the situation for the last seven or eight months and have "practically closed this leak."

He added that "appropriate court action may follow," as a result of the inquiry.

The commissioner said there were 52,405,000 gallons of completely denatured alcohol produced last year, most of which was used principally as an antifreeze solution for automobiles.

Doran gave the production of specially denatured alcohol as 84,-580,000 gallons. He gave a list of 117 concerns, which he described as undoubtedly reputable, who used 44,000,000 gallons but added that concerns in New Jersey and Pennsylvania whose permits were revoked by prohibition administrators, only to have them restored by District Courts, used 735,000 gallons.

The commissioner said the principal diversion problem centered in lacquers, thinners, solvents and low-grade toilet waters, but asserted diversion from this source was not one-fourth of what it was three years ago.

"In the intervening period the independent denaturing plant has been practically put out of business," Doran said, "hundreds of permits have been revoked, very few new ones have been issued and hundreds of formulas have been strengthened." He added that legal action might be taken as a result of the long inquiry made into the situation in these industries.

"The skilled technician will always be able to recover alcohol from a mixture," he said. "The problem consists of making it as difficult and uneconomical as possible."

CANADIAN HOLDS UP BANK TO GET FUND FOR DIVORCE

TORONTO, Feb. 4. (AP)—A man who said he turned bank robber to obtain funds to get a divorce was in jail today after being trapped as he tried to lock his victims in a vault.

Arnott Peters, 21 years of age, walked into a branch of the Dominion Bank yesterday and handed a note to the teller on which was written: "I want $1000 and no monkey business." He then displayed a pistol.

The teller picked up $811 and handed it to Peters, whereupon the robber jumped on to the counter, pointed his gun at the other employees and ordered them into the vault.

While he was trying to manipulate the lock of the outer vault door, W. C. Wells, a customer, entered the bank, took in the situation and rushed to the street, closing the bank door after him.

A policeman responded to Wells's call for help and arrested Peters, who offered no resistance.

The robber, who lived a short distance from the bank, told police he planned the robbery to obtain money for a divorce. He said he has been married two years and is the father of a child. The automatic pistol he had was empty. He said he had stolen it from his brother-in-law.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH IN HOME

Eight-Year-Old Sister Also Seared by Flames

Fireman Fails in His Heroic Attempt to Save Infant

Fate Foils Mother's Return Into Blazing Dwelling

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 5.—Charles Pappert, 2 years of age, was burned to death and Helen Pappert, 8, his sister, was burned seriously in the face and hands when they were trapped in a blazing house at 3072 Ocean Way Boulevard shortly after 1 a.m. today. A heroic attempt to save the infant's life by Lieut. H. C. Lyter, fireman attached to station No. 2, proved futile and the child died on the way to a near-by hospital.

Mrs. J. C. Pappert, mother of the dead child and the injured girl, was aroused from her bed in an adjoining room when flames shot through the lightly constructed house. Mrs. Pappert rushed to safety with her daughter, but was prevented from re-entering the home by an ironic quirk of fate. A night lock on the door through which the mother and daughter fled locked and prevented their re-entry into the house.

FIREMAN BRAVES FLAMES

When firemen arrived Lieut. Lyter broke a window leading to the room in which the child was sleeping, braved smoke and flames to reach the bed, and carried the infant from the blazing house. Firemen administered hurried first aid to the near-dead child and ordered a rush call to the San Diego Hospital. Hospital doctors said the child was dead when admitted.

J. C. Pappert, father of the dead child, started a wood fire in a sheet iron stove before he left for work. Battalion Chief Charles Lambert, who directed the fire fighting and rescue work, announced. The stove became overheated and set fire to the walls of the kitchen in which it was situated. Once ablaze, the inside of the house became almost instantly an inferno and the mother and her daughter, still in bed, fled to the street in their night clothing.

INQUEST TO BE HELD

Motorcycle Officers Bert Cooper and S. Y. Robbins answered emergency calls to the flaming dwelling and aided in the rescue work while Hospital Steward H. L. Ramm and Driver Roy Purdy took the girl to the County Hospital.

Coroner Kelly took charge of the body and announced an inquest will be held later in the Bonham Brothers mortuary.

Huge Onion Crop Being Planted in Valley Area

VAN NUYS, Feb. 5.—Planting operations of the largest onion crop in the history of San Fernando Valley began yesterday, when a crew of 200 Mexican ranch hands began setting out 32,000,000 plants in a 150-acre field on the William J. Petit ranch west of the local townsite. This ranch is one of the largest individual holdings in San Fernando Valley and for a number of years has produced alfalfa, lettuce and baby lima beans.

R. J. Mather, one of the most successful onion growers in Southern California, has charge of the present planting operations. Plants for the crop are being taken from seed beds and planted in rows fourteen inches apart. During the growing period a large force of men will be employed to cultivate the crop. It is understood that Petit has leased the field to a grower who is financing the project.

The official photographer of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was here today and took several "shots" of the army of Mexicans at work.

Large Still in Valley Raided

VAN NUYS, Feb. 5.—One of the largest bootleg liquor plants ever "knocked over" by the police in San Fernando Valley was destroyed yesterday, when Officers Scott and Found raided a barn on Corbin street and confiscated a 200-gallon still, 10,000 gallons of mash, 1000 gallons of wine and 250 gallons of fresh-run alcohol.

Mrs. Louis Ballicelli, who is asserted to be the owner of the property, was found on the premises and was placed under arrest. Most of the liquor found was in a cellar under the home. The still and mash tanks were in the barn.

Police report Ballicelli drove up to the home while the raid was on, but drove away rapidly, leaving his wife to face the charges of the policemen. Although they pursued him, he escaped. Detectives are making further search for him.

Opportunity Given for Speedy Education

Alhambra's Precocious Children Put in One Class

BRIGHT CHILDREN HELPED

"Acceleration Class, Made Up of Pupils of Marked Ability, Begins Sessions at Alhambra

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 5.—Selected for marked ability in their studies, thirty pupils from the eight local grammar schools have been placed in a special "acceleration class." The children started their work at the Granada school this week under the supervision of Miss Jane Kervin. The class begins with the studies of the regular 5-B grade and in June is expected to be ready to enter the 6-B grade, thereby completing one year's course in half time.

The "acceleration" plan was inaugurated three years ago by Forrest V. Routt, superintendent of schools, and since then several groups have gained a semester in time in their elementary work and with no evidence of impairment to health. The plan was devised to enable the most progressive children to advance without being retarded by those less able to maintain a rapid stride in their studies.

Man Steps Into Side of Truck; Then Dragged

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—P. E. Wathey, who drives a truck for a local hardware company, reported a freak accident to State highway police today.

He declared that while driving on the coast highway south of Gaviota, a man whose name was not reported stepped out of a car parked at the side of the road, and ran directly into the side of his truck. Realizing that the man had been hit, Wathey stopped his truck and looked back, but could not see the man. It was not until after he had alighted from the truck that he found him, a bar on the truck having pierced the man's coat and shirt and dragged him along.

The man was carried thirty or forty feet while hanging on the bar but was not injured.

It's not even safe to drive a wagon these days.

An 80-year-old man, whose name was not learned by police, was thrown from his wagon on the coast highway near Summerland when an automobile driven by a South Dakota tourist crashed into it.

He was not seriously injured, although the wagon was damaged.

Crew Fails in Efforts to Free Grounded Craft

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 5.—Efforts to float the forty-five-foot fishing boat Success, which has been aground at the south end of North Island since Monday evening, proved unsuccessful today. A crew aboard the Star and Crescent tug Palomar, with Capt. Pat Chase, worked all night in attempting to refloat the vessel.

Star and Crescent officials said today that the Success may remain stranded until Friday, when tide conditions will be such that the vessel probably can be floated. Fifteen empty drums placed around the vessel failed to aid materially in lifting the craft during high tide. The Success is a swordfish boat, said to be owned by Mrs. C. E. Kitchen, and operated by her son, L. C. Tresler. It went aground Monday night during a heavy fog.

"UNUSUAL" WEATHER AIDS CITRUS

San Diego County Growers Rejoice in Freedom from Smudging This Winter

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 5.—Citrus growers of San Diego county have received great benefit from "unusual" weather conditions which have prevailed throughout the 1929-30 winter season: Dean Blake of the local Weather Bureau declared today. An absence of frost this winter, together with temperature averages above normal and excessive rainfall during January, has resulted in citrus trees and fruit being in excellent condition, Blake said.

Firing in citrus groves usually is necessary at some time during the period from December 15 to January 15, but this year, even in the floors of valleys, where as many as twelve firings sometimes are necessary during the "frost period," no firing has been done.

This has resulted in a good citrus crop and in a saving by citrus growers of several thousands of dollars which would have been spent in citrus districts for fuel. Blake said that one owner of a large citrus grove contemplates syphoning his oil from the pots, storing it for use next winter.

Husband Gives Many Reasons in Suit for Divorce

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—Joseph Henry Lancaster has tasted of the cup of married life and found it unpleasant.

So unpleasant, in fact, that he filed suit in Superior Court asking that he be divorced from Hattie Bell Lancaster, who three months ago was his bride.

Among things which added to the misery of his short and tragic marital experience, he charges, was being called "a crank, a mule, a gultton, a hog, a spendthrift, a fool and a d——d old crab." And as if that were not enough, she told him that he was "ignorant and brainless," the complaint charged.

To add to his misery Mrs. Lancaster left on January 20, just two months and twenty-four days after their nuptial feast, and went to her home in Helm, the petition sets out, leaving a note telling him to sue for divorce.

Before leaving she shipped all her personal belongings to Helm, telling him that they were some "old things she was cleaning out."

Also she nagged him, complaining because he did not keep his working clothes clean and because he used tobacco, according to the complaint.

TIDELANDS OIL WELLS ENJOINED

Court Temporarily Halts Spudding in of Rigs on Carpinteria Beach

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—Superior Judge S. E. Crow late yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining the Exeter Oil Company and approximately thirty other defendants from drilling for oil on the beach adjoining the county park in Carpinteria.

This is the first step in the legal battle being staged by the County Supervisors to keep oil operators off the tideland property in the county, the board having instructed Dist.-Atty. Clarence C. Ward to take immediate steps to halt the spudding in of wells in that section.

The defendants were moving materials onto the property and were making preparations to start work as the injunction was issued. Sheriff James Ross and Undersheriff Jack Ross served the defendants and their employees with notices of the order immediately. Judge Crow issued the order after he had gone to his home from the Courthouse, the complaint not being filed until a few minutes before 5 p.m. by the law firm of Heany, Price & Postel, which has been retained as special counsel in the case.

The date for the hearing of the complaint, which classes the proposed wells as a nuisance, was set for next Monday. Those named as defendants, in addition to twenty "John Does," who are unknown employees of the other defendants, are W. R. Varick, Gertrude W. Hoffman, Martha Hord, Donald T. Knowles, John S. Driver, Ruth D. Rock, Hester S. Fish, Robert L. Compton, Alfred W. Robertson, Thomas N. Fish, H. B. Fish, Helen H. Fish, Edna J. Satler and the Exeter Oil Company.

PENITENTIARY NOT WANTED

Simi Valley Organizations at Meeting of Lions' Club Sign Protest Against Locating it There

VENTURA, Feb. 5.—Protest against the location of a penitentiary in the Simi Valley was forwarded last night to Gov. Young by the leading civic and religious organizations of the valley. The action was taken last night at a meeting of the Simi Valley Lions Club.

Opposition is based on two grounds—first, that a penal institution would lower the moral and religious atmosphere of the community, which is a highly developed agricultural region, and second, that the domestic water supply is inadequate for present needs and could not possibly care for a large increase in demand.

Signing the letter are the Simi Valley Community Church board of trustees, Simi Valley Lions' Club, Simi Valley Women's Club, Simi Valley Union High School board of trustees, Simi Valley Union Grammar School board of trustees and Simi Valley Masonic Club.

A prison near Simi is favored by Ventura, Ventura county, Santa Paula and Oxnard chambers of commerce as the means of bringing thousands of dollars into the county.

Olive-Avenue Improvement in Another Delay

BURBANK, Feb. 5.—The projected Olive-avenue improvement took another tangent last night and as a result the City Engineer's staff will be engaged in checking petitions for at least two more weeks. Although City Engineer Stites reported that he had not completed the check of the petitions protesting on the Warrenite type of pavement on the four-mile street, he will probably start next week to examine a lengthy petition submitted to the City Council last night for the improvement of Olive with cement concrete.

The petitions for the concrete pavement were submitted to the Council last night by L. C. Bell and A. S. Jones, both of whom were instrumental in obtaining the protests against the so-called "patent paving" plan. Mayor Bruce indicated that the new improvement petitions would not be checked until the protest signatures have been reported by the City Engineer.

A number of the large audience present last night demanded that the two petitions be checked simultaneously but this was denied by the Mayor who contended that such a procedure might invalidate the proceedings.

According to the cement proponents, their substitute petition carries 155 names and represents approximately two-thirds of the assessment area. They declared that the protest against Warrenite pavement is representative of the majority of the district.

Kidnaping Case Hearing Set and Man Bound Over

MONTROSE, Feb. 5.—Elmer Bolton, who came here from Hobbs, N. M., has been bound over to await trial on the 11th inst. on a charge of kidnaping his youngest child, Lois Joyce Bolton, 3 years of age, after, it is claimed, he had attempted to strangle his wife. Bolton was arrested in Los Angeles and was arraigned before Judge Charles R. Dyer, who held him on $200 bail on a battery charge preferred by Mrs. Bolton. The court set bail in the kidnaping case at $2500.

Entire Council to be Elected

AZUSA, Feb. 5.—Spring election here promises to be one of the most exciting in local history, according to predictions made today at the City Hall, where it was announced by City Clerk M. A. Hynes that the terms of all five Councilmen will expire in April.

With the exception of Rollin B. Demmitt, all of the Councilmen are new on the board. Demmitt was elected for a two-year term in the spring of 1928 and due to a recall movement that fell the other members resigned. Their successors were appointed by the retiring Councilmen, an action which caused a year of controversy and battle in the courts. The present board includes Mayor A. L. Meier, J. C. Muehe, Charles Mace, W. A. Johnson and Demmitt. No candidates for the Councilmanic race have been announced.

NEW JAIL PLAN OPPOSED

Owners of Adjacent Properties at Pasadena May Seek Injunction Against Project

PASADENA, Feb. 5.—An injunction to prevent this city from constructing a jail and police and emergency hospital quarters north of Holley street, between Broadway and Marengo avenue, will be sought by owners of property adjoining the site, it was indicated today at the City Hall.

Mrs. W. A. Stephenson, wife of the manager of the Brookmore Apartments, asserted that property-owners are considering taking action to secure an injunction. "I think a jail on the property almost immediately south of us would ruin our business, and already some of our tenants have protested," she asserted.

City Director N. J. Shupe, who voted against the motion passed yesterday ordering cost estimates on the Hall of Justice project, characterized the action of his fellow-Directors as "foolhardy all the way through."

"The money has not been turned over, and in the meantime I shall oppose the project at every step."

Maj. Shupe and Director Carl G. Wopschall assert they are against the plan to construct a new $200,000 Justice Building because they feel that the old City Hall at Fair Oaks avenue and Union street could be remodeled to serve the purpose at less expense.

Meanwhile the politically powerful Shakespeare Club and Women's Civic League have indorsed the board's decision to erect a new and modern building in the belief that conditions at the old jail cannot be remedied by any remodeling or half-way measures.

The appointment of an architect to prepare the plans is up to City Manager R. V. Orbison, who stated today that he is studying the project and will announce recommendations for architect as soon as possible.

STATE OFFICIAL LENDS AID

Vierling Kersey, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Answers Letter in Regard to Carpinteria Schools

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—County School Superintendent A. S. Pope today received a letter from Veirling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, assuring members of the Carpinteria school board that his office would do everything possible to help Carpinteria obtain the type of buildings desired. He stated that the recent suggestions of Andrew Hill, representative of the department, were merely "advisory."

Hill refused to approve plans of the proposed new high-school building and objected to the location along the State Highway. The community recently voted an $80,000 bond issue to build the school.

The answer followed a letter of protest sent to Kersey by Pope regarding the changes in the proposed building program outlined by the Carpinteria board. Pope said that he would not approve the plans until they were as the board desired, despite the actions of the State representatives, who suggested several material changes.

MONROVIA PIONEER BACK AT OLD POST

Charles H. Anson

MONROVIA, Feb. 5. — Founder and member of the original Library Park Board which was organized in 1893, Charles H. Anson, pioneer resident and long identified in civic affairs, was newly appointed to the City Park Board last night by members of the City Council. Anson succeeds Fritz J. Babson, former secretary of the board, who resigned several weeks ago.

The new park commissioner is a director of the Citizens' Bank, president of the Monrovia Christmas Tree Association, and an active member of both the Foothill Boulevard Association and the United Foothill Boulevard Association.

With the appointment of the new commissioner, the board outlined a program of improvement to be carried out in Recreation Park, which includes installation of street curbing on east side of Mountain avenue bordering the park; planting of grass in picnic area of park, and the installation of electric lights on the tennis and roque courts.

The only two living members of the first park board are Anson and A. E. Cronenwett. The third member was the late Capt. A. H. Johnson. These first park commissioners were responsible for the beauty of Library Park today as they landscaped the grounds and planted the first trees and shrubs.

BATTLE TO SAVE LIFE ALL IN VAIN

Desperate Fight Made With Pulmotor for Mother of Three Children Fails

COSTA MESA, Feb. 5.—The desperate fight put forth to save the life of a mother of three small children has been lost. Firemen worked for several hours with a pulmotor but Mrs. Robert Lockhart, 24 years of age, who had been ill but a few days, died at her home from double pneumonia.

The deceased leaves a husband and three small children, 1, 3 and 6 years of age. The two youngest children and a sister, Miss Simona Posey, are dangerously ill in the home with the same disease.

Mrs. Lockhart had lived on Sixteenth street for two years. Services were conducted from the Crooms & Reisenberg funeral parlors today at 2 p.m. Interment was in Fairhaven Cemetery.

While doctors were fighting to save the life of Miss Posey, a member of the faculty of Santa Ana Julia Lathrop Junior High School, came to her bedside and presented her with a diploma at the same time that her class was receiving certificates of graduation.

Three Men Held on Charges of Store Burglary

VENTURA, Feb. 5.—Three young men were arrested by police last night when, it is charged, they attempted to break in the Grace Scott Store on Main street. One confessed this morning that they had broken the window in the store and that earlier in the evening they had broken into the Blue Bird Cafe, but had found no money.

The trio gave their names and ages to the police as John Smith, 22 years of age; Virgil Davis, 19, and John Mix, 16.

Communications with Santa Barbara police reveal that on Monday night they were held in the jail there on a vagrancy charge. They were released yesterday morning and spent the day in that city, coming here last night.

First they broke into the Blue Bird Cafe, according to the confession made by Smith today to Chief of Police Matison. Davis and Mix insist they know nothing of the crime with which they are charged.

Another man is held in the County Jail today in connection with a burglary which occurred last night at the Bogetti Grocery Store on West Main street. The till was rifled, but little cash was taken.

Damage to Wall to be Repaired

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 5.—High tides during the past few years have demolished the seawall along the ocean front and waters rushing in have destroyed adjacent property.

Reconstruction on the wall will begin in the near future, it is reported. The Bayside Land Company, owners of the property between First street and Eighth street, will build groins out into the sea to collect the sand and build up the beach frontage which has been damaged.

HUGE PLANTING OF WALNUTS PLANNED

HEMET, Feb. 5.—Plans for a 5000-acre planting program, which would create the largest single acreage devoted to walnuts in Southern California, to be carried out in the next two years by the Diamond Valley Walnut Company in the Diamond Valley, near this city, have been announced by William Swanson, president. The acreage held by the organization now includes 342 acres in two-year-old walnut trees, said to be the largest single planting in Riverside county, and in the nursery there the company has 15,000 young trees and 30,000 seedlings to be budded this spring, according to Swanson. The organization plans to set out between 500 and 1000 acres this spring in addition to the acreage already planted.

BURGLARS MAKE TWO HAULS AT BURBANK

BURBANK, Feb. 5 — Stolen property consisting of about $500 worth of clothing and jewelry valued at $167, has been obtained by burglars here during the last two nights, according to police reports today. The Nuway Laundry Company reported that its dry-cleaning establishment was nearly stripped of clothing and that a number of laundry bundles were stolen last night. Otto Braundorf of 126 North Olive avenue, reported the theft of the jewelry yesterday. Police working on the clothing theft believe that it was accomplished by persons who knew the interior plan of the laundry. According to W. C. Strasser, general manager of the plant, the loss is completely covered by insurance. All detectives were called on duty today to assist Police Chief Berch in tracing a number of clews concerning both burglaries.

Nerves Cause of Suicide Attempt

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 5. — A nervous ailment, according to police, prompted George Brockus, 45 years of age, to attempt suicide some time last night. He was found on his bed at his home, 112 North Palm avenue, this morning, with his throat and left wrist slashed.

He was removed to the Alhambra Hospital and later taken to the General Hospital, Los Angeles. Despite considerable loss of blood, he will probably recover, doctors say. Once before Brockus attempted to take his own life, police say, and was committed to Patton.

ADOPTION SEEN FOR YOUNG PLAN

Germany Expects Favorable Reichstag Action

Reichsrat Acceptance of Bills Approved

Facts Given to Public by Broadcast Plan

BERLIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Elated over acceptance by the Reichsrat of all bills dealing with the Young plan, the German government now looks confidently to passage by the Reichstag of this most important piece of legislation affecting the German lawmakers since adoption of the Dawes plan.

In fact, it is generally believed that approval of the Young plan and the bills connected therewith—such as the German-American and German-Polish agreements as well as changes in policy of the Reichsbank and the Federal railways statutes—will, because of their definite character, affect Germany's destiny more decisively than even the Dawes plan, which was tentative in character.

By the time those bills come up for vote by the Reichstag every thinking German will know what it is all about. The newspapers have discussed them thoroughly, the country's vast radio network has been open to discussions by Cabinet members and economists and the government have issued a "benksschrift," or commentatorial memorandum, explaining the proposed legislation fully.

In brief, the government memorandum urges adoption of the Young plan and related legislation on three groups:

(1.) Because all measures of control, all sanctions and all foreign interference cease after adoption.

(2.) Because Germany must pay less than under the Dawes plan, besides being in a position to demand a moratorium.

(3.) Because the way is paved for Franco-German economic financial co-operation.

The Reichrat's action strengthens the government in that representatives of Germany's federated States by an overwhelming majority have approved the government's action, thereby making it easier for political parties in the Reichstag to follow suit. Debates are scheduled to begin on the 11th inst.

CHIEF CHASTENED BY LASH

Indian Tribe Head Deposed for Drinking Regains Crown of Feathers by Passing Sentence on Self

BONNERS FERRY (Idaho) Feb. 5. (AP)—Charlie Isadore today resumed the feathered coronet of chief of the Kootenai Indians. Having lost the respect of his people, he won it again by sentencing himself to the cat-o-nine-tails.

Charlie, descendant of a long line of chieftains, was deposed last fall by tribesmen, who charged him with drunkenness and debauchery. David was made chief. Charlie sank into an oblivion only changed by his drinking and fighting sprees.

ARREST FOLLOWS FIGHT

Last week Charlie with two others was engaged in a friendly drinking and stabbing bout when Antone Vales, Indian policeman, arrested them. They were brought before Chief David, manacled, for tribal justice.

At the bar of judgment Charlie hazily remembered that his forefathers dispensed justice, instead of receiving punishment. Then he drew himself up, folded his arms, and stood beside David. "It is I, Chief Isadore," he announced, "who will name the penalty for these offenders. I sentence thee, Louis White and Alec Pieere, to seven days work on the woodpile and digging ditches."

GIVES OWN SENTENCE

Then he threw back his head and shouted:

"And Charlie Isadore, I sentence thee to thirty-five lashes of the whip." David had stepped aside. Charlie bared his swarthy back, which did not flinch from the thirty-five bloody lashes. Then he said:

"Charlie Isadore sentences himself to twice thirty-five lashes should he ever again drink the white man's fire water."

The Kootenais shouted acclaim and Charlie threw is arm around David and they went into his tepee together.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Sales of American farm machinery abroad established a record last year, the exports amounting to $140,796,594. In making the announcement today the Commerce Depaftment said exports were equivalent to approximately 20 per cent of the output of the industry.

Veteran Bureau Bars Marriage of War Victim

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—Officials of the United States Veterans' Bureau today prevented the marriage here of Francis H. Jenson, 29 years of age, disabled World War soldier, and a woman giving the name of Mrs. Victoria Vicroy, 65, of Leavenworth, Kan.

When the couple presented themselves before James A. Kilmer, marriage license clerk, the official hesitated. The man apparently was a hopeless paralytic.

Told that Jenson had boarded with Mrs. Vicroy for two years at Leavenworth, and that she expected his $100 a month pension would support them, Kilmer called the Veterans' Bureau. Officials advised him not to issue the license.

CONTROL OF RADIO AIM IN CANADA BILL

Ottawa Journal Reports Measure Now Ready for Dominion Commons

OTTAWA, Feb. 5. (By the Canadian Press)—The Ottawa Journal today says it has learned a government bill providing for establishment of a national broadcasting system has been drafted and will be introduced in the House of Commons early in the session.

The bill, the Journal says, will provide for construction of seven national 50,000-watt broadcasting stations across Canada. One station will be established for the three maritime provinces — New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island—and one in each of the other six provinces. The initial cost is estimated at $3,000,000, with a yearly operating cost of $2,500,000.

The bill follows closely the recommendation for nationalization of the radio framed by the air commission, the Journal adds.

One private broadcast station will be acquired in each province under the terms of the bill, to operate until the new government stations are built, when all private stations will be closed.

Revenue will be derived from advertising, time rental and government subsidy. The cost of a license for a receiving set would be raised from $1 to $3 under the terms of the bill.

ECLIPSE OBSERVER TO FLY

California Astronomer Plans for Trip by Plane; Will Go Aloft Near Susanville

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Aviation and astronomy will join forces on Monday morning, April 28, next, in making observations of an eclipse of the sun, when Dr. H. M. Jeffers, assistant astronomer at Lick Observatory, Mt. Hamilton, will go aloft near Susanville to observe and record vital phases of the eclipse.

The expedition, made possible through the courtesy of William H. Crocker, regent of the University of California, will be headed by Astronomer J. H. Moore of Lick Observatory.

In California, said Moore, the eclipse will touch at a point five or six miles northwest of Mt. Tamalpais, pass northeastward over the Napa and Sacramento valleys, the Feather River Canyon and the southern edge of Honey Lake, near the Nevada State line. The shadow path, he said, will be less than half a mile in width and the eclipse will be total for a little more than a second.

Dr. Jeffers's trip aloft will be to escape whatever haze may lie close to the earth.

Bay City Urged to Lure Capital

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—In an effort to encourage new industries to come to San Francisco, Supervisor Roncovieri, in a letter to City Attorney O'Toole, urged a special clause in the ordinance being prepared for operation of the Spring Valley Water System, which will allow incoming manufacturing companies free or at cost water for not more than five years, to be followed by special rates based on the number of employees. He said Los Angeles gives free sites, free water and free power to young industries during their period of development.

Court Forfeits Huge Bond When Pair Avoid Trial

SANTA ANA, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Fannie Singer, Los Angeles woman, and A. N. Levine, Los Angeles hotel owner, to appear before Justice K. E. Morrison here today for preliminary hearing on perjury charge, in connection with their testimony at a recent trial of the woman on a charge of stealing a fur coat, caused the court to forfeit bonds of $5000 posted by the defendant.

Mrs. Singer and her husband, Sam Singer, declared by authorities to be members of a nation-wide ring of shoplifters whose activities were halted by the theft and subsequent confession of a woman here, where the fur coat was stolen last October, were released in this city yesterday, however, to confer with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Sam Collins and Investigator Robert Gordon and to clear up other matters in Orange county. Their case will appear today, therefore, was resumed with considerable surprise.

Mrs. Singer is scheduled to appear in Superior Court before Judge James L. Allen for hearing of her plea for probation in connection with the grand theft charge. Mrs. Singer, her husband, Levine and Sam Steinberg all were arrested on perjury charges growing out of their attempt to provide an alibi for Mrs. Singer at her trial on the theft charge.

all yours in San Diego!

Even the romance of her early history is not more inspiring nor more significant than the romantic trail San Diego has blazed across the horizon of aviation. Ever since America took to the air, the eyes of the world have been on San Diego.

So many aviation developments have centralized here that there are probably more flying activities in San Diego than in any other city on the Coast. This is simply because every day is a flying day.

Close to 50 world's records have been made in and around San Diego Bay. The world's first seaplane flew here in 1911. The first air mail in 1913. The first regular passenger service by air, 1923. The plane that carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic, in 1927, was built in and started from San Diego. Lindbergh Field, America's finest municipal airport, was named after him to commemorate this feat.

Any day you can witness the ground operations of the U. S. Battle Fleet Squadron at their air station just across the Bay on North Island. You also may visit Rockwell Field, adjoining, which is the Army Air Corps Base.

Come see San Diego...its many showplaces...its interesting activities. See our picturesque homes, our shady streets, our busy downtown, the splendid Harbor, Balboa Park...nearby Coronado, La Jolla. And it's 16 miles to quaint Old Mexico!

ITALY-AUSTRIA TO SIGN TREATY

Pact of Friendship Will be Executed Today

Tyrol Dispute Wiped Out by Latest Entente

Mussolini's Influence Gains by New Arrangement

[Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune]

ROME, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—A singular step in strengthening Italy's position in Central Europe will be taken here tomorrow when Premier Benito Mussolini and Chancellor Johan Schober of Austria sign a friendship treaty between Italy and Austria.

The signature of this treaty means that post-war Austria's 7,000,000 inhabitants will be added to the circle of friends that Italy has been cultivating in the Danubian States and which at present includes Hungary and Bulgaria, in addition to the diminutive Adriatic monarchy of Albania. It means, likewise, that beside burying the hatchet concerning the South Tyrol dissensions, Italy extends her range of interest uninterruptedly to the border lines of the Little Entente.

Austria, on the other hand, is to make a noteworthy advance from her previous status of a political zero through this Italian alliance.

The present treaty omits any clauses dealing with military and political matters and is specifically a "treaty of friendship, conciliation and judiciary regulation." Austria's amity can be fully counted upon in all cases, however, not only because of her gratitude for Italy's action at the second Hague conference in supporting Austria's claims to be freed from reparations, but because of the ardent reception which Chancellor Schober received in Rome.

The Austrian and Italian accord is looked on in many quarters as a death blow to the hopes of those Austrians who are working for the anchelusa, or union of Austria with Germany.

BOLL WORM BILLS WILL BE SPEEDED

Senate Expected to Act on Two Measures Today for Arizona Pest Fight

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Speedy action in the Senate on Arizona's pink boll work eradication program was forecast today when the House passed a $587,000 appropriation bill for immediate clean-up work in the infested zones.

A measure previously passed by the House providing funds to compensate farmers for losses in non-cotton zones is before the Senate Agriculture Committee and is slated for hearing tomorrow. Sponsors of the measure have been assured that it will be reported out immediately.

Senator Smoot, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, received the clean-up fund bill immediately after its passage in the House, and there is a strong possibility that his committee also may report that measure out tomorrow, bringing both legislative sections of the eradication program to the floor of the Senate simultaneously tomorrow.

Little opposition is expected. With speedy action in the Senate it is possible that the measures may be signed by the President and become law before the end of the week.

Open Hearings on Couzens Bill in Senate End

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Concluding months of open hearings, the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee tomorrow will prepare for final consideration in executive session of the Cousens bill proposing Federal regulation of Interstate business of communications companies.

Opposition to the communications bill was registered at a hearing today by John E. Benton, representing the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners. He said the association favored regulation of radio companies, and believed the legislation will not affect cable companies; but that it would "break down" State regulation of telephone and telegraph companies' intra-State business.

The bill establishes a commission to deal with all forms of interstate and foreign radio transmission, telephone and telegraph comunications.

British Museum Bomb Declared Publicity Stunt

LONDON, Feb. 5. (AP)—A statement read before the Bow-street magistrates today said that Frank Biggs, charged with an offense under the Explosion Substances Act, admitted placing the "bomb" which was found in the British Museum Saturday night.

"I put the thing there myself," the statement quoted Biggs as saying. He was remanded on bail.

The "bomb" found was a homemade affair and is said to have had the approximate explosive capacity of a firecracker.

One story is that Biggs, interested in journalism, had sought to attract attention to himself and thereby get a job on a London paper.

WRECK GUILT ADMITTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Capt. Antone Christiansen of the steamer West Ira today admitted to Federal steamboat inspectors he was guilty of inattention to duty last Sunday when his ship struck a reef off Point Montara. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

BUCHAREST, Feb. 5. (Exclusive) That Regent Prince Nicholas is about to become engaged to the second daughter of King Alfonso of Spain, Princess Maria Cristina, was reported in royal circles today.

The engagement of Prince Nicholas is the second within a short time in the Rumanian royal family, as Princess Ileana, the youngest daughter of Queen Marie, is engaged to the German count, Alexander of Hochberg.

Today a protocol was signed whereby Count Alexander will receive the title of a Rumanian prince on his marriage.

STATE PAY WARRANTS FORGERIES

Bogus Paper Discovered After Clearing Banks; Riley Issues Warning

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Forged Stated warrants cashed by Stockton and Sacramento merchants came to light today when the instruments reached State Treasurer Johnson and he stopped payment on them. The warrants had been cleared through banks of the two cities and all were drawn against the general fund on account of the Mokelumne River Improvement Act, chapter 447 of 1929.

Eight of the forged warrants for amounts of $43 and $68 were the first to come to the attention of State officials. John H. McGehee, deputy State Treasurer, warned banks and merchants in the vicinity of the Mokelumne River improvement to beware of accepting State warrants drawn against the river appropriation.

The name of Ray L. Riley, State Controller, was forged on the warrants and the name F. W. Haselwood, division engineer of the State Highway Commission at Eureka, also was forged as deputy Controller in place of Claude Cooper, Riley's deputy.

The forgeries were discovered by the Treasurer's office because of this substitution of names and because yellow duplicates were used instead of greenish warrants issued by the State.

Clarence S. Morrill, superintendent of the State bureau of criminal identification, on examining the handwriting on the forged warrants said he is of the opinion two persons might have written them.

RESTRICTION OF MEXICAN LABOR HIT

Glendale Chamber Wires California Congressmen to Work for Bill's Defeat

GLENDALE, Feb. 5. (Exclusive) Opposition to the Johnson and Box bills, designed to limit the influx of Mexican workers into California and other Southwestern States, officially was expressed tonight by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, who instructed Secretary L. H. Myers to telegraph to the California delegation in both houses of Congress urging the defeat of the measures.

Dr. T. C. Young, the president, declared that the bills, if passed, will strike a death blow at many California industries and that the only alternative for the Mexicans would be the Porto Rico negroes, who would constitute a racial problem worse than anything California has ever known.

The California State Chamber of Commerce, Young declared, is now preparing a survey of the labor conditions and population in this State.

CHURCH-STATE ISSUE TALKED

British Prelates to Survey Relations of Factors

Separation Freely Predicted by Observers of Trend

Next Election to Hinge on Question, Says Leader

LONDON, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—The question of the possible disestablishment of church and state in England engrossed the attention of the church assembly during its second day's session, when a resolution, offered by the Archbishop of York calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate the relations between church and state and to suggest solutions for the present difficulties was passed by the significant majority of 382 to 105.

The vote was taken after the Archbishop of Canterbury pointed out that the motion was not a movement toward disestablishment but that the general sentiment of today's speakers indicates that it is necessary to take steps to change the relations between church and state in order to prevent disestablishment, which is likely to follow if present conditions continue.

It is interesting to note that the greatest unanimity was displayed by the house of bishops, which voted, 33 to 1, for the resolution. The Archbishop of York predicted that the next election in England would be fought over the issue of church and state.

"There is now a tension between what is recognized by the convocation and what is sanctioned by the law of the state," he said. "While I consider spiritual independence so essential that the price of disestablishment is not too great to pay if there is no other means of securing that independence, yet we must search long and carefully before it is decided that the price has got to be paid."

The Bishop of Winchester said: "We face the gravest conflict between the spiritual and the secular since the Reformation," while the Bishop of Durham came out absolutely for disestablishment, saying: "The only solution for spiritual independence is disestablishment."

THREE DIE IN KANSAS AIR FALLS

Two Men Killed in One of Ships and Pilot Crashes to Death in Another

GARDEN CITY (Kan.) Feb. 5. (AP) Two men were killed this afternoon in the crash of an airplane north of the Garden City airport.

The dead are Charles Gardiner, 25 years of age, pilot for the Sullivan Aircraft Company of Wichita, Kan., and Guy B. Gardiner, 20, of Garden City.

The passenger and the pilot were not related.

The plane went into a spin at 3000 feet flattened out at about 500 feet and crashed, witnesses said. Both men were killed instantly.

WICHITA (Kan.) Feb. 5. (AP)—R. P. Shannon, piloting a Hilton midwing monoplane, was killed when the ship crashed southeast of the municipal airport here late today.

Shannon, 28 years of age, was a pilot for the Yellow Air Cab Company.

Witnesses said the stabilizer apparently dropped from the plane at a height of about 3000 feet and that the ship, a cabin model, went into a tailspin and crashed. Shannon died instantly. No one else was in the plane.

PITTSBURG (Cal.) Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Believed to have become mentally deranged, Jack Helms, 42 years of age, held the superintendent of the municipal water system and a city employee prisoners in a pumphouse of the water works for an hour tonight, threatening them with death. He was dislodged with tear gas bombs and shot before he would submit to arrest. Helms is not seriously hurt, it was reported.

Robert Hecke, superintendent of the system, was fired at six times as he made a break for freedom, deputy sheriffs reported.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—The following letter was sent to President Hoover tonight by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of California:

"This comes to assure you that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of California supports you heartily in your policy of reduction of naval strength announced in your Armistice Day address, and will help to secure informed public opinion in favor of drastic naval reduction by the London naval conference now in session."

The letter was signed by officials of the organization.

Reno Divorce Unrecognized

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Questioning the validity of the Nevada divorce laws, Superior Judge Graham today granted Clarence A. Rossi, son of Supervisor Angelo Rossi, a divorce from Mrs. Flore Mae Rossi, who had previously obtained a decree in Reno.

Judge Graham ignored the Reno decree on the grounds that Mrs. Rossi established a "simulated" residence in Nevada for the sole purpose of obtaining a divorce. He ruled a divorce obtained in that manner is not binding in other States and can be held void.

OIL COMPANY FILES ANSWER

General Petroleum Asks for State Suit's Dismissal

Corporation Indicates it Will Co-operate

During Conservation Period it Will "Shut In" Wells

HANFORD, Feb. 5.—The General Petroleum Corporation today filed an answer to the complaint of the State of California in the action brought by the State Natural Resources Department to restrain certain oil companies and individuals operating in the north dome of the Kettleman Hills oil field, from asserted waste of natural gas.

By its answer the corporation indicates that it intends to co-operate with the State and Federal government in their conservation program in the new oil field. It is set forth in the answer that the corporation has drilled a well on Sec. 28, which has been "shut in" and will remain so during the life of the government's conservation agreement. It is further stated that another well is being drilled on Sec. 30, and that when it is ready to produce the same course will be followed.

Neither well, it is stated, will be allowed to produce unless under an optimum gas and oil ratio. In view of those facts, General Petroleum asks that the injunction proceedings against it be dismissed.

The injunction matter is set to come up on an order to show cause, in the Superior Court of Kings county Monday. Several of the individual land owners have demurred and indicate they will resist the action of the State which includes them in the injunction suit.

According to A. F. Nunes, president of the Felix Oil Company, whose gas and oil gusher came in with tremendous production and furnished the incentive for the State's injunction action, he has only just been served with summons in the case and he intimated today that his company will ask for a continuance of the order to show cause when it comes up Monday, on the ground that it has not had sufficient time to prepare its case.

RESCUING OF TRIO ON SHIP UNREPORTED

Seattle Waits News of Air Hop from Nanuk, Long Locked in Northern Ice

SEATTLE, Feb. 5. (AP)—While Capt. Pat Reid, Canadian aviator, was to have taken off today from North Cape, Siberia, where the fur trading ship Nanuk is icebound, for Teller, Alaska, with Miss Marion Swenson, Seattle high school girl, her father, Olaf Swenson, head of the company which owns the ship and Capt. Milovzorov of the Nanuk as passengers if weather permitted, no word had reached here up to a late hour tonight regarding the projected flight.

The absence of information was not considered significant, however, because the flight was predicated entirely upon weather conditions since communications from the north are frequently delayed at this season. Miss Swenson radioed from the Nanuk last night that the flight was contemplated.

The girl, her father, and Capt. Milovsorov have been marooned on the ship for several months. Reid was taken north to engage in the search for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, American aviators lost November 9 while attempting a flight to the Nanuk from Teller. The wreckage of their plane was found January 25 about ninety miles southwest of North Cape. The bodies have not yet been located.

EX-TEACHER SLAYS SELF IN BAY CITY

Carefully Laid Plans Carried Out Successfully by Former Principal

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Alexander J. Dove, 63 years of age, former principal of the elementary grades of the Belmont school at Belmont, carried out carefully laid plans to end his life by shooting himself through the head today in his Sacramento-street apartment. The landlady, Mrs. Frederick Grube, found the body.

Several sealed letters to relatives, an open letter addressed to police and a poem he had written revealed he had made careful preparations for his suicide.

The open letter disclosed Dove had made arrangements with a local undertaker several months ago for his funeral. The letter directed that his body be cremated and the ashes placed in a copper urn inscribed with the poem, which was termed "An Englishman Passes." The undertaker was instructed to drop the urn in the sea at the Golden Gate.

Miller Points Out Increase in Depreciation

Revealing substantial increases in both gross and net earnings of the Southern California Edison Company for the year 1929 as compared with the preceding year, John B. Miller, chairman, in a statement issued yesterday announced that the common stock earnings were equivalent to $3.44 per share on 2,537,942 shares, the average number outstanding during the year, as against $3.10 per share on 2,205,497 shares in 1928.

This increase in common share earnings was shown despite the fact that the company set aside as reserve for depreciation $4,933,061.68, an increase of $579,913.54 over the amount allocated in 1928, and representing more than 12 per cent of the 1929 gross earnings. Such a percentage for depreciation, it was pointed out, is larger than usually made in the industry.

GROSS HIGHER

Gross earnings for the year totaled $40,325,465.21 as compared with $38,281,927.23 in 1928, an increase of $5,043,537.98 or 14 per cent. The net earnings after deducting operating expenses and taxes, including provision for income tax, were $27,127,176.82 as against $23,486,960.89 in the previous year, a gain of $3,640,195.93 or 15 per cent.

After fixed charges, the amount remaining for dividends and depreciation was $20,417,020.17 as against $17,521,053.88, an increase of $2,895,966.29. The balance available for dividends and surplus after setting aside depreciation was $15,483,956.49 as compared with $13,167,906.74 for 1928, a gain of $2,316,052.75.

NET ON COMMON UP

The amount available for common stock based on the average number of shares outstanding during the year, after providing for dividends on the preferred stock, was equal to $3.44 per share on 2,537,942 shares as compared with $3.10 per share on 2,205,497 shares in 1928.

The income account for the year ended December 31, last, follows:

		Increase
Gross earnings	$40,325,465.21	$5,043,537.98

State Will Use Neon Signs on Rail Crossings

Electric Products Corporation, subsidiary of Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation, Ltd., has made a contract with the California State Highway Department for Claude Neon warning signs at the various State highway railroad grade crossings, it was announced yesterday. Forty-six of these signs are under construction and additional ones are being ordered as the survey of railroad crossings by the State Highway Department progresses.

The signs are eight feet in length and four feet high, with the lettering "RR" twenty-four inches high and the letter "X" thirty inches high to denote the crossing. The signs, which carry arrows pointing to the crossing, are large enough to be seen clearly for a distance of 1200 feet, and as they will burn during all hours of darkness, it is anticipated that they will materially decrease the hazard of the crossings.

Adoption of the Neon signs for this purpose opens a new and hitherto unexplored field for the use of Claude Neon lighting, officials said. Other Pacific Coast States, notably Oregon and Washington, are reported to be considering such signs. The number of railroad crossings in the three Pacific Coast States is estimated at 1300. The crossing signals in California will be maintained by the Electrical Products Corporation's service department with ownership vested in the State. Three of the signs will shortly be erected in the vicinity of Los Angeles.

Holding Unit Will Acquire Aero Combine

Liberty Finance Corporation, being incorporated under the laws of Nevada, has been organized as a holding company to acquire controlling interests in Continental Air Express and Commercial Aircraft Corporation, E. K. Fleming, president of the new company, announced yesterday.

Continental Air Express operates a daily passenger and express service over the two routes between Los Angeles and San Francisco and is contemplating the inclusion of a regular express service to San Diego and other points as well as San Francisco.

Commercial Aircraft Corporation maintains a plant at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport and manufactures the Sunbeam six-place cabin biplane. It is planned to use the Sunbeam planes for express service to supplement the passenger service on the trimotored planes.

In addition to Mr. Fleming, officers of the newly formed company include M. G. Phillips, secretary, and H. H. Pursel, vice-president.

Oil Rectifying Profits Higher

Consolidated net earnings of the Petroleum Rectifying Corporation and subsidiaries for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $387,958.62 after depreciation and other reserves including Federal income taxes, which is an increase of 26 per cent over the earnings for 1928, D. C. Norcross, president, announced yesterday.

These profits are equivalent to $3.23 per share on the 120,000 shares of capital stock outstanding and compare with earnings equivalent to $2.56 per share in 1928. The current position as of December 31, last, showed a ratio of better than six to one, with current assets of more than $500,000, against current liabilities of slightly more than $80,000.

FARM IMPLEMENT EXPORTS SET MARK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—United States exports of agricultural implements in 1929 established a new high, totaling $140,796,594, equivalent to approximately 20 per cent of the total production, the Department of Commerce announced today. With the inevitable exception of 1920, when American implement production exceeded $500,000,000, production and consumption during the year were greater than in any other year of the past decade.

TRACTOR BOOST SIGNALED

Payment of 25-Cent Extra by Caterpillar Understood to Forecast Regular $4 Dividend

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Caterpillar Tractor's declaration of an extra of 25 cents a share is accepted by those familiar with the history of the company as preliminary to placing the stock on a regular $4 annual basis. Last year the dividend was raised to $3, but at the rate earnings have been running it has been apparent that another boost would be warranted before the end of 1930.

In the past the Caterpillar management has followed the policy of preceding its dividend increases by the declaration of a series of extras. Presumably this course of action has been adopted as the more conservative policy of waiting for complete returns from operations before committing the company to a higher rate of payment. If business continues to warrant the distribution of extras, the theory is that the extra will be incorporated as part of the regular dividend.

Should business fall below expectations, then the management is free to drop the extra and continue the old rate without having an obligation to pay stockholders a higher dividend.

DISTRIBUTION SOUGHT

In connection with the probability of establishing the stock on a regular $4 basis sometime this year, it has been reported that the Caterpillar company is contemplating an arrangement with eastern investment houses to accumulate and distribute a large block of Caterpillar in the East. The attractiveness of a stock selling in the neighborhood of $65 and with the implied promise of paying $4 a share would be expected to appeal to eastern investors, according to this supposition.

Caterpillar was listed late last year on the New York Stock Exchange, but the relatively small amount of stock held in the Eastern states has not permitted the building of an active market in New York. This deficiency the company plans to correct, it is understood here.

Since the consolidation that resulted in the Caterpillar Tractor Company, the dividend rate has been steadily increased to conform with the advancing rate of earnings. Original stockholders have been favored with stock dividends and frequent subscription rights, on which additional stock the rising rate of cash dividends has resulted in a substantial total return on the investment. There are few, if any, industrial companies on the Pacific Coast that can equal Caterpillar's dividend record.

INCREASES LISTED

Initially the company paid $2.50 a share in 1925 on the $25 par value stock. The next year this was increased to $5.25 plus 25 per cent in stock. After the split-up into no par value shares the initial rate in 1927 was 90 cents a share, or $1.20 a year. In the third quarter of 1927 the quarterly rate was raised to 35 cents, which was followed in the fourth quarter with another 35-cent regular plus an extra of the same amount. These payments made a total of $1.65 for the year.

Beginning 1928 the rate was established at 65 cents, or $2.60 for the year. But with the start of 1929 the payment was boosted from 65 to 75 cents, or $3 for the year. This is the regular rate now, except for the 25-cent extra, which apparently forecasts an increase to $1 quarterly.

Roseate View on Kinner Outlook

While it is understood that the annual report of the Kinner Airplane & Motor Corporation to be issued within the next few weeks will show a small deficit from operations as a result of development expenses and the slackening of the industry in general during the last quarter of the year, it is expected that a good cash position will be shown, Robert Porter, chairman, stated yesterday.

According to a preliminary audit, the books show cash on hand at $270,000 and $50,000 due on motors in transit. Accounts payable approximate $60,000 and the ratio of all current assets to current liabilities is better than two to one, Mr. Porter said. This month's production schedule calls for 150 of the 100-horsepower engines and in March it is expected the output will be 200 motors. Orders are now being received for the new 190-horsepower motors which promises to add considerably to the 1930 sales volume.

UNITED STATES RUBBER

The United States Rubber Company is one of the largest rubber manufacturers in this country, and for many years occupied first place. In 1928, control was acquired by a group including several members of the DuPont family, and F. B. Through a subsidiary the United States Rubber Plantations, Inc., the company owns and operates the largest rubber plantations in the world, located in Sumatra and Malaya. These plantations have an annual production of about 29,000,000 pounds of rubber. The tire manufacturing facilities are gradually being concentrated at Detroit.

Net income for the first half of 1929 amounted to $369,000, or $7 cents per share on the preferred stock, compared with an operating loss of $14,093,000 for the first half of 1928. Current assets at the end of June were $123,091,000, including $7,882,000 cash and $74,787,000 inventories, compared with current liabilities of $18,525,000. The common had a book value of $48.28 per share.

Borrowings of Average Sized Family Shrink

No financial depression apparently is being felt by the average American family in the income class of $1500 to $3000 a year, Leslie C. Harbison, president of the Household Finance Corporation, declared yesterday in a statement based on reports of small loan managers in sixty-two cities where the corporation maintains offices.

These reports as of December 31, last, showed that accounts delinquent three months among the 235,837 customers of the corporation were the lowest for any month of the year, being less than ½ of 1 per cent. In money, such delinquencies amounted to .42 of 1 per cent of the amount loaned.

The highest number of delinquencies similarly computed in any month during 1929 was .77 of 1 per cent in number and .74 of 1 per cent of the amount loaned.

This compares with net profits of $228,162, or $1.20 per share on 190,000 combined A and B shares in the corresponding period of 1928.

On the basis of the earnings for the first half of the company's second fiscal year, the profits are running at the annual rate of $572,325, which would compare with net profits of $501,875 for the first fiscal year ended June 30, last.

Pacific Company Profits Gain Over Previous Year; New Stations Added

Net earnings of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, controlled by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, amounted to $15,623,616 after interest charges for the year closed December 31, last, against $14,923,561 for 1928, an increase of $691,055, according to a statement issued yesterday by the Southern California Telephone Company, a subsidiary.

Operating revenues of the company aggregated $101,502,886 for the year. This compares with $91,535,928 reported for 1928 and represents an increase of $9,966,948 or more than 10 per cent.

The net addition of more than 95,000 new telephones during the year and an expansion for the long-distance business were largely responsible for the substantially higher earnings, according to the announcement.

Results for December showed a falling off compared with November in both gross and net results. December gross earnings amounted to $8,634,096, against $9,655,621 in November, a decline of $21,562. The December net totaled $1,234,003, as compared with $1,330,163 in November and $1,408,151 reported for December, 1928.

Operations of Hood Rubber were included only for the four months since September 1, last, during which it operated as a subsidiary.

Net sales for the year were estimated at $164,000,000.

The directors approved the retirement of 11,880 shares of preferred stock in accordance with the provisions of the charter. They also declared the regular quarterly dividends of $1 on the common and $1.75 on the preferred stock.

YOUR INCOME TAX

NO. 3

The personal exemption under the Revenue Act is $1500 for a single person or $3500 for married persons living together. Also a taxpayer may claim $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Such dependent need not be a relative of the taxpayer nor a member of his household. The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill health and the aged.

Frequently the question is asked, "Why is a return demanded when the personal exemption and credit for dependents amount to more than the net income and thus reflects a nontaxable return?" The filing of a return that shows no tax liability, however, is not a useless procedure as far as the Bureau of Internal Revenue is concerned. In many cases such returns are found upon examination not to be nontaxable, as claimed by the person filing the return. If the amount of personal exemption and credit for dependents claimed is more than he was entitled to under the law, such amount is properly reduced to the amount allowable, and there is disclosed a tax liability.

(This is the third of a series of thirty-five articles on Federal income tax procedure supplied by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.)

STEEL EXPORT TRADE GAINS

Total of More Than 3,000,000 Tons in 1929 Held Highest in Past Nine Years

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—American steel exports made the best record last year in nine years. It was to be expected that 1919 and 1920 would be record years, because of the tremendous demand for steel products needed in European rehabilitation.

But last year's gross steel export—over 3,000,000 tons—is an increase of 5.8 per cent over 1928. Still, the 1929 total was 62.5 per cent less than the record for 1920.

In the field of finished steel, exports increased 7 per cent over 1928, but imports declined. The imports were but 333,000 tons—31 per cent less than in 1928.

As usual, Canada was the largest customer of steel, taking 40.8 per cent of the total; Japan was next, taking 14.3 per cent. Together they took fifty-five tons out of every 100 exported.

Sir Alfred Knox, Conservative member of Parliament, wants American "talkies" banned from England, or at least limited, and British film's encouraged to protect the English language from becoming extinct.

Sir Alfred is deeply concerned with the problem of how to conserve the English language as it is spoken in England. American "talkies" are demoralising, from his standpoint, and causing untold problems for the future school-teachers of England.

"And isn't it time to protect the language and the ideals of this country?" asks this Conservative member, at the very time when the London public and all England are flocking to American-made "talkies" as never before.

The American motion-picture industry begins the year with an investment of about $2,000,000,000. Of this, $1,250,000,000 represents tangible property, such as studios, offices, theaters, etc. The remainder covers copyrights, contracts and good will—intangible assets.

Last year, $800,000,000 were paid for admission into the 20,000 theaters by the motion-picture fans of the United States. Film rentals were 25 per cent of this amount—or about $200,000,000.

The United Kingdom, according to the figures for the first nine months of 1929, almost tripled its imports of American films, as compared with the corresponding period of 1928.

Formerly the plea was for trade to follow the flag, but now trade follows the film.

The United States Department of Commerce has estimated that the motion pictures produced in the United States promote foreign trade at the rate of $1 a foot. That is to say that the 201,000,000 linear feet exported during the first nine months of last year increased the country's trade by about $200,000,000.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—All sections of the bond market closed higher today, the average showing the largest gain in a month. Volume of trading was not particularly impressive, but the list responded readily to buying orders and it was apparent that the offer of unusual amount of new financing done in January was wearing off.

Foreign, Republic, Utah and Ry again traded with unusual activity. Both issues dominated the record highs made yesterday, but the former was pulled down a point from the peak level and closed at that for a small net loss. The Ry finished at the top, 116.

German Ry, Japan 6½s, Hamburg 6s, Norway 6s, Tokio Electric 6s, Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 7s and Australian 4½s made fractional gains.

Domestic rails were exceptionally firm and small upturns appeared in most trading issues. Pennsylvania Cons 5s rose a point, St. Louis and San Francisco 4½s moved up ½ and Wabash 5s, Series B, advanced 1½.

Utilities were generally higher. American Telephone 4½s of 1965 held most of a gain of Columbia Gas and Electric 5s (MAY), Consolidated Gas of New York 5½s, Portland Electric Power 6s, International Power 6s, Western Union 6½s and the Detroit Edison 6s were well bought.

Numerous industrials rallied about half a point. These included Wilson first 6s, Liggett & Myers 5s, American Smelting 5s and American Tobacco 4s. United States Rubber 5s, Goodyear 5s and numerous others were firm. Standard Oil of New York 4½s moved briskly riding a full point on a substantial volume.

Convertible bonds were strong. American Telephone 4½s gained 1¼ net, closing at 106 with total sales of more than $1,000,000 principal amount. Gains of a point and more appeared in American International 5½s, Atchison 4½s, and Missouri Pacific 5½s. American Ltd. Chemical 5½s moved back to par for a new high of it.

Obligations of the United States were quiet, but closed firm, irregularly higher. Liberty 3½s, first 4¼s and the Treasury 3¼s of 1946-56 improved from three to six thirty seconds.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) as reported by the leading exchanges, the over-the-counter markets as the day's range, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Heavy buying of the public utilities, several of which advanced to new high levels for the year, featured the resumption of a broad upward movement in today's curb market. Oil and aviation shares were the only important groups, which failed to make much progress. The splendid resistance shown to selling pressure yesterday attracted fresh support to the theory that recent gains had been well consolidated and that the technical position of the market was sufficiently strong to indicate an extension of the rise in many stocks.

Electric Bond and Share was again the leader of the utilities, touching 99, or nearly double the price established in the break last fall, and then easing to 98 for a net gain of 3½ points. Southeastern Power and Light soared 11¼, and American Light and Traction jumped 6½. American Gas and Electric advanced nearly 4 points. American and Foreign Power warrants 2 and a long list of others, including Cities Service, moved up a point or more.

Natural gas stocks were again bought in large volume on rumors of ambitious expansion plans designed to bring the product to several of the large western cities to supplement the manufactured variety. Southwest Gas Utilities zoomed 15 to a new high for a gain of more than 4 points, but just part of its gain. Arkansas issues also were turned over in large volume at advancing prices.

A further rise in the investment trust and trading corporation issues, led by Lehman Corporation, Transamerica, and International Utilities issues, reflected the recent appreciation in the intrinsic value of their securities holdings. Anchor Post Fence duplicated the year's high of 14 on buying influenced by the high current yield, and reports that 1929 earnings were well above dividend requirements. Ford Motors Limited advanced 1 point on a fairly heavy turnover. Noranda Mines and Newmont led a moderate advance in the mining shares, the former closing May preferred and A. & P. each dropped about 5 points on small transactions. General Baking preferred was again heavy. Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania sold 1½ points, reflecting cuts in Pennsylvania crude prices, while the other active petroleum shares showed little change.

Wheat Futures Turn Off After Early Advance

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Russia reappeared as a bugbear in the wheat market today, and so also did Argentina. With 10,000 tons of wheat from Russia reported as arriving at Hamburg, Germany, unsold, and with prices for Argentina wheat at Buenos Aires undergoing a sharp setback, the wheat market here not only failed to hold early gains scored today but almost altogether lost backbone in the final dealings. Weakness of wheat at Winnipeg, together with dearth of European demand today for wheat from North America, had a notable disturbing influence.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were heavy at the day's bottom level, 3¼ to 1¼c a bushel under yesterday's latest figure. Corn closed ⅛@⅝c to 1c down, oats unchanged to ¼@⅝c off, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 10c.

Wiping out of early gains in the Chicago wheat market today came in the last half hour of trading, and was quickly followed by rapid further setbacks. Special notice was taken that the Winnipeg "spot" pit, for at least the moment, appeared to be disregarding assurances that financial support from Canadian provincial authorities would prevent any large volume of Canadian wheat from being thrown on the market. Moreover, fusing out of export business in North America was announced, the total being but 300,000 bushels, was a big disappointment to friends of higher prices, especially as Russia was announced as having disposed of more wheat to Great Britain and Argentine wheat values were showing a pronounced downward trend.

Late reactions in wheat prices at Liverpool did a good deal to unsettle confidence of wheat traders here, more in view of good buying in Chicago having been based on advices that European continental reserve stocks of wheat were diminishing.

Corn and oats prices were responsive to wheat market weakness. Iowa advices said some increase of movement of the corn crop is expected.

Provisions averaged higher as a result of commission house buying of lard.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Activity in heavy rolled steel products has leveled off to a certain extent in the Pittsburgh district following a fairly rapid upturn in January.

Recent specifications show only moderate improvement, but incoming tonnages, at least, is holding its former gains. Independent sheet makers are booking larger tonnages of full finished and some common grades of sheets, but Youngstown district makers are notifying buyers they are interested only in tonnages that can be delivered solely within the limits of the present quarter.

The price on ferro-manganese has been cut to $1 to $6, duty paid, on carloads and differentials are being applied on larger tonnages.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Kettleman Hills Oil and Gas Conservation Committee yesterday announced through its chairman, John E. D. Reiter, that a general meeting of the operators of that field will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Building next Wednesday at 2 p.m.

According to Judge Reiter, the present committee, which has served efficiently since its appointment by J. C. Van Deinse in April, 1929 will be reorganized for the purpose of forming a permanent group to handle future developments at Kettleman Hills.

The committee met with Secretary of the Interior Wilbur here last week to ascertain the best procedure for orderly development at Kettleman Hills, and it is believed that the permanent group will be vested with authority to control drilling there. Its first sessions will be held by the old committee. Judge Reiter today is preparing letters to be mailed to all Kettleman Hills operators, asking them to attend the general meeting next week.

New Producers

With the completion yesterday of the Western Oil and Refining Company's Harding No. 12 near the southeast corner of Coronado and Pine streets, the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field has further proof that it is good for larger production than that obtained in the past.

Western Oil's new producer came in for about 1200 barrels of oil per day in 600 feet and after flowing some hours settled down to a daily flow of 600 barrels. The new completion is two blocks southeast of the State Company's Sievers No. 1, which opened up the new zone six months ago.

In the northwesterly portion of the Signal Hill field, the Cal-Mex Company's No. 25 was completed for approximately 1160 barrels of oil but settled down to 600 barrels daily. This producer is at the intersection of California and Cherry-Smith streets.

Signal Hill's new wells are expected to increase the field's total output from 104,000 barrels to about 110,000 barrels before the end of the week, as other wells are expected to be brought in by the Petroleum Securities Company, the State Company and the Richfield Oil Company. The Jergen Trust's No. 1 is flowing into the sump late today and should be on steady production today.

Tests at Chino

Of the three wells drilling at shallow depths southwest of Chino, and on which some of them showing considerable promise, property owners in that district are greatly excited over the prospects of oil production there in the near future.

On Tuesday a wildcat well being drilled about five miles southwest of Chino by the Belyea Trucking Company of Los Angeles, blew in from a depth of 1180 feet and sprayed considerable mud and water over the derrick. The well has been shut in pending a decision as to drilling deeper. No oil has been found, reports say. The well is on Sec. 32.

About one mile from it, on Sec. 33, the Kramer oil organization is drilling a wildcat, while on Sec. 31, 2-8 the Marcell Petroleum Company is down 1506 feet in a wildcat well. This project is said to have gone through fifty feet of broken formation—sand and shale, at 1260 feet, and has considerable gas pressure.

Three other wells are being drilled a few miles from the above locations. The Gerard Grimes well is on Sec. 8, the Union Oil Company and General Petroleum Corporation are drilling a joint test on Sec. 13, and the Western Gulf is drilling on Sec. 28, 2-9. All of these wells are in what is known as the Chino Hills, and may be said to be shooting for an extension of the Brea-Olinda field.

Takes Leases

The Petroleum Finance Company of New York recently closed a deal for eighty acres east of the Santa Fe Springs field and north of the Standard Oil Company's McNally test. The properties acquired include the Mendenhall, Albright and Sword ranches, according to field reports.

Trying Round Mountain

The Superior Oil Company's Coffee No. 1 on a forty-acre lease on Sec. 1, 28-28 at Round Mountain is drilling below 500 feet in search of shallow production. The company's test is a short distance northwest of the Shell Oil Company's Freeman No. 7 on Sec. 20, 28-29 to be drilled to about 1600 feet.

Drilling Permits

Search for oil in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field continues to be interesting as new permits are granted by the State Mining Bureau to operators to drill there. Last week, the Commercial Oil Corporation was granted permission to drill its No. 1 which is a short distance from the Shell Oil Company's Patton-Wilson No. 10 and No. 11 that recently were spudded in.

Of the thirteen permits granted last week, three were for Signal Hill, four in Ventura county, four in Kern county and one each at Elwood and Summerland. Following are the permits: Commercial Oil Corporation's No. 1 and Shell Oil Company's Patton-Wilson No. 10 and No. 11 at Signal Hill; George F. Getty's State Lease No. 16-21 at Summerland; Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Luton-Bell No. 12 at Elwood; Reservoir Hill Gasoline Company's Havenstrite No. 5 in Sunset field; Nick Gerard Oil Company's Watkins No. 1 in Kern county; Petroleum Securities Company's Gardner No. 2 at Poso Creek; Superior Oil Company's Coffee No. 1 at Round Mountain; Shell Oil Company's Thatcher No. 1, Everett No. 1 in Ventura county.

Cause Determined

Undue pressure in one of the gasoline tanks, causing it to break, and allowing the absorption plant to be flooded with gasoline which became ignited in some unknown manner, is blamed for the recent explosion and fire in the plant of the Los Nietos Producing and Refining Company ten days ago on the north dome of Kettleman Hills.

According to officials of the company, who investigated the damaged plant, contractors now are preparing to make the necessary repairs. The plant was damaged to the extent of $75,000, according to the report, and repairs may not be completed for at least three weeks. At the time of the explosion, the plant was handling the gas from the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1, recently completed at Kettleman Hills.

Still Trying

Although no showings have been encountered which justify deeper tests, the Shell Oil Company continues to make core holes on its acreage held in the vicinity of Oxnard to make a thorough study of the formations.

Since starting operations near Oxnard, Shell has drilled a series of shallow tests, along with several deeper ones. Its Everett No. 1 on Sec. 23, 2-20 which is a short distance south of Somis, is rigging up and soon will spud in. The company's Leonard No. 1 was carried to 3600 feet and abandoned, while Terry No. 1 is drilling below 3100 feet.

Still Fishing

The Milham Exploration Company's Kern No. 6 deep test for oil on Buttonwillow Ridge continues to fish for a lost core barrel with bottom at 4900 feet. In the event that the fish is recovered drilling will be resumed to deepen this project to at least 6000 feet.

Operators to Meet

Between now and Saturday the operators from several oil fields are to hold meetings for the purpose of getting together on a movement to get February oil production in California down to 609,000 barrels a day against 703,000 barrels daily in January.

Herbert R. Macmillan is to act as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs group which will meet Saturday at 10 a.m., at the office of Umpire Grimm, A. T. Jergins will serve as chairman of the Signal Hill group.

At Goleta

Along the coast near Goleta, in Santa Barbara county, General Petroleum is drilling below 1000 feet in Crandall No. 1 and James No. 1, both tideland tests. Three others have recently been validated. Further inland, the More No. 2 is drilling below 4000 feet in brown shale. It is about a half-mile from the More No. 1, suspended with bottom at 4533 feet after the gas was killed to permit the hole being straightened.

A load of 931-pound inter-mountain steers made 11.00, with an 884-pound load at 10.75. It seems likely that only outstanding stock could bast 12.00 on the present price levels. Odd lots of low-grade steers made 8.50@9.25. Odd head of light steers went to feeder buyers at 7.75@8.75.

Odd head of heifers ranging from common to medium-quality brought 7.50@10.00, with some to a feeder at 7.25. Seasoned cows bulked at 7.25@8.75, with no good kinds available. HOGS—Fresh receipts of 400, and holdovers of 600 met with a slightly better demand and bulk of offerings had changed hands by noon. "Just Like Picking Cherries"

The high-grade securities list is like a great fruiting orchard. One after another, profits are being picked in this market from the various trees—"just like picking cherries."

The section of market-traders referred to as the "professional element" is responsible for this season of picking, and now the public is beginning to join. It is the time of the fiesta—the gala season in the stock market.

One stock after the other is given its "demonstration" in the recovery. While the whole market is taking part in the recovery, and underlying strength and buoyancy characterizes the entire situation, in a recovery such as this it is possible only to pick up one or two stocks at a time and push them forward rapidly so that profits may be taken.

It is the pleasant task of H. R. Rule & Company to seek out these spots in order to place its customers in a position to take part in the advances as these "demonstrations" occur, and to assist them in making profits. Business conditions in the United States have revived with greater rapidity than had been expected, according to the most reliable sources. Therefore, profit-taking in the stock market which discounts advances in business, have advanced with greater rapidity during "demonstrations" than had been expected. Confidence has returned with greater swiftness than had been expected, and the recovery may well be said to be establishing itself with certainty.

THE AMUSEMENT STOCKS

It is a matter of gratification, in view of the market position we took some time ago, to note the amazing improvement in amusement stocks, and to see further verification of our position in the report of the Department of Commerce concerning the huge increase in film exports, exceeding the peak period of 1919 by more than 9,000,000 feet. We predict that 1930 will be the greatest year in the history of the amusement business, and especially that section of it devoted to the production of films. There certainly is no longer any necessity for hesitation of commitments in this section of the investment list.

This week is the most potential in the history of the Fox Film "A" situation. The constructive forces that work in the affairs of this corporation are expected to consolidate their efforts into reality between now and next Monday. Fox Film—"A" at current prices is ridiculously low, a fact which we have urged repeatedly upon our clients. If you have not been receiving the series of reports and bulletins which we have been sending out on Fox it is suggested that you write in for them. Yesterday's magnificent demonstration followed the sending out of a special bulletin predicting the rise.

THE OIL INDUSTRY

Our report concerning the oil industry, important to so many investors in Los Angeles, which is considered the oil security capital of the world, has created a sensation. The report of the United States Bureau of Mines calling attention to the huge over-production and to the fact that an all-time high record has been established and now exists in oil in storage and stocks of gasoline on hand came out a few days after our special report, giving further and official verification of our figures. H. R. Rule & Company are following a policy of aggressive research and of arriving at a position without subterfuge or equivocation with reference to investment subjects requiring the same. If you have not received a copy of this special oil report, it is advisable that you do so at once.

We have for recommendation five stocks which have not yet enjoyed a market "demonstration" since the decline, and which appear certain to receive favorable attention in a very short time. This list, together with our analysis, is free for the asking. A "demonstration" in any one of these stocks may begin any day. Delay may mean disaster.

During the 1929 high, stocks were carried at an average of around 3.51%, while the yield was around 3%, so that it was necessary in order to carry stocks to pay a bonus for so doing. Under the present situation it is possible to pick stocks, with call money at 4½%, which have yields in dividends that are greater than the call money rate or carrying charges. Thus the investor has a greater opportunity to realize profits on his margin money and enters the market with no impost.

THE LIST OF FIVE STOCKS WHICH WE ARE RECOMMENDING FOR A MARKET "DEMONSTRATION" IN THE NEAR FUTURE WILL BE SENT OUT ON REQUEST. WE SUGGEST THAT YOU USE THE TELEPHONE, COME TO OUR OFFICE OR MAIL THE COUPON ATTACHED BELOW. NO OBLIGATION.

Outstanding Facts About H. R. Rule & Company

As evidence of not only the recovery in prices, but of the aggressive and—may we say profitable—nature of the service being rendered by this House under its new management, we quote the following statistics:

Percentage of LOSS on customers' accounts as at the close of business December 31, 1929 (no profit) . . . 11.77%.

Percentage of PROFIT in customers' accounts as at the close of the first four weeks of activity under the new management (no loss) . . . 11.4%.

Percentage of increase in the number of customers since January 1, 1930 . . . 33%.

It will be noted that a recovery of more than 22.81% in these accounts has transpired in a little over 30 days.

Meanwhile, there has been extra-gratifying popular response to the character of investment service which we have rendering, which in itself should be evidence that our service is worth your investigation. We estimate that the percentage of profit on customers' accounts in the next two months will exceed 200%.

*These figures do not include yesterday's business which increases said figures due to the large number of Fox Film accounts on our books.

WATER-SHARING DEADLOCK GIVES

Colorado River Delegation Off for Phoenix

Unusually Adamant, Signs of Weakening Observed

Hopes High for Settlement at Arizona Meeting

PHOENIX, Feb. 28. (Exclusive)—Following an all-day conference between the several California groups interested in obtaining water from the Colorado River, the California committeemen, en route to the Phoenix tri-State conference tonight announced that California cannot accept Arizona's proposal on the division of the water between the two States. At the same time the California committeemen, through Chairman Reeves, announced that California will offer to Arizona a counter-proposal when the conference opens at Phoenix tomorrow. The California committee's decision to turn down the Arizona proposal was arrived at when it was realized that California would have more water than Arizona has offered to give it by her proposal.

It is understood, but nevertheless not of an agreement within reach, the California delegation to the tri-State Colorado River conference left for Phoenix last night apparently in the same situation as when they went to the Arizona capital nearly three weeks ago. Their visit was "harmonious," but not agreed.

Members representing the conflicting groups in California were in conference all day yesterday at the Governor's office in the Associated Realty Building, trying to arrive at some solution of the problem of dividing satisfactorily among themselves the water waters to be allotted to the State. At the close of the conference last night, it was announced that probably no statement will be made until this morning.

DRAFT SOFTENS

In official sources, however, it is learned that although no agreement had been reached the conferees at the day-long session was such as to give hope of a solution of the problem. While in turn the Imperial Valley farmers are insisting on virtually all of the 3,850,000 acre feet of Class-A water allocated to the State, it was learned at the conference that the position of the group was not as adamant as it is believed from press dispatches from the valley a few days ago.

It is definite, however, none of the delegates including the Metropolitan Water District, the Imperial Valley, the Coachella and other districts will submit their respective claims as to their water requirements.

The hurried spokesman for the Arizona river commission, after a session of his own to which the public was not admitted, announced that the conference was made that no statement is going to give out today.

HEARD IT OUT

The conferees sat closeted in the executive room from the morning with no recess for lunch as to what went on beyond the closed doors, they came out reported by individual members that the session had been a "talk-fest" at which all sides and individuals were permitted to express their views. Although the general tenor of the talk every quarter was that of all-work for harmony and a solid front at Phoenix, at the noon adjournment it was reported that harmony had not been reached.

It was reported that assurances had been received from the Imperial Valley that "Los Angeles has no fear from the Imperial Valley."

PRESENT

Those attending the conference were W. J. Carr, chairman of the Governor; John Bonelli, and Earl Pound of the Colorado River Commission; W. F. Whitsett, secretary to the Governor; W. P. Whitsett, and R. E. Steffner, John R. Finley, director of the Metropolitan Water District, and A. Wessler, chairman of the executive committee of the Los

ONLY ONE PASSES IN TESTS

Policewoman in Line for City Mother

THE thirty-five applicants who took the Los Angeles civil service tests for city mother, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement six months ago of Mrs. Aletha Gilbert after twenty-five years of service, Miss Elizabeth H. Fiske, of 530 South Gates street, was the only one to pass, according to announcement by the Civil Service Commission yesterday. She obtained a grade of 82.9, ten more than was necessary.

Miss Fiske, who passed the test for juvenile officer, has been an acting policewoman since last October, under Mrs. Minnie Barton, chief woman probation officer, and is at present assigned to investigation work in courts.

She was born in Yolo county thirty-five years ago. Her two grandfathers were "Forty-niners" and her grandmothers came to the State in 1851. She graduated from high school in Berkeley, attended Miss Head's private school, and then came to Los Angeles, where she has taken a number of courses at U.S.C. At present she is studying criminal law and procedure in connection with social work.

In addition to considerable volunteer work she did field work for county charities for one year, was in charge of case work for the service department of the American Legion, is a member of Post No. 8 of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, handled outside inquiries in connection with the St. Francis dam disaster, conducted probation work for the county for two and one-half months and was matron at Juvenile Hall for fourteen months.

While the written tests were conducted by the civil service examiners, with but seven of the applicants passing, the Civil Service Commission conducted the oral test for the seven. Identity of those taking the oral test was withheld by the commission.

The test was thrown open to women throughout the State.

The appointment is in the hands of Chief of Police Steckel, subject to the direction and approval of the Police Commission, the position of city mother being that of a sergeant of policewomen in the department, with pay at $250 a month. The work consists of directing the department which looks after the welfare of juveniles and aids in patching up differences of parents.

HONNOLD'S SELECTION APPROVED

Council Suspends Rules to Confirm His Nomination for Water Area Director

By unanimous vote the City Council yesterday suspended its rules and confirmed Mayor Porter's nomination of William Lincoln Honnold, mining engineer, as a member from Los Angeles of the directorate of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. John R. Haynes.

Mr. Honnold will be 64 years of age April 16, next. He lives in Bel-Air, is a member of the Bel-Air Country Club and maintains offices in the Pacific Mutual Building.

He was born in Oconee, Ill., and received degrees from Knox College, University of Michigan and Michigan College of Mines. After superintending mines in Minnesota and California, he went to South Africa in 1902, where he gained considerable prominence as a mining engineer. During the war he acted in behalf of the Belgian Relief Committee.

He is a director of several concerns in South Africa, as well as the Security-First National Bank here, the Hazeltine Corporation, the Calaveras Cement Company and Hunt Brothers' Packing Company. He is a trustee of Pomona College and chairman of the board of Claremont College. He is a member and officer in numerous mining and engineering associations, has received commemorative medals from France and Belgium for his relief services, and belongs to several New York and California clubs.

KANSAS ALUMNI TO DINE

Kansas University alumni will gather at a banquet at 7 o'clock on the 10th inst., at the Alexandria. The dinner has been arranged by the district alumni association. The principal speaker will be Fred Ellsworth, editor of the university's graduate magazine, who will be in Los Angeles in connection with a nation-wide tour of district alumni associations. Ralph H. Spotts, chief counsel of Title Insurance and Trust Company, is president of the local alumni association.

Two Arrested in Unlicensed Plane Drive

Marking the beginning of a campaign against the operation of unlicensed airplanes in Los Angeles county, Capt. Morgan, head of Sheriff Traeger's aviation detail, yesterday reported the arrest and conviction of two men for violation of the State aviation law.

Following charges that they flew an unlicensed plane at Lancaster last Sunday, C. P. Siebenthal and I. T. Brandt yesterday were under suspended sentences after having pleaded guilty the previous day before Justice of the Peace Bulkley of Lancaster. Fines of $50 each were suspended.

Capt. Morgan, in company with Inspector Noll of the United States Department of Commerce, flew to Lancaster following the report that Leslie Green, 23 years of age, of Gardena, had been injured when he fell in a Thomas-Morse one-seated plane. The plane, according to Morgan, was owned by Siebenthal and Brandt, and had not been licensed as required by the State law.

Green was reported to be suffering from a broken ankle and dislocated hip in a Los Angeles hospital. Disposition of his case was turned over to Department of Commerce officials.

Competition in Concrete Curing Work Favored

A report of the Public Works Committee, declaring in favor of open competition in the use of concrete curing, which has been the subject of much turmoil recently in the City Hall, was signed by Chairman Randall and Councilman McAllister yesterday. Councilman Martin did not sign the report.

The matter will come before the City Council for a public hearing next Tuesday morning.

The City Attorney recently ruled that open specifications in the use of concrete curing schemes will not bring any liability on the city for the possible infringement of patents, as it is optional with the contractor to choose among several methods or the dirt-and-water system.

RECORD GLIDER HOP PROPOSED

Los Angeles-to-San Diego Flight Visioned

Lindbergh Aiding in Tests for Daring Venture

Bowlus to Pilot Sailplane on Distance Trial

BY TERREL DE LAPP
"Times" Staff Representative

LEBEC, Feb. 5.—Experimental flights and other tests which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Hawley Bowlus of San Diego are making with the latter's sailplane are preparatory to a feat which, if successfully accomplished, will open up a new phase in glider development, it was learned today at the camp on the Tejon ranch to which Lindbergh and Bowlus came to conduct their tests. The project which they have in mind is the first long-distance point-to-point flight by a glider, and the plan is to make the flight from Los Angeles to San Diego.

The necessity for making repairs on the Bowlus sailplane in the morning and adverse wind conditions in the afternoon limited Col. Lindbergh's glider flying today to one short flight made shortly after noon. Accompanied by his wife, he arrived at the Bowlus camp, which is in a small hollow, early in the morning in a large sedan which he had driven from Los Angeles.

WING REPAIRED

He immediately set to work with Bowlus and two instructors from the Bowlus glider school in San Diego, Jack Barstow and Philip De Mandel, to install a new aileron and new control wires in the right wing of the sailplane. The original aileron had dropped off during a flight by Lindbergh last Monday and only skillful flying by the colonel had enabled him to bring the plane to earth without mishap.

When the repairs had been completed the glider was hauled to the top of a knoll which was said to be about a mile above sea level. The wind velocity at the time was less than ten miles an hour and therefore no attempt was to be made for a long flight but only a demonstration of the airworthiness of the repaired ship. Lindbergh elected to make the test himself and took off.

SAILS FOUR MILES

The plane was aloft for nine minutes before Lindbergh brought it to an easy landing about four miles away at a point about 800 feet lower than where he had taken off. The plane was hauled back to the camp and given a thorough inspection.

It was the belief of those at the camp that Mrs. Lindbergh intended to make a flight during the afternoon, but poor flying conditions interfered with the carrying out of any such intention. Neither she nor anyone else at the camp went aloft after the colonel's flight.

The couple and several other guests at the camp spent the afternoon sitting about a roaring camp fire, which was made necessary by a sharp chill in the air, and enjoying themselves in the traditional manner of a camping party. Shortly before dark the colonel and his wife set out in their automobile for Los Angeles, but they said, before leaving, that they will be back early this morning.

OTHERS IN PARTY

Besides the Lindberghs, Bowlus and his two assistants, those who gathered about the camp fire this afternoon included Mrs. Philip De Mandel, Don Cardiff and Rees Cardiff, who have come here from Bakersfield to make flights in a glider of their own construction; and Lieut. S. C. W. Kingsbury and William Van Dusen, who flew up from San Diego and made a landing in an emergency field in the Antelope Valley and then came here by motor.

Van Dusen is secretary of the San Diego Air Board of Control and an official examiner of the National Aeronautical Association. He and Lieut. Kingsbury will act as official observers at any attempts at endurance records which are made here in the Bowlus glider either by Lindbergh or by Bowlus, who holds the present American endurance flight record for gliders.

They will also probably be the official observers on the attempt to set a distance mark for gliders which is now being planned. Heretofore, it was said here today, there has never been any attempt to fly a

FLYER'S WIFE GROWS WINGS

Air Instruction Course Completed

Mrs. Mildred Morgan and Instructor, Marion McKeen

MRS. MILDRED MORGAN, wife of Thomas E. Morgan, general manager of the Pickwick Airways, decided the only way she can follow a flying husband is to pilot a plane herself. Yesterday she completed her flying instruction and is to receive her pilot's license from the Department of Commerce within the next few days.

"I have always wanted to learn to fly," Mrs. Morgan explained after she had completed her required number of solo flying hours. "You see, I have taken a great many trips with my husband and I have never been satisfied with being a back-seat driver." Mrs. Morgan declared she will follow her first flying instruction with a long period of intensive study and practice and will enter the lists of the Women's Cross-country Derby this fall.

Mrs. Morgan received her first lesson in flight in Honolulu and completed the course at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport under the direction of Marion (Skyirishman) McKeen. Mrs. Morgan is the 120th pupil to complete flying instruction under McKeen, and he boasts that none of his pupils ever have had an accident.

Will Providing Church Funds Begets Contest

The will of Charles F. Baird, who left half of a $94,000 estate to build a church, was attacked in a contest filed by three brothers and a sister yesterday.

Baird, who died December 21, 1928, at 75 years of age, was of unsound mind at the time his will was made, according to the petition, filed by Ambrose, Joseph and Frank T. Baird, and Mrs. Marie Sheridan.

Under terms of the will, a nephew, Percy T. Baird, was to use the property willed to him to build a church. The rest, about half the estate, was to be placed in a trust fund to be paid to the two brothers and three sisters during their lives.

The church will be called "The Johanna Baird Memorial Church and Sunday School of Truth," if the provisions of the will are carried out.

BADGERS TO RALLY

Wisconsin's winter picnic for Badgers living here is announced for Saturday in Cycamore Grove Park. Frank H. True, president of the Wisconsin State Society here, will start the program at 2 p.m. An attraction will be the White King Quartet in musical numbers.

MAYOR GOES TO SEE BELL PLANT AREA

Porter Will Make Second Tour Tomorrow Morning; Ordinance on His Desk

Mayor Porter yesterday made a tour of inspection of the territory involved in the application of Alphonso Bell for a quarrying and rock-crushing plant in the Santa Monica Mountains, the ordinance for which now lies on his desk. He was accompanied by Arthur Webber, head of the Miramar Estates Syndicate, and Jess Stephens, attorney.

Another tour of inspection is being arranged for tomorrow morning, when he will be accompanied by Rev. Gustave Briegleb, George Pepperdine and Albert Sherman.

According to a rumor about the City Hall yesterday, arrangements are being made for a quiet celebration tomorrow, when pictures will be snapped of Mayor Porter signing the ordinance. This rumor, however, failed of verification.

Suit Involving $500,000 in Taxes On Today

Trial of a suit involving more than $500,000 in the return of income taxes will be begin today in the court of United States District Judge James. The action was brought by four Southern California title and trust companies against Galen H. Welch, Collector of Internal Revenue, seeking the return of more than $500,000 paid as income taxes from 1921 to 1929.

The plaintiffs are the Title Insurance and Trust Company, Title Guaranty and Trust Company, California Title Insurance Company and the San Diego Union Title Insurance Company.

It is asserted by Marc P. Mitchell and George M. Thompson, attorneys for the plaintiffs, that the companies are trust concerns and not subject to the income taxes paid. The government asserts that the plaintiffs are insurance companies and subject to the tax. Should the plaintiffs win, such a decision will involve the return of about $2,000,000 in income taxes in Los Angeles, it is stated.

DAM FUND USE WILL BE TOPIC

Supervisors Today Take Up San Gabriel Problem

Closed Meeting to Consider $21,000,000 Bonds

Channel's Extension Ruled Out by County Counsel

Just what may or may not be done with the $21,000,000 surplus bond money remaining in the county coffers as a result of abandonment of the plans for a San Gabriel high dam will be the subject of a scheduled conference today of the Board of Supervisors.

It was reported yesterday the public will not be admitted to the conference, which will be entirely preliminary in its nature.

In connection with the forthcoming discussion, Chairman McClellan offered the individual opinion that the Supervisors may consider the feasibility of building a number of smaller dams to replace the one provided for in the recently abandoned plans.

The boar will be asked today to pass on a resolution providing $25,000 for a survey of the entire San Gabriel River Canyon, the purpose of which is to furnish evidence on the availability of possible sites for smaller dams. If the funds are provided, the survey will be conducted by Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton and will cover the east and west forks of the San Gabriel as well as the main channel.

OPINION RENDERED

It also was learned yesterday that the board has been advised in a legal opinion from County Counsel Mattoon's office that money realized from the sale of the San Gabriel dam bonds cannot be used to carry out the proposed extension of the San Gabriel channel from its present terminus in Alamitos Bay to the ocean.

The suggestion that a portion of the bond money might be used for such an improvement was made by the City Council of Long Beach, which body is said to consider the project one of great importance.

Residents of the beach city have urged the extension of the river channel as a means of preventing overflow in the Alamitos Bay district during periods of heavy rain, and also as a measure to insure the use of the bay as a scene of the water sports incident to the Olympic Games in 1932.

Engineer Eaton has estimated that the proposed work would cost $600,000, and the Long Beach Council suggested that the board, by a four-fifths vote, might allot this sum, for the work from the San Gabriel dam fund.

ADDITIONAL COST

In the opinion submitted by the County Counsel's office, however, it is pointed out the San Gabriel dam bonds were voted for the "control and conservation of the flood waters of the San Gabriel Canyon."

The opinion continues that the extension of the river channel from Alamitos Bay to the ocean "would not, in our opinion, aid in the conservation of the waters of San Gabriel Canyon and is not work of a similar character to that for which the bonds were originally voted."

The document concludes with the view that "the San Gabriel dam funds cannot be transferred and made available for the proposed work at the mouth of the San Gabriel River."

While the cost of the proposed improvement at Alamitos Bay is fixed at $600,000, it is said this estimate takes into consideration only the cost of the work itself and does not provide expenses for acquiring a right-of-way for the river channel.

In the opinion of the County Counsel the project cannot be carried out without the voting of a new bond issue.

PASADENA TO START OUTLET TUNNEL TODAY

PASADENA, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—Excavation of an outlet tunnel, the first actual construction on this city's $10,000,000 San Gabriel Canyon water project, will be started tomorrow, it was announced today by Samuel B. Morris, City Water Engineer.

The outlet tunnel will connect the proposed dam reservoir at the Pine Canyon site with the seventeen-mile conduit to be constructed to this city. It will be 1100 feet long and seven and one-half feet in diameter, and will require three months to complete.

ENJOYING PERSECUTIONS

With all their grief and terror, it must be admitted that our little Filipino friends are having a swell time being persecuted—especially those safe in Manila, who can organize "humiliation days" and the like—with no complications in the way of brickbats.

HIRAM'S MELODRAMA

Senator Johnson has joined those who dilate with horror because some little bloodthirsty tramps "consort" with the little brown brothers. Just what is it he sees in these little Filipino boys that make them especially unworthy of feminine society?

NOBODY'S FRIENDS

The present Filipino crisis is suggestive of the old story about the parson in the mining camp. All the boys chipped in to build him a church. The first Sunday he poured down fire and brimstone upon the saloon keepers. After church his horrified head deacon came to him: "Lay off the saloons, parson," he said. "That's where most of the money came from."

The parson apologized and next Sunday lit into the gamblers.

"Well," said the deacon, "now you have spilled the beans for sure; the gamblers built your church."

"Who can I preach about?" asked the bewildered parson.

The deacon thought it over. "If I was you," he said, "I'd light into the heathen; they ain't got no friends."

SNAKES

Dr. Amaral, the great snake expert, says that civilization is not exterminating serpents. Darn good thing it isn't.

My idea of a little playmate is not a rattlesnake; but the balance of wild life is arranged by nature with supreme logic. Experience has shown that wherever man has attempted to abolish a species, the result has been a wreck. There are instances where entire districts — formerly populous—have been devastated by the release of pests formerly kept down by species that bone-headed man has destroyed.

If one could know the whole truth, it is a cinch that the growth of the fruit fly and the boll weevil reaches back to some insect or some animal that man has driven from his job.

WILD GAME HUNTING QUITE TAME

Why, Says Film Director After Making Picture in Africa, Roaring Traffic of Hollywood Offers More Danger and Shooting Cows Would Be as Thrilling

Wild game shooting in darkest Africa is not as wild as it is cracked up to be. In fact there's just about as much danger jay walking in wild Hollywood, and oftimes his impressions yesterday about hunting which, of course, was merely an incidental matter on his trip.

To begin with, Van Dyke wants to admit there is danger. There is it's about as thrilling as going out into a pasture to shoot a cow, according to W. S. Van Dyke, film director, for whom it remained to upset some of the "dope" about this game of hunting in the jungles.

The film director, who recently returned from an expedition into Africa to film "Trader Horn," which turned out to be the longest expedition for the filming of a picture on record, gave some of danger in almost everything, he says. But when hunting wild game under proper guidance and with the proper care the element of danger is negligible.

"In the open shooting wild game is child's play," Van Dyke declared. "We actually filmed a scene showing the principals in our picture chasing two lions with clubs. Marksmen naturally were

GRAY SEES NEW RAIL AGE

Union Pacific President Honor Guest at Annual Banquet of Jonathan Club

The new attitude of the people toward the railroads and of the railroads toward the people was the keynote of an address last night given by Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific system, at the annual dinner of the Jonathan Club, at which he was the honored guest.

Friendly rivalry of the Southern Pacific Company was expressed in a short talk by Paul Shoup, the president, who also paid high compliment to the ability and activities of the honored guest.

CARL R. GRAY

The combination of the sciences with the future operations of railways and the part they have played in the present development were outlined by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the Executive Council of the California Institute of Technology.

Some 400 members of the club gathered for the yearly banquet, which had for its unusual program the chief executives of two of the nation's great transportation lines.

Another speaker was John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who touched on the joint interests of the people of Southern California in the continued development of the railway system, to which he gave credit for the building of this portion of the country.

In introducing Mr. Shoup, who followed Mr. Austin, President Jeffries of the club, called attention to the recommendations that accompanied the application for membership filed in 1911. He said that they have proven true to their fullest extent in the twenty years that have elapsed since they were written.

After a short resume of the affairs of the Jonathan Club during its earlier years, Mr. Shoup gave Nominations must be made in writing to Mr. Sabin at 907 Architects' Building and must be accompanied by photographs of the work nominated.

The honorary awards will be in the nature of engrossed certificates on parchment which will be signed by the national and local officers of the institute. The date of the meeting of the local chapter at which they will be presented has not been definitely fixed. In regard to the awards for architectural work it was announced that separate certificates will be given to the person

ARTIST-DANCER'S LOVE TALE TOLD

Miss Salazar Paints Fervid Courtship of Earle

Vows Taken by Moonlight in Affinity's Garden

Marriage in Mexico Turns Out Trickery, She Says

With her head bowed and her hands folded in her lap, Miss Dolores Salazar, petite Spanish dancer, silently sat in a witness chair yesterday in the courtroom of Superior Judge Archbald while her attorneys read to the jury passionate and poetic love letters written to her by Ferdinand Pinney ("Affinity") Earle, artist, during the heyday of their romance in 1927.

Frequently as the golden days of the courtship were recalled by little intimate passages in the letters, tears trickled down the cheeks of the dancer, who now seeks to collect $30,000, money she asserts Earle promised her in a sort of prenuptial contract. Of the amount $15,000 represents the prenuptial fund and another $15,000 she says the artist promised to set aside for maintenance.

SKYLINE LOVE

After describing a trip with the artist to Mulholland High Way on the night of December 11, 1926, when, she said, the artist made fervent love to her, Miss Salazar's counsel, Attorney I. Bear Newman, asked:

"Was anything said during the evening about making any provision for your future?"

"Yes," answered the witness.

"What did he say?"

"He started to tell me how much he loved me. He said: 'Darling, I want you to give me the great honor of providing for you, to clothe you. I want you to believe in my faith, my love. I will just worship you. I want to put some money in the bank for you. I want you to go with me and see the world.'"

MARRIAGE PLANNED

"Did he tell you when he wanted to marry you?" was the next question put to the dancer by Attorney Newman.

"Yes, he did. He told me he was about free to be married," Miss Salazar explained. "He said he would be free after January 3 and that he wanted to make me his wife."

The little dancer will give more testimony today, after which she will be subjected to cross-examination by Attorneys William B. Ogden and Sam Steelman, representing the artist, who is now in Paris living with Denise Loncin Earle, the French girl he married after separating from Miss Salazar. His side of the case will be presented in depositions.

BACKED BY FAMILY

With Miss Salazar in court are her mother, Mrs. E. M. Salazar and her two sisters, Mrs. Marine Thompson and Miss Rosary Salazar, who will testify for her before the trial is over. Her father, Emanuel Salazar, she said yesterday, is in Central America.

Tears fell from the eyes of the dancer yesterday when she described a "moon" wedding in the garden of the home of the artist in Hollywood.

"He was always waiting for January 3, 1927, when he said he would be free to marry me," Miss Salazar began.

"On the night of December 31, 1926, the last night of the old year, we planned to go to Palm Springs, but little Ivan, son of Earle, was lost. We had to go out to find him. When we found the boy we came home with him and put him to bed. We prayed together.

MOONLIGHT MARRIAGE

"After we put Ivan to bed Mr. Earle took me to the garden and said, 'I love you, oh, Dolores! I love you so much! I want to take you so much. I want to put money in the bank to care for you.' He then produced a Bible, placed my hand on it and his over mine and asked me to repeat what he said, which was, 'Under the eyes of God I promise to take you, Pinney Earle, for my husband.' Then he said, 'This is the first performance of our marriage.'

Late in the day Miss Salazar told of Earle's break with her family and how the artist called on her father in an attempt to appease him because of Earle's relations with her.

"I saw him after the meeting. His face was cut and bleeding. He said, 'I went to your folks and was treated like a dog. I was scratched by that d—— sister, Rosary.'"

SETTLEMENT OFFERED

Miss Salazar then explained that Earle told her he had visited her father and offered to settle $15,000 on her, but his offer was rejected. "My father told him 'my daughter is not for sale.'"

The dancer also told of Earle leaving Los Angeles on February 4, 1927, for Mexico, how he gave her $280 and how she followed him the next day, meeting him at El Paso. Later, she said, they went to Mexico City and went through a marriage ceremony. "We were married by a priest in a black robe with two witnesses present," she said. Later, according to Miss Salazar, Earle told her the "priest" who married them was only a crazy Indian, and that they were not legally married at all. In April, she said, they sailed for France.

LARGE SUM ASKED

Miss Salazar's original complaint asked for $180,000 damages. Of this amount $50,000 was asked for asserted breach of promise to marry her, $30,000 for asserted breach of promise to star her in motion pictures, $50,000 for asserted betrayal and $50,000 for punitive damages.

All of the counts in the complaint were temporarily set aside except the one for $30,000, divided $15,000 for asserted breach of prenuptial contract and $15,000 for asserted breach of a maintenance fund.

Service had been obtained on Earle by the young woman's attorneys, which permitted them to proceed on the count the case now is being tried on. This was accomplished by obtaining an attachment on property owned by the artist in Hollywood, said to be valued at $30,000.

Children Saved When House Burns

Among Participants in Rescues Jean Kelly, crying over ruins of burned kiddie car, with playmate Russell Thompson, standing by, after being saved from fire by valiant work and presence of mind of Mrs. Minnie Hoff (inset.)

WOMAN HEROINE IN BLAZE

Mrs. Minnie Hoff Risks Her Life Repeatedly to Arouse Roomers During Fire

Risking her life repeatedly in her valiant effort to arouse a score of occupants of her rooming-house at 1046 South Westlake avenue after fire had broken out in the old-fashioned two-storied frame dwelling early yesterday morning, Mrs. Minnie Hoff not only was hailed as heroine by her neighbors, but received high tribute for her bravery from Fire Chief Scott.

"Mrs. Hoff showed exceptional courage," the chief declared, "and the dwellers in the rooming house undoubtedly owe their lives to her presence of mind and cool bravery."

TEN CHILDREN SAVED

Among the many persons aroused from their beds by Mrs. Hoff and who were able to escape from the burning building safely were ten children.

It was about 5:30 a.m. when smoke curling up the stairway from the basement, where an overheated water heater had started the fire, seeped into the bedroom in which Mrs. Hoff and her husband, Charles, were sleeping on the lower floor. Aroused by the acrid tang of the smoke and the odor of burning wood, Mrs. Hoff awakened her husband, and both leaped from their bed. While the latter rushed to turn in an alarm to the fire department, Mrs. Hoff ran from room to room arousing the sleeping inmates.

By the time the last of the occupants had safely reached the street flames were roaring up the basement stairways and licking in scorching tongues through the floors of the lower rooms. Both floors of the dwelling were dense with heavy smoke before Mrs. Hoff, like the captain of a vessel, sought safety for herself.

FLAMES CONTROLLED

Four companies of the fire department, arriving at this time, went quickly to work, and attacking the blaze from within and without the building, brought it under control in about half an hour.

Occupants of the building saved by Mrs. Hoff are Mr. and Mrs. Fenton George and their daughter, Dorothy, 5 years of age; W. K. Hannum and his son, William, 17, and daughter, Bell, 12; Mrs. O. Kelly and her sons, Kenneth, 12, and Bon, 8, and daughter, Jean, 3; James Thompson and his son, Russell, 4, Mrs. C. Parker and son, Honey, 5; Mrs. Ann Boord and son, Jimmie, 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Andrews.

Miss Normand to Undergo Blood Operation Today

During the hours of the forenoon today, Miss Mabel Normand, former screen comedienne, who is waging a grim battle against tuberculosis at Pottenger's Sanatorium in Monrovia, will undergo the blood transfusion determined upon several days ago, Dr. F. M. Pottenger said yesterday. Meanwhile she is resting quietly and appeared to be somewhat brighter yesterday, he said, although he added that she is a very sick young woman.

It was first discovered that Miss Normand was suffering with tuberculosis in January of last year, when examinations disclosed the infection in both lungs, and she has been at the sanatorium since March, 1929.

POLICE SAY AUTO RING BROKEN UP

Two Boys Arrested After Spirited Chase and Pair of Companions Seized Later

With the arrest of four youths, resulting from the capture of two of them after a spirited chase, police yesterday expressed the belief they have broken up a ring responsible for numerous recent thefts of automobiles and accessories.

The round-up had its inception at Thirty-seventh street and South St. Andrews Place, when Detective Lieutenants Thorington and Chandler of the Central auto theft detail, gave chase when two of the youths sped past them on a motorcycle going sixty miles an hour. Twenty blocks away the pair abandoned the motorcycle and fled in opposite directions.

Chandler pursued one, catching him a block distant. He gave his name as Alfredo Chavez, 18 years of age, of 225 Macy street. Thorington followed the other, overtaking him finally on the roof of a dwelling at 5210 South Wilton Place, where he had sought refuge. He described himself as Joe Zalasar, 19, of 3714 South St. Andrews Place.

Questioning of the pair then resulted in the implication of Tony Barron, 16, of 402 Beauchet street, and Ralph Murill, whose age and home address were not given.

The arrests, according to the detectives, resulted later in recovery of six assertedly stolen cars, two motorcycles and a large quantity of automobile parts.

IMPROVEMENT ADVANCES

The ordinance of intention for the improvement of Runnymede street from Winnetka avenue to Mason avenue was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

on hand to afford proper protection. The lions didn't turn to attack.

"In nine cases out of ten, jungle beasts will turn into their haunts at the approach of a human and will mind their own business if they are left unmolested.

"In attempting to rout beasts in the thick brush danger lurks on every side. Most generally it is impossible to see an animal in the brush until you walk right upon them. Then he springs and, unless the hunter is alert, it's curtains. As far as the open is concerned, it's like shooting a cow in a pasture."

The buffalo, contrary to belief, is one of the most dangerous animals. The buffalo, Van Dyke asserted, is more likely to charge unprovoked than any other denizen of the jungle. A wounded buffalo is even more dangerous.

The crocodile and the hippopotamus are dangerous in water but on land are meek, he said. Elephants and the rhinoceri seldom charge unless provoked but when they do, he said, the mark must be hit.

Van Dyke led a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company into Africa to film "Trader Horn" with actual backgrounds. He recently arrived with scores of trophies from his expedition.

THE LANCER

our traditions are of Spain. It is a glorious heritage.

No other country in the history of the world has bestowed upon the world such priceless gifts. For two centuries Spain has suffered from the mistake that wrecked Rome—it's act of a king in farming out colonies to "pro-consuls" who were willing to pay.

After the Conquest a hard-up Spanish king sold titles of nobility to mule drivers and petty merchants—and let them get back the money by squeezing Mexico. And for this Spain has paid in blood and tears. But the debt has been paid and a new Spain will rise.

AUNT TO LOOK AFTER AIR-CRASH ORPHANS

Mrs. Lydia C. Bowen of Oakland yesterday went to Superior Judge Crail's court to be appointed guardian of her two nephews, John and Edward J. Bowen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bowen, killed in the T.A.T.-Maddux air liner crash near San Clemente. The boys, both minors, are heirs to bequests of $100,000 each from their father's estate.

CANCER CLINIC TO BE STARTED

Discoverer of New Extract Discusses Plans

Patients Will be Treated at White Hospital

Financial Handicap Stressed in Experimentation

Establishment of a clinic at the White Memorial Hospital further to clinician and experiment with a reliable cancer-destroying extract, discovery of which has aroused interest in the world of medical science, was announced yesterday by Dr. Walter B. Coffey, the discoverer of the treatment.

After conferences with Dr. Percy T. Magan of the hospital and dean of the College of Medical Evangelists, Dr. Coffey announced that establishment of the clinic is under a financial handicap, but, nevertheless, Dr. John D. Humber, his associate in the work, will arrive in Los Angeles Sunday from San Francisco with a supply of the extract as the first step in the clinic's foundation.

NO NEW PATIENTS

Dr. Coffey pointed out clearly that for the time being no new patients will be taken for injection of the extract, but Dr. Humber and Dr. Magan will confine their treatments to those patients already under treatment in Los Angeles.

Dr. Coffey, chief surgeon of the Southern Pacific Company, in whose hospitals at San Francisco the cancer was discovered and developed, will leave today for Stockton and San Francisco.

"Then it's a financial burden entailed in establishing the clinics," Dr. Coffey said. "We have had ample financial offers to place the clinic in New York, but we prefer to keep the work on the Pacific Coast. The White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles will be the center station and the northern extension will be conducted at the University of California Hospital.

TREATMENT FREE

"So money to finance the work has to be had from some philanthropic source. Patients will not be charged for the treatment. That is positive. Ample funds must be provided so hopeless cancer sufferers who are bedridden while they are under treatment."

Dr. Coffey pointed out that the extract from which he says favorable effects have been obtained in such patients who have submitted to the treatments, is yet in the experimental stage and the chief expense at the local clinic will be for laboratory work and for scientific investigation of the many problems that present themselves.

"We are making no claims for our extract as yet, and will not until it has undergone the severest scientific investigation," Dr. Coffey said. "Time will decide the question by laboratory work and clinical experience whether the experiments promise complete success. We hope to have some indications as to the promise in six months or a year after the clinics have been in operation."

NOT A SERUM

Dr. Coffey explained that the extract is not a serum and is not injected into the patient's blood stream. He said it is an extract taken from the cortical substance of the suprarenal glands of young sheep.

"We consider this extract as the active principle of this substance. We started this work in 1921, working on the sympathetic nervous system, believing that somewhere in the body is a vaso-dilator center, which, if it could be found, would stabilize tissue growth."

As far as the experiment has proceeded Dr. Coffey affirms favorable reactions in patients treated up to the point, in some cases, of disintegration of the cancerous growth without destruction or injury to surrounding cells in the normal tissue.

glider from point to point or to set any distance record, glider development having only taken into account the period of time a motorless plane could be kept in the air.

BOWLUS TO BE PILOT

Bowlus will pilot the plane on the distance flight, but he will be assisted in his preparation by Lindbergh and the latter has already helped him in making observations along the contemplated route from Los Angeles to San Diego, which has convinced both of them that such a flight is possible.

It was said today that the flight will be attempted soon after the completion of the experiments and tests now being conducted at the camp, the definite date to be determined by weather conditions. In addition to clear weather a steady inshore wind will be necessary for the success of the attempt. It is not regarded as possible for a glider to negotiate the distance in a beeline, like an airplane, but it is believed that the distance can be covered by tacking in the manner of a sailboat.

'Old Guard' Has Annual Rally

Four hundred members of the "Old Guard" of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation celebrated their eighteenth annual gathering last night at the Biltmore, when a banquet was served. A program of addresses and an initiation were features.

The organization is composed of employees who have been with the company for ten years or longer. W. B. Cline, chairman of the board of directors, is the eldest in point of service with a record of forty years.

The chief event of the night was the initiation of the sixty-one new members eligible to membership this year. This ceremony was conducted by Arthur Malitte.

Nine members were retired on pensions the past year and six members of the association died.

KELLEY PAROLE BEFORE BOARD

Testimony of Mrs. Mellus's Brothers Called For

Opinion of Innocence Used in Reopening Effort

One-to-Ten-Year Sentence Now Being Served

Evidence obtained by the District Attorney's office during a renewed investigation into the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus last November has been forwarded to the California State Prison Board which is asserted to be considering the parole application of Leo Pat Kelley, convicted slayer of Mrs. Mellus, it was disclosed yesterday.

The evidence consisted of reports and signed statements made by two brothers of the slain woman, Clark B. Lewis, of 3520 Maple avenue, and George M. Lewis of Long Beach. The two brothers' statements were taken last November. At that time they declared that from what they knew of Mrs. Mellus and Kelley, they were certain that he had not killed her.

After reviewing the evidence, however, Wayne K. Jordan, assistant chief deputy District Attorney, declared that it was not of sufficient weight to warrant a reopening of the case. The matter was then filed only to be brought to official notice again by the request of the Prison Board for the statements.

Mrs. Mellus was slain in her luxurious Wilshire home in 1928. Kelley, her asserted sweetheart, was found hiding in a closet a few hours later and arrested, tried and convicted of the murder. He was sentenced to be hanged, but through an appeal succeeded in having the crime fixed at manslaughter instead of first-degree murder. He now is under sentence for a term of from one to ten years' imprisonment.

Long Beach to Vote on Bonds

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Feb. 5. (Exclusive) Authorization of $3,400,000 worth of bonds is to be voted on at an election April 1, it was decided tonight by the board of directors of District No. 2, Metropolitan Sewer System, in calling a special election.

The bond sale is to raise funds for trunk lines and the district's share of the outfall. The district includes Long Beach and Signal Hill.

MISSING MOTHER CASE PROVES LEGAL PUZZLE

While detectives continued their search for the real mother of Virginia Juanita Dean, a month-old baby, whose custody is being sought by two foster mothers, H. J. Scott, deputy District Attorney in charge of the case, announced last night that he is still undecided as to whether a crime has been committed.

It is charged by Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Vollmer of 206-B West Maple street, Glendale, that they obtained custody of the baby through Mrs. Lillian Herrera, who also sold them $100 worth of baby furniture. At that time Mrs. Herrera said her daughter was the baby's mother.

A few days later Mrs. Herrera obtained custody of the baby, stating that her daughter wished to see it again before signing adoption papers. The child was never returned, the Vollmers charge.

When questioned by Marjorie Fairchild and James Smith, District Attorney's investigators, Mrs. Herrera denied that her daughter, Margaret Knepper, is the mother of the child. Miss Knepper also denied that the baby is hers.

Mrs. Herrera declares the child was given to her by a Mrs. Mary G. Dean of Long Beach, but officers were unable to find any trace of the family at the addresses given by Mrs. Herrera.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Scott, the baby probably will be placed in the custody of the Children's Home Finding Society unless its real parents can be found.

Larger Screen Plan Welcomed

The new wide film and screen is welcomed by theater men, according to Meredith Fulton, production manager of Fashion Pictures, Inc., makers of the Fashion News Reel, who yesterday returned from a trip around the country.

The coming of the new size screen and film will cost each exhibitor from $5000 to $10,000, Fulton said, but yet they welcome this expense. Fulton says they learned from their experience with the new talking picture device, and expense attendant, to welcome this extra cost because with it comes an improvement which stimulates patronage to an extent more than compensating for the added cost of showing.

General Motors Executive Sees Business Gain

Although the American public may not be aware of the fact, it has answered the question of automobile manufacturers as to what is in store in 1930.

Bernard G. Kosther, director of the sales section of the General Motors Corporation of Detroit, yesterday at the Ambassador said that public interest in the New York and Chicago automobile shows exceeded that manifested last year and gives assurance of a good year for automobile manufacturers.

Trucks Burn in Garage Blaze

Flames last night destroyed five delivery trucks in the garage at the rear of the Riverview Laundry, 451 San Fernando Road. The garage also was partly destroyed, the total damage being estimated at $35,000. The fire's origin had not been determined late last night.

LEGION'S OPPOSITION TO AIR PORT DENIED

Denial that the County Council of the American Legion is opposed to a county air port at El Monte was made in a letter to the County Board of Supervisors by C. C. McConegal, Commander, yesterday. The denial was made in reply to a letter sent to the Supervisors by three members of the Legion as individuals protesting against the proposed airport.

PRISONER IN TRAIN LEAP RECAPTURED

Deputy Matches Jump at Pomona as Man Makes His Attempt Wearing Leg Iron

Although weighted down with thirty pounds of leg irons, James Homer Harrison, charged with grand theft, yesterday made an unsuccessful attempt to escape by leaping from a moving train at Pomona en route to Los Angeles, the bid for freedom being blocked by his captor, who also jumped from the train and covered him with a gun before he had time to scramble to his feet and flee.

Details of the daring break were revealed by O. E. Bodell, representative of the Seaboard Surety Company, on his arrival here with the prisoner.

Bodell, acting as special deputy, was returning Harrison from Tulsa, Okla., to face arraignment in Superior Court on a grand-theft charge involving the asseredly fraudulent sale of automobile contracts.

According to Sheriff's office records, Harrison was arrested in July, 1929, by Deputy Sheriffs Willey and Pennywith and the following month was bound over for trial under $2000 bond. Pending the setting of a trial date he fled the State but was returned in October, again obtaining his release under bond, and again disappearing, according to the report.

Today's Bible Text

Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.—Acts iii:22.

THE ANNUAL QUIZ

The income tax blanks will be in circulation in a few days. This may help take the place of the cross-word puzzle for the time being.

THE SKY TRADE

Planes of the Boeing Company covered more than 3,600,000 aerial miles last year and also moved over a thousand tons of mail. This is just another item to prove our sky progress. It represents an increase of more than 40 per cent within the span of a year.

GUESS AGAIN

Few people understand the why or wherefore of the majorities in the Planning Commission and the City Council favoring the special zoning of a choice residence section to admit the construction of a cement plant. They do not understand, but they guess. The sad thing is that they make the same guess.

FINANCIAL PROBLEM

County employees in Chicago are being urged to accept a 20 per cent cut in their pay. As the county is millions of dollars in the hole and there are no pay checks in sight for months the cut wouldn't mean much anyhow, but it is represented that pay would be quicker and more certain were the reduction agreed to. But it is hard to slash wages in political circles.

MORE HOME BREW

The wife of the prohibition director at Washington is said to have introduced a cocktail that has found favor in society at the capital, although it is innocent of alcoholic contamination. Mostly it seems to consist of seedless grapes chopped finely in a liberal bath of iced grape juice. It savors of California all right, but it is hoped that fermentation has been provided against at every turn of the road.

COLLEGE BUNKO

One of the Stanford officials seems to be a bit sore about the movies. He thinks that most of the films made about college life absolutely fail to catch the atmosphere. In other words, they are the bunk. He doesn't want the picture companies to invade Stanford or seek to use its classic purlieus for filmization. If they want a college comedy let them go to Yale or Harvard and see what happens. So far as he is concerned Stanford is out of the picture.

CONGRESSIONAL CRITICS

United States Senators cannot comprehend an official commission working without the accompaniment of a brass band and a group of high-powered press agents. That is why some of the Senators want to have frequent reports from the commissioners named by President Hoover to study crime conditions and law enforcement all over the land. On the face of things here are matters calculated to keep a flock of researchers busy for many a day. The best that any one of the commissioners could do would be to report that there is a great deal of crime and not enough law enforcement, but that wouldn't mean anything. At best the commissioners have no authority to act. They can't stop crime by waving their hands. They can't even pass a law to punish murder. They can't chase the bootleggers across the border. But they can gather a mass of information; they can study crime causes and consequences and they can make recommendations that may be the basis for future action. But to say that they must make public their findings from day to day and see to it that no illicit liquor enters the market is preposterous. Continued publicity—of the political type—would be calculated to impair the serious work of the commission. They do not subpoena a flock of casuals who are suspected of criminal knowledge and then question them over the radio to the accompaniment of a jazz orchestra and a group of space writers. There is a hope and assurance that they will do better than that. There are several fact-finding commissions at work. Let them proceed without overmuch Senatorial harrying.

A BLOW AT MEXICO

A blow, luckily abortive, at the stability and progress of Mexico was struck yesterday when a youth, said to have been a Vasconcelos adherent, made an attempt on the life of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio shortly after the latter's inauguration at Mexico City. Fortunately, the new Executive is reported not seriously injured. Should the assassin have succeeded, a new period of turmoil and dissension might have followed.

President Ortiz Rubio goes into office on a wave of high hopes and good wishes and with much apparently in his favor. He gives promise of being an excellent executive, well qualified by education, training and experience for a difficult post, and the men he has selected to govern with him are such as to command confidence.

Threats of the Vasconcelists, who mustered a mere handful of votes at the election of last fall, apparently were not taken with sufficient seriousness and it is evident the police in a recent round-up did not get all the conspirators.

President Ortiz Rubio may, or may not, be the best man to handle the destinies of Mexico for the next few years, but Mexico could only be injured, and that seriously, through his assassination. It is to be hoped that the firing of these shots is not a prelude to other revolutionary, or counter-revolutionary, efforts, since the great needs of Mexico are tranquillity and stability.

These, in spite of yesterday's near-tragedy, it still has excellent prospects of enjoying. President Portes Gil handed over to his successor a nation in which, to all appearances, a respected government was well established. The church controversy had been settled; the military cliques worsted; the country seemed to be on a better basis than at any time in a decade so far as the probability of revolt was concerned. It was generally considered that only the problems of construction and reconstruction confronted the new executive.

These were difficult enough, since there was much to do and not enough to do with. The continued slump in oil and the recent fall in the price of silver made precarious the national revenues and enforced a continued program of economy; but on the other hand a great increase in tourist travel was furnishing at least a temporary basis for prosperity which industrial development might make permanent.

This development President Ortiz Rubio promised yesterday in his inaugural address, together with education and liberalization. To what extent this program has been upset by the bullets sped in his direction remains to be seen.

The new President also laid special emphasis upon good relations with the United States, a sentiment in which his sincerity cannot be doubted. The sentiment is reciprocated here and will be backed up substantially. Mexico needs stability and capital, and if the new President can guarantee the former Americans will provide the latter.

His recent declaration that agricultural lands taken by the government under its agrarian program will be paid for at fair value and in cash is a heartening sign. Heretofore the bonds issued for expropriated land have been somewhat difficult to dispose of.

Of his new Cabinet, Secretary of the Treasury Montes de Oca, Secretary of War Amaro and Secretary of Foreign Relations Estrada are carried over from the last administration. Former President Portes Gil is in the Interior Department. Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, Manuel Perez Trevino, Luis Leon and Aaron Saenz are all well known in Mexican affairs and the other new men in the Cabinet seem to be of high standing.

All in all, but for his wounding, which it is to be hoped will prove an incident of minor significance, the new President of Mexico has had a good start and the whole United States will wish him luck.

THE CHICAGO DICTATORSHIP

Spain has lost a dictator, but there is no net change in the number of dictatorships the world supports, since another has bobbed up in one of the most unlikely of places, an American city. Constitutional government has been suspended in Chicago and a committee has taken charge, at least of finances. The occasion is not without its humor. There was an enormous amount of humor particularly, though of the unconscious variety, in the announcement by a member of Mayor Thompson's Cabinet when the dictatorship was first proposed.

He said the Thompson administration would never accept it because it "would destroy the confidence of the people in their elected officials!"

However, the Thompson administration, protesting that it would never yield, has surrendered horse, foot and guns, being wholly without cash or any means of getting any. Some of the heavier Chicago taxpayers will advance money on tax warrants to oil the more essential places in the government machinery. But they will pick out the places where the oil is to be applied and will say which wheels shall move and which shall stand during the next several months. The dictatorship, or receivership, or whatever the arrangement may be called, will last until the Chicago tax muddle can be straightened out, the new assessment is completed and taxes can legally be collected.

Not only has Chicago been completely broke, but the pinch has been felt by the whole State of Illinois, since the State taxes in Chicago have not been collected either. The moving in of Gov. Emmerson and the pressure he was able to bring upon Mayor Thompson doubtless had a good deal to do with the capitulation.

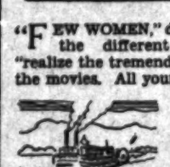
Under the circumstances, even Mayor Thompson must be beginning to wonder if the administration of Chicago affairs by King George would have been such a bad thing after all.

BIGGEST BOOTLEGGER

Evanston claims the dubious honor of having jailed the biggest bootlegger in America. He stands very high in the community at that—in fact, he is six feet five inches tall and weighs 402 pounds. Ordinarily that would sound like work for the Coast Guard. Yet he was brought in by one dinky little cop. You never can tell.

LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey



"FEW WOMEN," declares our friend, the different publicity man, "realize the tremendous debt they owe the movies. All your life you've heard that the American husband is the best in the world, but have you noted that even he has improved 300 per cent since motion pictures became so popular? Not only is he more generous, more considerate and more gentlemanly, but he is better dressed, more careful of his personal appearance and of all the 'little things' of life. He knows that if he isn't he will suffer by comparison with his wife's favorite movie hero.

"Edna Ferber, in 'The Show Boat,' told how the drab lives of women in the river towns were momentarily brightened by the passing of the show boat. For a while they forgot their husbands, who sat around home collarless and shoeless, and got a thrill of romance from the dashing, gallant, handsome, dressed-up hero of the show. Now motion pictures take that thrill of romance every day of the week to every corner of our country. The combined fan mail of the leading picture heroes from women like that runs into hundreds of thousands of letters a week. Every schoolgirl knows how a romance-inspiring man ought to look and act and cherish his code. And, consciously or unconsciously, the men are striving to live up to the higher standards. Thus Hollywood, more than any other community, is improving the world."

Our High-Hat Barbers

An English actor who recently came to Hollywood is fussy about how he is barbered—he wants just so many hairs of just such a length to show in his lip eyelash.

In a shop on Hollywood Boulevard he found one barber who satisfied him, and only one. For several days he dropped in daily to be serviced by that barber, but then did not appear for three days. Then he called the barber by telephone.

"I've been wanting to get around to see you for days," said the actor. "But I have the flu and cawn't get out. Cawn't you toddle over here this evening?"

"Say, old man, I sure appreciate the invitation," said the barber, "and so'll the missus. But I'm afraid we can't this evenin'. Our social calendar's awful full."

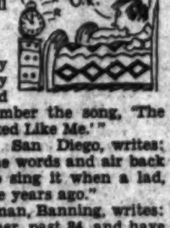
Advantages Los Angeles Offers

Lee: I see by The Times that more medical students are enrolled in Los Angeles than anywhere else in California. I hope this isn't because a lot of them are studying to become psychiatrists.—M. T. Head.

Best Daylight-Saving Plan We Know

Mrs. Katherine C. Meyer, who lives on a 30,000-acre ranch near Culiacan, Mex., writes us of how they've whipped the time problem there. They start every day at 6 a.m.—but when they happen to sleep till 9:00 they just turn back the clock to 6:00, when they get up, and everything works out on schedule. In other words, they make time serve them instead of serving time, yet live a full day every day.

It's easy to do, too—if you live on a 30,000-acre ranch and are monarch of all you survey.



Telltale Songs

The other day we asked "if any reader was old enough to remember the song, 'The Fellow Who Looked Like Me.'"

Fred S. Slade, San Diego, writes: "This brought the words and air back to me. I used to sing it when a lad, sixty to sixty-five years ago."

And C. A. Dorman, Banning, writes: "I am an old-timer, past 84, and have not thought of that song for many years." But he, like Mr. Slade, shows much better memory than ours by recalling the song complete.

Golly! It looks as if we've gone and given away our age!

But There Are Plenty of Drops

Lee: It may be that all the world's a stage, but I notice that all the reformers haven't managed to equip it with wings.—S. H.

The Greatest Need

Leeside: One of the Hollywood banks advertises: "Get a head in 1930." I think that's what most of us need, don't you?—Dorothy Spensley.

Yes, indeed. We often feel the lack of one.

"Excelsior"

The hour of noon was fading fast,
As in a "filling station" passed
A maid, who bore upon a plate,
Stuff which the hungry patrons ate.
I saw the brown and wisp-like shred.
And asked her what it was. She said:
"Excelsior!"

"Oh, stay!" I cried. "What is the best
The house affords to give me zest?
My system is run down! I need
To have some sort of change in food.
What do you think I'd better try?"
The girl responded with a sigh:
"Excelsior!"

And now, when I get "off my feed,"
Or when my tummy feels the need
Of something that will tone me up,
I seek the pure-food joint to sup.
There, with a keen delight, I hail
That stuff they bring on by the bale—
"Excelsior!"

E. A. BRININSTOOL

AT THEIR MAXIMUM USEFULNESS

Whether the rule of seniority is the best one to follow or whether the expectation of life should not also be taken into account, in the choice of a head for an important institution, is the problem posed for the Protestant Episcopal Church by the death of Rt. Rev. Charles Palmerson Anderson, its presiding bishop. On the death of Bishop Murray last October a special election was necessary to appoint his successor and now in February another such convocation will have to be called to elect a new primate. Bishop Leonard of Ohio is through seniority the next in order for this exalted position, and he, too, is well advanced in years.

Everyone who knew the late Bishop Anderson recognizes that for ability, zeal and the record of good work accomplished, he was spiritually and mentally the ideal leader for such an organization as the Protestant Episcopal Church. There is no reason to doubt that Bishop Leonard would prove a worthy successor. But since the Episcopal church is a business as well as a religious institution the disruption that must occur in a too-frequent changing of heads must also be taken into consideration.

It is an unfortunate provision of nature that many men at their maximum usefulness to society in other regards are often far beyond their best physically. Some men, it is true, in their mid-sixties have a better life expectancy than others at the half-century mark. Every institution, especially those devoted to education or religion, needs the advice and assistance of these veterans of tried experience. Yet perhaps it would be as well if the tests employed by the life insurance companies were also applied to candidates for high posts where so much depends on a continuity of policy in handling the requirements of many and widely scattered communities.

MAJORING IN YOUTH

While Los Angeles is gingerly given fifth place in population by statisticians in the East, Los Angeles ranks third in the number of youngsters attending her public schools, according to Maj. Robert A. Gibbs of the Page Military Academy. He got his figures from the Superintendent of Public Instruction in each State.

New York has 1,082,999 boys and girls in her public schools; Chicago, 625,751; Los Angeles, 364,633. Then follow Philadelphia, which surpasses us in population, with 355,469; Detroit, 235,351. Cleveland trails with 177,214 and Boston, 165,975.

In California San Francisco has 82,075; Oakland, 61,910; Berkeley, 20,117. Los Angeles has more than twice the school census of San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley combined. Long Beach has 37,694; San Diego, 31,859 and Pasadena, 25,485. If Los Angeles were to include all the various census claims of contiguous towns, as is sometimes done in the Bay region, her size would be more impressive still.

And yet somebody says that Los Angeles is the haven of old age!

It may be kindly to the aged; but it certainly majors in youth. It begins to dawn that Southern California is more a theater of action than an asylum or old folks' home. The Chamber of Commerce is no old man's club.

NOTE OF WARNING

The Attorney-General appears to be suspicious of the trust-forming propensities of the movie magnates. At any rate he has invited the Fox and Warner interests to free themselves of their holdings in other picture corporations. He estimated that they had reached the point where they were controlling about 60 per cent of the total screen production of the country. He proposes to see what the antitrust law can do about it.

HOMES, SWEET HOMES

By James J. Montague

I agree with the late Mr. Payne
That, though amid pleasures we roam,
We always are seeking in vain
For a spot that is like homes, sweet home.
Though I've wandered far over the earth,
The means of existence to earn,
To the lowly thatched cot of my birth
I always would gladly return.
But the more of the world I'm permitted to view
The more I'm convinced that one home is too few.

I would like to reside on the Nile
In a palm-shaded shack of my own,
Or to live on a green little isle
With sheltering pines overgrown.
A flat near the Rue de la Paix,
Or a tent where the Bedouin roams;
I should be quite content could I stay
In sixty or seventy homes.
And then, when I felt I had got in a groove
I'd pack my belongings and family and move.

I notice that people whose wants
Are supplied by the lucre they've won
Do not stick very long in the haunts
Where their eyes first looked up at the sun.
In West End apartments or suites,
In Cairo or Nice or Bombay,
In snow-clad Sierra retreats
You will find them from day unto day.
Where the mountains loom blue, or the lacy surf foams,
I would fain sing the song of my dear Homes, Sweet Homes.

PAST CALIFORNIA RACE RIOTS

BY J. M. SCANLAND

Before the Chinese Exclusion Act there was the same race feeling against the Chinese that seems to exist now against the Filipinos in Watsonville and other points in Northern California. There were "riots" in many sections of the State, but the most noted was that in the early seventies in Los Angeles. There were nineteen Chinese killed, nine of them hanged; the Chinese quarter was looted of about $40,000 in cash, the stores were plundered and our government paid the Chinese an indemnity of $500,000. The second riot occurred two decades later, but was suppressed by the drastic action of Chief of Police John Glass before the mob could begin its work of plundering and murdering.

Like the Watsonville affair, the murderer had been found and threatened to storm the jail. The Chief placed twenty men in front of the jail, armed with rifles, and dispersed the mob.

An hour later the Chinaman was found dead in his cell—his queue tightly drawn around his neck. He had heard the yells of the mob, and in fright, strangled himself to death.

A Plea For Harmony

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is absolutely no truth in the report that a plot of Filipinos, Los Angeles Filipinos involved, to set fire to the United States Army post at Monterey and steal guns and ammunitions was made at a meeting of Filipinos in Salinas.

Local Filipinos are calm and are doing all they can to abate this trouble peacefully and amicably. They know that Americans as a whole are not to blame for these atrocious acts instigated by some unscrupulous and unrepresentative type of Americans.

They trust in American justice and sense of fair play and that local papers will not flare up in sensational headlines these regrettable events. We plead with you to subdue this trouble instead of aggravating it.

THE FILIPINO YOUTH,
Amado E. Dino, Editor.

For Value Not Received

PASADENA, Feb. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Regarding the cutting down of the salary of the City Engineer, I most heartily approve of the same. There are few of the city's employees who are not getting too much money. When you consider the horde of expert engineers and geologists who have been employed by the city and county to pass judgment on the big dam on the San Gabriel, at $100 per day, only to have the whole thing abandoned, it makes one believe that about $100 a year would be the proper salary for the whole bunch. It would be interesting to the taxpayers to know the total amount this fiasco has cost the people. Myself and other taxpayers pay the freight. EUGENE BASSETT.

Let There Be Light

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just finished reading the usual account of hold-ups and attacks on Los Angeles citizens, in which the victims were mostly women.

I think one reason there is so much of this sort of thing here is because of the poorly lighted streets. There is not a well-lighted street in any residential section of the city. I don't understand why this condition is allowed to exist without protest.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Machine Hemstitching?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Free training in the use of various sewing-machine attachments is given at the Roosevelt Evening High School, 450 South Fickett street, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings 7 to 9. The workroom is well lighted and thoroughly equipped with all types of power, electric and foot pedal machines. Attachments taught to students include hemstitching, overlock, plain and single needle and tucking. Suggestions for securing positions are offered, as well as hints for success in securing promotions.

Those who cannot come every evening may arrange with the instructor for certain hours and evenings. Practical business methods are in use in this class at all times, for the teacher is Miss Florence Steinberg, an experienced forelady from a St. Louis clothing factory.

BABEL TODAY

World conferences and international radio hook-ups bring home to us as never before the need of a universal language or the necessity of acquiring at least five languages. True, there are those who prophesy that if we wait long enough we shall hear English spoken all over the world. Others still endeavor to blow life into the dry bones of the made language "Esperanto." Meantime an article by Harold Callender in the New York Times tells us that there are not less than 1500 languages known in the world and that 120 of these are spoken in Europe. Philologists are proposing a language census. Measured by the number of people who speak a language Chinese is first of all living languages, English second, Russian third, German fourth, Spanish fifth, Japanese sixth, Bengali seventh, French eighth and Italian ninth. One is reckless and unheeding as he swings along the path, he is dodging, he is speeding, causing forty kinds of wrath. And the people by the grottoes, in the dingle and the glen, say, "These people driving autos should be herded in a pen." Ninety-nine are strictly sober as they drive along the trail; they're not full o' beer in October, or the other brands of ale. They have sipped no shots of whisky, they'd consider that a sin, they are not unduly frisky as a consequence of gin. One is loaded up with bitters, he is loaded to the tiles, and he maims some human critters as he hits up sixty miles. And the delegates surviving cry aloud: "Ah, woe is me! All these people who are driving should be on the gallows-tree!"

Charge of Blocking Street Brought by Police

Fines of $25 or Five Days in Jail Prescribed

Mexican Consulate Paraders Among Sentenced

Twenty-one admitted Communists, found guilty by juries of blocking the sidewalks, were fined $25 each with the option of spending five days in jail each by Municipal Judge Sheldon yesterday.

Twelve of the defendants, Mrs. Jessie Silverman, Plato Phillips, Judge L. Davidson, Isadore Brooks, Benjamin Lavine, Bernard Moore, Mrs. Anna Raymer, Mrs. Bertha Tarsh, Mrs. Rose Cominksar, Benjamin Faber, Leon Mabille and Jacob Rosen, were arrested by police as an unit, while parading in front of the Mexican Consulate at Second and Hill streets as a protest against the action taken by the Mexican government against Communists.

Five others, according to witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Burnsday, were arrested after being ejected from a meeting at 233 Brooklyn avenue the 3rd inst., which they attempted to break up by heckling the speaker, who was delivering an address on "The Fate of the Jews Under Soviet Rule." After leaving the hall they congregated near its entrance and refused to disperse, police declared, until after a battle in which the officers were bitten and slapped by several of the women present. Those found guilty and sentenced by Judge Sheldon were Mrs. Rose Spector, Mrs. Dina Bayuse, Nathan Olinsberg, Helen Leisty, Leon Mabille, Louis Shneiderman, Lewis Slimnow, Shusto Yanaguchi and Bakunin Hidago.

Six persons, arrested inside the hall, are on trial before Judge Sheldon on charges of disturbing a public meeting. They are Mrs. Lillian Silverman, Morris Popoff, Thomas Ray, John W. Ooolikov, Isadore Brooks and Mrs. Evelyn Martin. Their trial, unfinished last night, will be resumed this morning and will be followed by trials of four other persons arrested at the same time on other charges.

Husband Accused of Making Proposal for Trial Separation

Having heard of trial marriages, Harold E. Pinner decided to essay a trial separation, it appears from Mrs. Fern June Pinner's divorce suit on file yesterday.

But Mrs. Pinner objected to the trial and when her husband told her she had to leave him she sued for a divorce. Pinner told friends he didn't have to work when his wife had a job, according to her complaint, and kissed a girl friend at a party, his wife said.

MOVEMENT FOR RECALL LISTS EIGHT

Bell Supporters in City Council Target in Effort of Developers' Body

Recall of eight City Councilmen who voted for the Alphonso Bell rock-crushing permit was asked yesterday by a group assembled by the Developers' Association at the Elite. Money was raised at the meeting for the printing and circulating of petitions seeking the recall of Councilmen Ernest L. Webster, Virgil A. Martin, Charles A. Holland, A. E. Henning, Howard Davis, E. Snapper Ingram, Robert L. Burns and J. C. Barthel. The petitions will be circulated within a few days, it was announced by J. A. Quinn, chairman of the association.

Resolutions were adopted asserting that there is substantial evidence to show that the eight Councilmen "secretly agreed between themselves to stand together and support the schemes of certain special interest groups that are against the best interest of the city as a whole, and that in consideration of campaign support . . . the above named Councilmen have conspired with . . . Alphonso Bell, Samuel Traylor and Chapin A. Day, all multimillionaires, to grant this group a special spot zoning permit to crush and ship . . . from the high-class residential section of Santa Monica, limestone and rock for cement . . .

The resolutions accuse the eight Councilmen of refusing a fair hearing to property owners.

AIR FIELD PRESIDENT ARRESTED

Homer R. Weber Accused by Officers of Flying Too Low Over Culver City

Homer R. Weber, president of the Spartan Air Field, yesterday was booked by Culver City police on charge of violating the California Aeronautic Act section forbidding low flying and stunting.

Weber, who lives at 2827 Prospect avenue, Culver City, and who is a pilot, said that he took a flight over Culver City yesterday afternoon and that possibly he flew too low. On landing at his field he was taken in custody by Officers Stoughton and Baird of the University division. They had been sent to the field following a request from Police Chief Hendry and Police Commissioner Hodgett of Culver City. Spartan Field is at 2801 Clyde avenue.

The Los Angeles policemen turned Weber over to Culver City police at the University station. Weber was taken to Culver City and booked. Chief Hendry and Commissioner Hodgett said that they had received complaints from residents of Culver City that Weber's plane had been flying too low over that community.

JURY GOES TO HOTEL FOR NIGHT

Fate of Three ex-Officers Remains Undecided After Four Hours' Deliberation

After four hours of deliberation, the members of the jury which heard evidence against M. B. Sheffield, Roscoe Washington and Richmond Dunn, former Los Angeles police officers accused of bribery, last night were taken to their hotel. They had failed to reach a verdict at 9:30 o'clock.

The entire morning session was occupied by Tom White, attorney for Sheffield, in an argument summing up the evidence presented in behalf of the defendants.

E. J. Dennison, who with William McKay is prosecuting the case, made the closing argument for the District Attorney's office.

During the trial the prosecutors introduced testimony intended to prove that bootleggers in the Central-avenue district had been afforded protection by the three colored police officers. The indictment accused them of accepting bribes from a bootlegger to refrain from arresting him on a charge of violating the Wright Act.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Aged Man; Six Others Hurt

Injured by a hit-and-run driver last night, Charles Miller, 75 years of age, of 630 Crocker street, died after being taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Miller was crossing at Alameda and Second streets, when he was knocked down by a motorist who drove on without stopping.

Struck by an automobile while crossing at Virgil avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard, Mrs. Mary Linda Hughes, 60, of 1118 North Westmoreland Place, was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and from there to General Hospital, where she is reported in a serious condition. The car, according to a police report, was driven by Mrs. V. V. Brown of 3627 South Vermont avenue.

Two men are in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with injuries that may prove fatal, and which were sustained when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole at Alameda street and Vernon avenue. They are John Alfaro, 21, of 2431 East Washington street, and Arturo Rodriguez, 25, of 2978 East Twenty-fifth street.

Three sisters were injured, two of them seriously, when their automobile was struck by another car and jammed against three parked machines in front of 704 East Sixty-second street. They are Evelyn, Lewella and Christine Jordan, 20, 14 and 17, respectively, of 135 East Sixty-fifth street.

WOMAN SONG WRITER GETS INJUNCTION

Composer Would Prevent Studio's Lyricist from Marketing Her Work

Cecile Arnold, composer of the music of the song, "Beautiful Sweetheart," yesterday obtained a temporary injunction in Superior Judge Gates's court, to prevent Joe Seltman, lyrics writer at the Universal Studios, from marketing her song.

Miss Arnold, who says she is the only woman song writer now in Hollywood, asserted in her complaint that she submitted her composition to the Universal Studios last August and that they agreed to accept it if Seltman should be allowed to change it somewhat.

Later, when Miss Arnold started to sell her song to another motion-picture corporation, Seltman interposed a claim to it, she says, and interfered with her selling the piece.

GLAB'S WIDOW AIDS INQUIRY

Woman Offers to Submit to Questioning on Murder; "Tia Juana Kid" Denies Seeing Pistol

Mrs. Hazel Glab, widow of John R. Glab, wealthy retired druggist who was mysteriously murdered almost two years ago, notified Capt. Cato of the police homicide detail yesterday that she is in Los Angeles and that she will submit to questioning in the new investigation into the death of her husband. According to Cato, Mrs. Glab called him on the telephone and offered to go to the Central Police Station.

"I informed her I did not want to talk to her at this time, but requested that she keep in touch with me," Cato asserted.

Mrs. Glab did not reveal her present residence, but Cato believes she is living in a hotel in Hollywood.

CREASON QUESTIONED

The only other development in the investigation yesterday was the receipt by Capt. Cato of a letter from the police of Oklahoma City, who had been requested to interview Manley Creason, formerly known in Los Angeles as the "Tia Juana Kid," as to his knowledge of the case.

According to the statement given by Creason to the Oklahoma police, he knew Mrs. Glab before Glab's murder and with several girls had visited her at the Glab home. Once, according to the statement, Mrs. Glab visited him at his hotel. He denied he ever saw a pistol of the size of the one with which Glab was killed.

DETECTIVES ASSIGNED

A special detail of detectives has been assigned by Cato to continue the investigation.

W. R. McIntyre, the former policeman who had been drawn into the Glab murder investigation through his friendship with Mrs. Glab, was arraigned on the charge of murder before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday. The charge grew out of a hit-and-run accident in which Mrs. Margaret Towers was killed on New Year's Day. Miss Ruby Burroughs, who was in the car with McIntyre, was released by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office, after she had told the details of the accident. McIntyre's bail was fixed at $25,000.

BEKINS BACK FROM BILOXI CONVENTION

Milo Bekins, president of the Bekins Van and Storage Company, has just returned from the national furniture warehousemen's convention at Biloxi, Miss., with the news that the outlook for the furniture warehouse industry is better for 1930 than it was at the beginning of 1929. Conditions of the industry are improving all over the nation, according to Mr. Bekins's report, and many of the companies have added new equipment. A number of topics of interest, in the way of improved public service, were discussed at the meeting, and Mr. Bekins stated that the members of the association are putting increasing confidence in the power of advertising, and especially newspaper advertising. The Bekins Van and Storage Company, whose furniture depositories serve the principal Pacific Coast cities, feels that its most valuable advertising medium is the newspaper.

Invitations are being issued by Mr. and Mrs. John Beisel Smiley of San Diego for the marriage of their attractive daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stuart Henley, to Walter Hamlin Dupee, Jr., the ceremony to take place Tuesday, the 25th inst., at 4 o'clock at their home Dias Felices.

After an extended wedding trip Mr. Dupee will bring his bride to make their home at 240 South Orange Drive, Hollywood, where they will be at home after March 1.

Mr. Dupee is the only son of Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee of Coronado.

Felicitations

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Palmer Hill of 2001 North Hobart Boulevard, are receiving congratulations over the arrival Saturday of a tiny son, who has not yet been named. Mrs. Hill will be remembered as Miss Helen Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Hodges of 2007 North Hobart Boulevard.

Week-end Outing

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Crowell of 7021 Hollywood Boulevard, who have been early winter guests at Casa de Manana, in La Jolla, entertained as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Deardorff of South Hobart Boulevard, who motored down and were honor guests at a dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Crowell entertained Saturday evening.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Estes, 149 South Mansfield avenue, entertained Friday evening at the Mary Louise with a lovely dinner party for their attractive young daughter, Miss Katherine Estes, the occasion celebrating her thirteenth birthday. The long oval table, laid in the Rose Room, was gaily decorated with many bright-hued flowers, burning tapers and French dolls. Many clever favors added to the enjoyableness of the occasion, and a beautifully decorated birthday cake, surmounted with the appropriate number of candles, was a feature of the dinner. The guests included classmates of the young honoree at the Westlake School for Girls, Misses June Simonds, Florence Lotthelf, Susie Mae Lunch, Edna McClain, Elsbeth Hill, Emily Newkirk, Josephine Butler, Nona Gayle Baker, Nancy McKinnie, Elsie Dahlberg, Geraldine Schreiber, Barbara Maier, Elizabeth VerLeyen, Jane Lagenheim, Donna Maguire, Betty Ann Hager, Louise Malone, Gladys Janss, Elizabeth Pallette, Elise Reeder, Margery Jones, Ruth Mason, Patricia Haselrigg, June Morgan, Harriet Ross, Marietta Hibbard, Patricia Lore and Mary Jane Channer. Later Miss Estes and her party attended a performance of "The Cat and the Canary" at the President.

Smart Affair

Graduates of the University of Southern California will be hostesses to the Los Angeles City Club of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority at the chapter house, 643 West Twenty-eighth street, at 2:30 p.m. the 15th inst.

Misses Phyllis Crowley and Catherine O'Connor of the class of '29 at U.S.C. are to be the first hostesses under the new system, which provides for the rotation of hostesses, alumnae from S.C., University of California at Los Angeles and other chapters alternating in planning the affairs. Instead of meeting in private homes, as has been the custom in the past, either the S.C. or U.C.L.A. chapter houses will be the locale of the monthly meetings, thus keeping the alumnae in closer contact with the undergraduates of the universities.

Bridge will be played during the afternoon, followed by refreshments served by the Southern California group.

Afternoon Benefit

Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman are planning a delightful program for Wednesday afternoon, the 19th inst., in the Friday Morning clubhouse, the former to give a reading and the latter to give an account of her 60,000 miles' travel by land and sea, the proceeds to be devoted to the American School in Damascus fund.

Patronesses include Mmes. Chester Wallace Brown, Elizabeth McManus, Sloan Orcutt, Milbank Johnson, John Carruthers, Gordon Wallace Wattles, Edward Ballantine, Willedd Andrews and W. J. Rhodes. Mrs. Rodman is leaving the middle of March for the East, where she is sailing from New York for Europe, planning a trip through Northern Europe into Russia and home by way of the Trans-Siberian Railroad to Korea, Ankor, China and Japan.

For House Guest

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. A. W. Moore, 437 South Kenmore avenue, entertained Friday afternoon in the Rose Room of the Mary Louise, honoring her niece, Miss Katherine Young of Tacoma, Wash., who has been a house guest at the Moore home for the past month. The luncheon table was exquisite in its decorations of early spring flowers and fern, interspersed down the length of the long table with softly glowing whip tapers in silver sticks. Many of the guests included close friends of Miss Young's mother. Those included in the smart affair were Mmes. Oscar A. Trippett, L. L. Tallman, R. P. McReynolds, Robert Granger, Charles E. Vient, W. E. Taylor, A. E. Thompson, J. Harvey McCarthy, Charles Price, W. L. Kuehn, W. Phelps, Charles Bonynge and T. J. Churchill.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Old Card Table

A discarded card table is indispensable in the nursery for a play table. Recover it in oilcloth, which can be cleaned easily, and then spilled paints or any accidents are not fatal. The children will enjoy it thoroughly and they always have a place without mother stopping her work to clear a good table for doubtful use.

When Ironing

Do not pile table napkins and handkerchiefs on top of each other after ironing. Spread them out on a piece of brown paper or clean towel and let them thoroughly dry out before piling them. You will find they will look very much better and stay fresh longer if this is done.

The Refrigerator's Weekly

Friday is a good day to clean the refrigerator. Then it will be ready to receive the food for the week-end. It will also give the housewife a chance to take an inventory of the foods needed and the Saturday list is more likely to be complete.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, enemas, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, stammering, wrong feet, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, steel beds and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered by the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CUP FEEDINGS INTRODUCED EARLY ELIMINATE FUTURE TROUBLE

This department harps to the point of boredom, we sometimes fear, on the advantages of starting new habits before the old ones become firmly established. There is a real advantage in teaching a baby to use a bottle the second or third month of his life before nursing has become so fixed that he refuses food any other way. There is just as great a need to divorce the baby under one year from the bottle habit before that, too, has become a difficult habit to alter. The following letters illustrate my reasons for this insistence better than pages of advice.

Mrs. C. R. F. has a little girl of seventeen months whom she admits is spoiled. "For one thing," this mother says, "she won't even lie down in bed without a bottle. She never takes it except at bedtime. How can I break her of this?

"She is so restless at night and has the bottle in her mouth almost constantly. If I take it away she wakes up. Is this nervousness or just a habit? She wets about every twenty minutes in daytime. Is this natural?"

Now by way of contrast follows this letter from Mrs. F. G.:

"My baby is nearly thirteen months old. When about eight months of age I started feeding him by cup at all but the night feedings. At nine and one-half months I took the bottle away. He is tucked in at 6:30 and sleeps until 7:30. Has a bath, breakfast of orange juice, oatmeal and a cupful of milk, sometimes buttered toast or zwieback. At noon he has several kinds of vegetables, graham cracker and milk to drink. Sometimes a cracker and milk at 3:30 after his nap, which lasts until then. At night his supper is similar to breakfast. Are there any criticisms?"

None at all, Mrs. F. G. I think everything is just as it should be.

NO NIGHT FEEDINGS AFTER NINE MONTHS

Now for Mrs. C. R. F.'s problems. The bottle habit is just a habit and not nervousness. There is undoubtedly some degree of undernourishment or even some rickets present since the child is unable to sleep through the night. No child past one year of age, often not beyond eight of nine months, needs a night feeding. If he does, something is wrong with the daytime feedings or with his general condition.

Please write me and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope so I can send you our leaflets on "Cup Feeding" and on "Feeding." Meanwhile stop the bottle, as nothing at all is gained by continuing it. If the child doesn't drink milk in daytime use it in the solid foods, giving eggs, meat, cottage cheese, milk soups, milk puddings, milk in and over the cereal and on vegetables. This will use up from one pint to a quart a day and give the child plenty of nourishment. Have an examination to see that everything is all right otherwise. You did not mention the child's weight or present way of feeding, so it is hard to judge all that might be wrong.

Frequent wetting is quite natural with children.

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

SOME QUOTATIONS ON HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Health and happiness are two problems which confront everyone, and it is always refreshing to read the opinions of thinkers on these subjects. Here are a few quotations which I have found interesting and am giving them to you. Many of them are worth memorizing.

"The happy man must be whole and wholesome. To be that, one must repress anger and worry as he would repress the impulse to lie and steal."—David Starr Jordan.

"A garlic sandwich is two pieces of bread traveling in bad company."—Denison Flamingo.

"The man who realizes that he has become, or is becoming, a victim of worry must be advised consciously and resolutely to direct himself to the question of his sleep. It is safe to say that the worrying man cannot sleep too much, and as a rule he sleeps too little."—Saleeby.

"We often hear of people breaking down from overwork, but in nine cases out of ten they are really suffering from worry and anxiety."—Sir John Lubbock.

"The surest road to health, say what they will,
Is never to suppose we shall be ill.
Most of those evils we poor mortals know,
From doctors and imagination flow."
—Churchill.

"That anger and worry are two prolific sources of disease and evil cannot be denied. Anger is a species of insanity, and worry kills more people than work."—W. W. Case, D. D.

"Some still lose their health gaining wealth, and then lose their wealth regaining their health."—Savannah News.

"Health is, indeed, so necessary to all the duties as well as pleasures of life that the crime of squandering it is equal to the folly; and he that for a short gratification brings weakness and disease upon himself, and for the pleasure of a few years passed in the tumults of diversion and clamors of merriment, condemns the maturer and more experienced part of his life to the chamber and the couch, may be justly reproached, not only as a spendthrift of his happiness, but as a robber of the public; as a wretch that has voluntarily disqualified himself for the business of his station, and refused that part which Providence assigns him in the general task of human nature."—Samuel Johnson.

"All that the United States Constitution guarantees is the pursuance of happiness. You have to catch up with it yourself."—Detroit News.

"The state of mind has a powerful influence over the body, both for the cause and the cure of disease. Lofty thought, high ideals and hopeful disposition, are able to cure many diseases, to assist recovery in all curable cases, and retard dissolution in all others."—Goddard.

"For the Dental Association, we suggest the slogan: 'Be true to your teeth or they will be false to you.'"—Salt Lake Telegram

"If he still has his appendix and his tonsils, the chances are he is a doctor."—Life.

"Happiness is the only good. The time to be happy is now, the place to be happy is here, the way to be happy is to make other people happy."—Ingersoll.

"The public health is the foundation upon which rests the happiness of the people and the welfare of the nation."—Disraeli.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

MUSHROOM AND RICE MOLD

One cupful of rice, one large can of mushrooms, one-half of a chopped onion, one cupful of white sauce, four tablespoonfuls of butter, wash the rice, cover it with a cupful and one-half of cold water; have the water in the bottom of the double boiler boiling, and cook tightly covered until the rice is tender; do not stir. Chop the mushrooms, place the butter in a saucepan, add the onion, and cook until tender, then add the mushrooms, and heat; mix two-thirds of the mushrooms with one-third of the white sauce, butter a mold, place in it a layer of the rice, then a layer of the mushrooms, and fill, having the last layer of rice. Place the mold in a pan of hot water, cover tightly, and allow to steam or bake for thirty minutes. Mix the rest of the mushrooms with the liquor strained from them, and the remainder of the white sauce, turn the rice on to a serving dish, and pour over it a sauce. Garnish with parsley, and serve.

CHEESE SALAD

One cupful of grated cheese, one cupful of whipped cream, one tablespoonful of gelatine, four tablespoonfuls of boiling water, a seasoning of salt and paprika, dissolve the gelatine in the boiling water, and strain; fold the cheese into the whipped cream and season with salt and paprika, allow the gelatine to cool, then mix it in; place in a mold that has been wet with cold water, slice; place on a bed of shredded lettuce, and serve with a cheese dressing.

CHEESE DRESSING

Take one small package of cream cheese, and rub it to a paste with four tablespoonfuls of oil, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, a few grains of cayenne pepper, and one teaspoonful of salt, beat all together; it should be the consistency of mayonnaise.

BANANA CREAM

Five medium-sized bananas, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one cupful of milk, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one cupful of whipping cream, peel the bananas, press them through a sieve, whip the cream, add the sugar to it, then fold in the banana pulp, soak the gelatine in two tablespoonfuls of cold water, add it to the milk, and just let it come to a boil, cool and combine the two mixtures; wet a mold with cold water, pour the mixture into it, and allow to set. Turn out, garnish with sliced oranges and serve.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday. (All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE FLIGHT OF THE BLACK RASCALS

Wise is he who knows he's beaten,
Ere he's killed and mayhap eaten.
—Blacky the Crow.

Hooty the Owl was fast losing his temper. Mrs. Hooty was losing hers even faster. More and more angry sounded their hisses. Louder and louder they snapped their bills. But the young Crows who were tormenting them by screaming at them and pretending to attack them took no heed of this. Only Blacky and Mrs. Blacky and a few of the older Crows heeded the signs and gradually drew farther and farther away.

Now, there is a general idea abroad in the land that Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty cannot see well in the daylight. It appeared that the young Crows had heard this and believed it. Nothing could be farther from the truth. No, indeed, nothing could be farther from the truth. It is true that Hooty and Mrs. Hooty do not like to fly about in daylight. They do not like the sun. Besides, it is their time for sleep, for they have been out all night. But they can see, and see well.

The younger Crows were growing bolder and bolder

The younger Crows were growing bolder and bolder. They were showing off and having a wonderful time doing it. They were daring each other to tweak a few feathers from those Owls. My, how impudent they were! And then, without any warning, Hooty suddenly darted at one of those Crows. With a frightened shriek, that Crow ducked and dodged and it was only by the merest good luck that he escaped Hooty's great claws.

But one of his companions was not so fortunate. Mrs. Hooty was also taking part in putting the Crows to flight and she had been quick enough to seize one of the young crows. It was all over in an instant. He didn't have time to even scream. Meanwhile, all the Crows had taken to their black wings. They were getting away from there just as fast as they could. And Hooty and Mrs. Hooty were after them. Instead of being driven away by the Crows, they were themselves driving the Crows away. Such a ducking and dodging in, around and between trees! Such a scattering in all directions! Such a sudden silence after all that noise! Those Crows held their tongues now. All they wanted was to get away as quickly and as far as possible. In a surprisingly short time not a Crow was to be seen in that part of the Green Forest. Meanwhile, Hooty had caught another young Crow. He brought it back with him to the tree where the nest was. Mrs. Hooty joined him there. They each had a Crow. That meant that they would have a Crow dinner.

"To-whoo!" said Hooty. "These Crows are a nuisance."

"To-whoo, to-whoo!" replied Mrs. Hooty. "They furnished us a dinner anyway. We'll keep this next. I don't think they'll visit us again."

That night, as Blacky and Mrs. Blacky sought their usual perch, Blacky said, "I'm afraid we shall have to give up that nest, my dear. I'm afraid we shall have to go to the trouble of building a new nest."

"There isn't any doubt about it," replied Mrs. Blacky. "I wouldn't go back to that nest now if I never had another home. What under the sun made you think you could drive those Owls away?"

"We've done it before," replied Blacky.

Mrs. Blacky shook her head. "Not from a nest," said she. "We have driven them away when they have just been roosting; but this is different. I don't believe all the Crows that ever gathered in the Green Forest could drive those Owls away from that nest. Listen!"

Blacky listened. From another part of the Green Forest came the hunting call of Hooty the Owl. Blacky shivered a little. So did Mrs. Blacky. Every Crow in the Green Forest shivered a little.

CITY TENDERS CANNERS AID

Harbor Department Offers to Advance $75,000 for Salt Water Pumping-Plant for Needs

Relief for Fish Harbor canneries, short of fluming water, was seen yesterday when the Harbor Department offered to advance $75,000 for a salt-water pumping system, to be paid back by canneries over a period of years. Cannery officials asked a few days in which to consider the proposal, but indicated it was the most satisfactory of several advanced.

President Walter Allen of the Harbor Commission made the tender during a conference at the San Pedro branch City Hall between officials of the canneries, City Harbor, Health and Water departments and representatives of the Los Angeles, San Pedro and Wilmington chambers of commerce.

TO AID INDUSTRY

"The Harbor Department is not in the water business," declared Allen, "but Mr. Van Norman of the Bureau of Water and Power says his department is unable to take on any new financing, and we are anxious to aid this great fish industry."

Van Norman and George Nicholson, Port Engineer, submitted plans both for a gravity line and a pumping-line, each tapping the ocean 3000 feet out, and each costing about $75,000. The latter would comprise a twenty-four-inch salt water pipe running from the sea along Deadman's Island fill and under the canneries' wharf, where each plant could take its needs. A central power unit would operate the entire system. It would supply 10,000 gallons per minute.

INTERESTS REPRESENTED

Speaking in behalf of the canneries were C. J. S. Williams of the Los Angeles chamber; Roy Beaton, San Pedro chamber, and J. W. Puckett, Wilmington chamber. Fishing interests were represented by Bismarck Houssels of Van Camp Sea Food Company, Martin Bogdanovich of the French Sardine Company; Wilbur Woods, Southern California Fish Corporation, and Gilbert Van Camp, market fisheries. Others were H. G. Mathieson, sanitation engineer for the City Health Department; J. W. Weightman, Wilmington chamber and harbor commissioners.

Needless Pain!

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin for relief.

Bayer Aspirin is always available, and it always helps. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

Son of British Premier Guest at Breakfast

Shying like a colt at the traditional initiation that had been prepared for him yesterday morning by the Breakfast Club, Alister MacDonald announced that he was going to initiate himself, and proceeded to do so to the delight of nearly 700 persons who made up the early morning crowd.

He proved himself a diplomat as well as good sportsman in his brief talk following the presentation of his gold card of membership, when he declared: "I would consider it an honor if I were to receive a cablegram from my wife ordering me just to stay here! Moreover, I am not the guest of honor this morning—Mr. John C. Austin, a real architect who has also been honored with membership this morning is truly guest of honor—I am just the son of somebody!"

A tribute was paid by Mr. Austin, new president of the Chamber of Commerce, by Mr. MacDonald and by the club itself to Godfrey Fisher, British Consul in Los Angeles, who, with Mrs. Fisher, was wished Godspeed as he leaves to take up his new post as British Consul-General at Naples. Mr. Austin declared: "I fail to see how anyone can consider it a promotion to be transferred from Los Angeles to Naples—but we realize, Mr. Fisher, that the rest of the world has to go on, and that someone has to do its work, so we bid you good-by regretfully."

Officials of the San Bernardino National Orange Show and members of their entertainment staff also were featured on the program.

Mr. MacDonald yesterday visited the Technicolor laboratories and the Paramount studios, where he conferred with Jesse L. Lasky, vice-president. In the afternoon he played golf with Mr. Lasky and Douglas Fairbanks. He will leave Tuesday by T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines for Washington to confer with Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador.

Film Conferees Draft Contract for Players' Use

The committees of motion-picture producers and actors which have been negotiating the terms of a new standard contract for free-lance players agreed on all the terms of the new instrument last night and it will be put into effect as soon as contract forms can be printed and distributed. The terms are those which had been unanimously indorsed at a meeting of 250 representative actors at the Roosevelt Hotel Monday night.

The new contract smoothes out minor points of issue which have arisen since development of talking pictures effected changes in working conditions at the studios. What are regarded as its two most important terms are a provision to the effect that contract players must be given a minimum rest period of twelve hours between calls and another provision that eight hours shall be the standard day for actors hired by the day, with overtime to be paid after eight hours.

Gas Group Will Convene Today

The annual Southern California two-day regional meeting of the commercial section of the Pacific Coast Gas Association will convene today in the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Building. A series of conferences will be held and a number of addresses are scheduled by prominent Pacific Coast executives.

Today's meeting will be taken up largely with industrial problems and new methods being introduced in heat treating and steel-cutting machines fired by gas furnaces. In the afternoon the 150 delegates are to visit the Natural Gas Bureau, located at 815 East Washington street, to inspect a working display of industrial equipment.

Tomorrow's session will deal with commercial problems, including gas refrigeration, water heating and load building in general.

Love Theft Laid to Rich Divorcee

Mrs. Golden Clarissa Ranger of El Monte has filed a suit in Superior Court against Mrs. Elizabeth Jean Stanley, asserting that Mrs. Stanley, a wealthy divorcee, alienated the affections of Sumner Warren Ranger. Mrs. Stanley caused Stanley to desert his wife in March, 1929, according to the complaint, filed by Attorney Sam Steelman.

Mrs. Ranger also has filed a suit for separate maintenance, asserting that her husband told her he didn't care for her because he was in love with Mrs. Stanley.

COURT UPHOLDS OFFICERS' RAID

Commission Protest Fails to Get Far

Declared Guilty of Liquor Violations

Without Warrant Held Justifiable

Police officers who raided the home of Mrs. Vina Wilson without a search warrant were justified by the court, Municipal Judge Wood declared yesterday at the conclusion of the woman's trial on liquor charges. He found her guilty of possession of liquor January 20 and of sale on January 25. She will be sentenced Friday.

Police Commissioners Drake, Burns and Webb, who appeared in Judge Wood's court without subpoenas, were permitted to make statements from the witness stand during the course of the trial that preceded Mrs. Wilson's conviction. Mrs. Wilson's home, 1241 East Twenty-first street, following the second raid and at which the dozen had apparently been taken in. Each reiterated the commission's rule against raids without search warrants.

DRAKE ADDRESSES COURT

Following the announcement of Police Commissioner Drake, addressing the court, declared that the circumstances who made the raids are before the commission trial board. He also declared that the officers forced their entrance illegally into the house on the second raid without having seen the commission of a crime, although they may have justified in doing so on their first raid. A discussion between Commissioners Drake and Burns and Judge Wood as to grounds for his verdict follows.

In a remark by Thorpe that he could not understand why the officers did not obtain a warrant for the second raid, Judge Wood replied: "The court has nothing to do with whether the evidence was obtained with or without a warrant. The Supreme Court of the State of California has established, even though it has not been denied, in answer to a motion for a new trial, Judge Wood said that it is not a legal requirement that search warrants be witnessed and that it is established by a preponderance of evidence.

DEFENDS SELF

"Let me say," he added, "S. P. [illegible] informer, testified that [illegible] for purchase, while the officers and her sister testified [illegible] of sale."

"In the court in these cases [illegible] word of a stool pigeon [illegible] that of reputable citizens?" asked Thorpe.

"As a matter of observing the demeanor and conduct of witnesses [illegible] quite easily," Judge Wood interjected. "For my part I believe Reece was telling the truth." The court said [illegible] the officers justified in [illegible] without a warrant on the second raid, because they saw the informer inside the house and saw him come out with two bottles of liquor which he did not have when he entered.

Drake intimated that the arrest of the woman and Willie Carr, a lodger, on both occasions was due to the fact that Carr is a witness against another officer, now on trial on bribery charges. Judge Wood disposed of this by declaring that the fact that Carr has three previous convictions on liquor charges, which he admitted when called to the witness stand, would render any such move on the part of the officers involved unnecessary. Carr declared that the liquor seized in the first raid belonged to him and not to Mrs. Wilson.

Mayor Porter yesterday approved the $2000 appropriation recently adopted by the City Council for the drafting of preliminary plans and specifications for the first unit of a permanent jail building at the Lincoln Heights station.

SHRINE CIRCUS GOES TO SHUT-INS

Clowns, Acrobats and Menagerie at Children's Hospital

Envied of All Observers

Monte Mickel displays the cowboy's conception of a fairy ring to the delight of the pair chosen to stand within the charmed circle.

TWENTY-THREE members of the Shrine Circus Band, under the direction of "Spud" Reddrick, with acrobats, jugglers, clowns, tightrope walkers, bareback performers and wild animals gave a performance for patients of the Los Angeles Orthopedic Hospital yesterday.

The performers expended their best talents in a supreme effort to please the children of the hospital. There were tears in the eyes of clowns as they went through their grotesque, laugh-provoking gestures and heard the enthusiastic response from the throats of the little ones.

When the Clown Alley Band, composed entirely of clowns, appeared playing their humorously converted selections, the hospital grounds were swept by peals of laughter.

Witnessing the intricate, breath-taking evolutions of the aerialists swinging through space with apparent disregard for life and limb long "oohs" of pleased apprehension swept through the ranks of children.

The visit of the circus was a huge success and while the performers' pay was in sentiment they are entirely satisfied.

At least 10,000 out-of-town visitors are expected to be in tonight's audience at Al Malaikah Temple, where the Shrine circus is in its last four days.

Ticket agencies throughout Southern California report the largest out-of-town sale for any Los Angeles theatrical event of the past year. Thousands of circus lovers from all parts of the State are flocking to Shrine Auditorium, special arrangements having been made with railways and bus lines for their transportation.

The decision to admit children for 25 cents has resulted in numerous institutions for youngsters taking advantage of the reduction in price.

Director-General Bruner announced today that the tremendous success of the show resulted in a resolution passed at a special Shrine meeting several days ago making the event an annual one.

Studebaker Men at Anniversary Dinner Meeting

More than 350 guests last night attended the eleventh anniversary dinner of the Paul G. Hoffman Company, Inc., local Studebaker dealers, at the Biltmore, where Paul G. Hoffman, vice-president of the Studebaker Corporation of America, was the principal speaker.

"Brother Tom" Liddecoat, operator of the Midnight Mission, was the "surprise guest" of the occasion. Mr. Liddecoat claims to be one of the oldest living Studebaker drivers; he drove a Studebaker wagon in 1878.

Other speakers on the program included Earl R. Carpenter, president of the Paul G. Hoffman Company, Inc.; M. E. Hewins, Los Angeles branch manager of the Studebaker Corporation of America, and Bruce Findlay, manager of the public relations department of the Chamber of Commerce.

Three Children in Home Leave Mysteriously

The mysterious disappearance of two brothers and a sister from their home in Compton last night engaged the attention of police on the report of George E. Robinson of 1705 San Vincente street, Compton, father of the missing trio.

Edson and Earl Robinson, 14 and 10 years of age, respectively, disappeared Sunday. They were last seen by friends entering an automobile bound for Los Angeles. Yesterday Margaret, 12, a sister of the boys, dropped from sight. She left her home after spending a day at school.

Belief that the children left to go to their mother, Mrs. Blanch Dodson of Fresno, a former wife of Robinson, proved erroneous when information from the mother declared she had not seen the children and was coming south to assist in the search for them. Robinson can assign no reason for his children leaving home.

BAR HEARING FOR LINDSEY CONDUCTED

Question of Coloradoan's Disbarment in California Token Under Advisement

The question of whether the disbarment in Colorado of Judge Ben Lindsey, noted Denver Juvenile Court judge, should result in the revocation of his certificate of admission to the bar of this State was considered at a hearing conducted last night by the disciplinary committee of the State Bar at its local headquarters in the Chester Williams Building. The committee announced at the conclusion of the hearing that it will take the facts and arguments under consideration and then make its recommendations to the board of governors of the State Bar.

Judge Lindsey and his wife were present at the hearing and he testified, but the arguments for him were made by William H. Neblett and Frank G. Swain of the law firm of McAdoo, Neblett, O'Connor & Clagett. The hearing was presided over by Alfred Bartlett of the board of governors of the State Bar, and the other two members of the committee are Henry G. Bodkin, also a member of the board of governors, and Leonard Slosson, vice-president of the State Bar.

DONOVAN IN PHOENIX TO OPEN CONFERENCE

PHOENIX, Feb. 5. (AP)—The tri-State Colorado River conference, recessed in Reno, Nev., last week, will reopen here tomorrow morning. Col. William W. Donovan, chairman, announced tonight. Col. Donovan arrived in Phoenix late today by airplane from Los Angeles.

Nevada, it is believed, will not have a representative at the Phoenix conference where, according to Col. Donovan, the division of the waters of the Colorado in the lower basin States will be dealt with solely. Nevada, it has been pointed out, is not greatly interested in the question of water allocation, being chiefly concerned in questions involving allocation of power, power charges and the charges to be made for storage and delivery of domestic water from the proposed Boulder Dam to the coastal cities.

Chairman Charles B. Ward of Arizona said tonight the Arizona commissioners would not discuss power allocation, no matter what might be decided as to water divisions, unless Nevada was represented.

GRAY SEES NEW RAILWAY AGE

what was termed a "few discreet and kindly words about the honored guest."

He traced the friendly rivalry that has existed between the two lines since the days of their building, when gangs of track layers competed for the honors of the most miles of rails laid during the day.

Dr. Millikan explained to the club members that his connection as a student of the sciences with the discussion of the railways systems could only come through problems that will affect transportation and power of the future.

He explained that studies now being made will provide for the operation of locomotives in the not far distant future with power supplied by the rays of the sun.

"After our natural resources of coal and oil are gone," said the scientist, "we will supply you with all the power you need by using the heat generated by the rays of the sun."

Following his introduction, which brought out the fact that Mr. Gray was born in Arkansas and began his first activities in railway work, carrying messages, the Union Pacific president discussed the vast difference between the railroad development of past generations and the present time.

He said that the railroads have been the greatest development feature in American growth and that civilization has followed the rails.

In comparing the problems that faced the builders of the early day and on up through the present time Mr. Gray said: "I believe that the present job is more exacting than our predecessors." He gave four things which he said "have plagued the railroads for generations." He outlined them as "the public be damned" statement attributed to Commodore Vanderbilt, which he said was not originally issued in the sense that it has long been construed; the problem of "eminent domain," which he said has long been argued as an advantage to the railways when in reality it is "one of the greatest handicaps on account of the tremendous cost;" the popular fallacy which holds that the railroads have a guarantee, but in reality is only the right to earn a fair return on the value of the property, and lastly the theory that railroads were given tremendous advantages in land grants.

"The present generation," said Mr. Gray, "is one of co-operation. It has brought co-operation from all sides and the railroads now have a proper conception of their responsibility as a national transportation.

"The public is much better acquainted with the railway personnel, which stands today in a much better light than ever before.

"This," he said, has brought about a friendly understanding between the people and the railways, and also brought pride in the work and service the transportation lines are able to render the public."

Entertainment during the program was presented by Miss Fay Marbe, international stage star, and the Jonathan Club Chanters.

THESE TELEPHONE BRINGS THE ADVANTAGES THAT COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE GIVE TO LIVING

This is the telephone's mission

In this country, a new type of civilization is being reared—a civilization of [illegible] opportunity for the average man, freedom and convenience, business enterprise and higher standards that enrich the daily life of all the people. To build for this new age, the Bell System in 1929 expended more than [illegible] million dollars. These millions were used to add new plant and further improve service. Hundreds of new buildings, millions of miles of wire, chiefly cable, eight hundred thousand new telephones—these were some of the items in the year's program of construction. At the same time, better records were made for speed and accuracy in service.

This American development of instantaneous communication, of fast, far-reaching speech, belongs not to the few, but to the many. It is the aim of the Bell System to permit each personality to express itself without regard to distance.

This is part of the telephone ideal that anyone, anywhere, shall be able to talk quickly and at reasonable cost with anyone, anywhere else. There is no standing still in the Bell System.

FRUIT GROWERS COLLECT CLAIM

Refund on Terminal Charges Gained by Cornwell

Sum Expected to Reach More Than $215,000

Amount Covers 19,922 Cars of Oranges Shipped

Collection of $180,476 in reparation claims was announced to the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange at its meeting yesterday by C. O. Cornwell, traffic manager.

This money, which represents the reduction and refund of the 3-cent terminal charge on oranges at New York, New England and eastern Canadian points, has been refunded to its local members. There is still something like $35,000 to be collected, so that the refunds will total more than $215,000 to growers.

This amount of money covers refund on 19,922 cars of oranges over a period of about three years. It is the result of extensive negotiations of Mr. Cornwell, who is also chairman of the traffic committee of the California Citrus League, with the eastern terminal lines. After agreement with the railroads, the case was submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission and its authority given for the refunds to the California orange growers.

Refund of the remainder outstanding has been agreed to by the railroads concerned and should be paid within a short time.

ONE SMALL ERROR

To prepare the entire case it was necessary for the exchange traffic department to examine records on 165,000 cars shipped over a period of more than three years to segregate the 19,922 shipments on which the refund applied. Detailed claims on each of these cars had to be made and submitted to the carriers and thence to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The regular traffic department staff worked overtime in the task of preparing the records in the case. Indicating the degree of accuracy, it was found that only one error, amounting to 28 cents, was made in handling the entire matter.

DISPLAY BY VIS-A-FILM BRINGS ARREST QUICKLY

Efficiency of the vis-a-film, a projecting machine showing enlarged pictures of hunted criminals on a screen, was proved yesterday for the first time since it was installed by local police Saturday.

Within an hour after Officer Hemmer of central division viewed the screened likeness of Leo Coggins, 26 years of age, charged in a warrant with grand theft of an automobile, he had Coggins in custody.

Hemmer reported finding a car reported stolen from A. W. Ross of 1015 West Seventh street, standing in front of a rooming house in North Bixel street. He sought entrance to the house and Coggins came to the door. Hemmer stated that with the features of wanted suspects fresh in his mind from the morning show-up, he immediately recognized Coggins.

As the result of Coggins's arrest three other men and three girls were taken into custody at the same address by Hemmer. Dorothy Stevens, 17, of 208 South Dillon street, Reta Zuccone, 18, of 400 Firman street, and Evelyn Bouer, 16, of the same adress, were arrested as delinquent runaways. John L. Kurtz, 21, William P. Hines, 19, and Ernest E. Henniger, 20, sailors, were held for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

CANADIAN RADIO MONOPOLY NEAR

Concrete Steps Expected in That Direction Soon

Broadcasting Would Become Public Service

Plan Contemplated After Extensive Survey

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 10:30 a.m. presents Fred Hogue, editorial writer on the five-power naval conference.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Concrete steps toward inaugurating a government-owned radio monopoly in Canada are expected to be taken in the near future with the introduction in the Canadian Parliament of legislation for the purpose of regulating broadcasting in the Dominion.

Introduction of the legislation results from a lengthy investigation of broadcasting by a royal commission, which came to the conclusion that operation of broadcasting stations by private interests, as followed in the United States, has not been successful in Canada, where both population distribution and economic conditions are different. There are a considerable number of stations in the Dominion, but the reports indicated that they cannot support themselves by advertising programs, as in this country, in the majority of instances, and fear was expressed that the heavy expense incident to the operation of the stations would eventually result in the closing down of many of them, leaving the Canadian audience with little radio entertainment other than that received from the United States.

The commission recommended that broadcasting be placed on a basis of public service, that a provincial directir should be appointed for each province, to have full control of programs broadcast in his territory, and that he be aided by a provincial advisory council on radio and broadcasting.

Establishment of a chain of seven high-powered stations running across Canada was recommended for initial service, to be the nucleus of the more ambitious system eventually to be created. The cost of the chain and its auxiliaries was estimated at $3,280,000, and the operating expense was placed at $2,500,000 a year.

KHJ from 5:15 to 5:30 o'clock this evening will bring Frederick William Wile, political expert, to you from London with comment on the progress of the London naval parley, while at 6:20 KHJ will introduce Charles Frederick Lindsley and a cast of professional actors in the first of a new series of Thursday-evening dramas. The title of tonight's drama will be "Brink of Silence." At 8 tonight the KHJ Merrymakers will be faster, funnier and more elaborate than ever before. This program will go out over the Don Lee-Columbia chain of six stations and also will be broadcast by KORE, Eugene, Or. From 9:30 to 10 tonight Raymond Paige and his orchestra will delight you with selections from classical and popular music. "Poor Butterfly," "Singing in the Rain" and "Blue River" will be presented. June Parker and the Four Boys will be guest artists.

KFI among its features on the dial will at 6 o'clock tonight present the Sieberling Singers in a vocal and instrumental cruise to Nice—the Riviera. The theme song of the evening will be Irving Berlin's "Blue Skies." A special feature of the program will be rendition of the popular "Tiptoe Through the Tulips With Me." At 7:30 Dr. Artur Rodzinski and his Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra will be heard in a delightful hour of music from Weber, Godard and Saint-Saens.

KECA at 5 tonight, in a chain program will feature Graham McNamee, singing baritone, while at 8:45 p.m. Max Dolin and his victin will hold your dial. At 9 a serial drama of rural life, "Memory Lane," will be heard.

KNX from 6 until 9 tonight will, no matter when you dial, bring a feast of excellent vocal and instrumental hits. Bill Hatch and his orchestra, at 7, with Joe Bishop as soloist, and a male trio; Ruby Ohman, outstanding eastern contralto at 8, will thrill you with "Estrellita" and many other beautiful songs. While at 8:30 tonight the AMORC Trio will play Damrosch's "Prelude;" excerpts from the opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and others.

Bonelli to Pay Campaign Debts

Because State Labor Commissioner Barker has decided that Attorney William G. Bonelli, who ran for Mayor last election, is not personally responsible for $4896 worth of claims made by political workers, Bonelli yesterday made application before Superior Judge Doran, presiding, to pay the claims.

About 160 applicants are in the list of payments to be made. Several months ago, Bonelli obtained a similar order to pay $8804 to 200 other applicants.

"Although not legally responsible for these debts, I feel that I am morally responsible," said Bonelli. "The people did the work, and we have come to an understanding regarding how much they should be paid. This action closes the incident of my candidacy for the Mayoralty."

Moseley will go direct to New York for preliminary consultation with C. M. Keys, Charles S. (Casey) Jones, Maj. R. H. Brainard and other executives.

AUTO SALON TO FEATURE NEW TYPES

Mechanical Developments in Chassis Design Listed as Notable Advances

For the first time in several years the Automobile Salon, opening at the Biltmore at 2 p.m. Saturday, will present a number of interesting mechanical developments in chassis design, which are certain to divide attention with the new types and styles in custom coach work to be introduced by prominent American and European carrossiers.

Among the new mechanical developments may be listed front-wheel drive cars, two regularly equipped with superchargers, and others having power brakes and new types of transmission. Every chassis displayed incorporates improvements and refinements in both design and construction.

A preview discloses also significant trends in custom coach work. Custom bodies will be found lower and better stream-lined, and, except on sport types, finished in darker colors. Belt lines are higher, with windows narrower, windshields slant, belt moldings are more elaborate in some cases and entirely eliminated in others, doors and body panels often extend down to the running board and, in some jobs, there are no running boards at all. Convertible bodies will be found to predominate, while the roadster has given way to the convertible coupe, which has all the advantages of both types.

PORTER AIDE FACES WINE TRIAL TODAY

Woman Campaign Orator Lays Raid on Home and Charges to "Frame-up"

The trial of Mrs. Florence E. Gilmour, woman orator in support of Mayor Porter during the campaign, and a member of the women's divisions in his headquarters, on a charge of possession of liquor, will be heard today at 11 a.m. in the Municipal Court of Judge Bogue.

Originally set for yesterday the hearing on charges that Mrs. Gilmour had some wine in her home when it was searched by vice squad officers from University station last December, was delayed for twenty-four hours.

Charges against the officers who made the raid and booked Mrs. Gilmour, after a seven-hour delay, are now pending before the Police Commission, and are under investigation by a committee composed of Commissioners Drake and Coe.

Mrs. Gilmour has announced her intention of fighting the charges, contending that her arrest was a "frame-up" and that the officers entered her home without search warrant.

The former Porter field worker also declares she has been intimidated since the arrest by officers in attempting to force her to plead guilty to the Wright Act charge. She says the wine found in her home was being used for medicinal purposes. She is not charged with sale, nor has she been previously arrested on any accusation.

Business Man Dies Writing Telegram

While writing a message to an associate in Chicago, Bert W. Earles, head of a number of business enterprises in Los Angeles, and owner of a string of shows in Canada, dropped dead in the Western Union Telegraph office at 637 South Olive street today. Mr. Earles was 56 years of age and was a native of England.

Mr. Earles was standing at the counter when the employees saw him suddenly reel and fall.

Mr. Earles lived with his wife at 4901 Pasadena avenue. He came to Los Angeles eight years ago from Winnipeg, Can. Besides owning the Johnny Jones string of shows in Canada he was head of the White Rose Spring Water Company; the Association of Veteran Motorists; the Safe Turn Signal Corporation; the Rello Dor Manufacturing Company and several other enterprises.

He was a Shriner and a member of the Pacific Coast Showmen's Association. His partner, Max N. Klass died two weeks ago. When Mr. Earles came to America he got a job as water boy with the Ringling Brothers circus and remained as an associate of John Ringling for many years. Funeral arrangements will be made after the inquest, which has been scheduled for today. He leaves only his widow.

Kaplan said he was stabbed and robbed in one of the men's apartment at 118½ Pine avenue, and left unconscious there. After recovering consciousness, he staggered away and notified police.

WARNERS FETE OSCAR STRAUS

"Chocolate Soldier" to be Musical Picture

Advance of Color and Wide Screen Told

Pathe Signs E. H. Griffith to New Contract

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

There is a strong likelihood that Warner Brothers may soon produce Oscar Straus's famous light operetta, "The Chocolate Soldier," as a musical picture.

This highly important fact we gathered yesterday at the elaborate studio luncheon tendered at the First National Studio private lunch room, given in honor of Oscar Straus, the famous composer, and his charming wife, following their arrival under contract to write for Warner Brothers and First National.

The Harms Music Company, which is owned by the Warners, has the musical rights to "The Chocolate Soldier." What stands in the way of producing the operetta on the screen is the fact that Bernard Shaw, on whose play, "Arms and the Man," the story of "The Chocolate Soldier" is founded, has steadfastly refused to release to the pictures any of his rights to any of his works. However, according to opinion of certain noted legal authorities, this ownership does not preclude the possibility of making the operetta into a picture.

That is how the matter stands at present; but with the arrival of Oscar Straus, who is enthusiastic over the idea of making "The Chocolate Soldier" into a picture, the Warners are likely to take some definite action looking forward to its production.

STRAUS TO WRITE ORIGINAL OPERETTA

In the meantime, Mr. Straus is to write an original operetta. He said yesterday that he had a number of ideas for stories, but so far none had been definitely settled on. However, he did disclose that the story will have a foreign background.

"I'm tremendously enthusiastic about this new element of artistic expression," he said. "It will, I think, revolutionize the whole theatrical world. I do not know what will be the fate of the old conventional grand opera, but I think it quite possible that it is through. Here the composer has an entirely new and fascinating element to work in, and one with limitless possibilities."

Grand Opera on Screen

Jack Warner sat next to us at lunch, and admitted, on questioning, that his organization meant one of these days to adapt some of the grand operas to the screen.

"But not until we have led the public to them gradually," he said.

"Well, we hope you won't dress them in those funny old costumes," we told him.

"Ah, but wouldn't you critics jump down our throats if we tried to fix them up in modern costumes or otherwise to disturb tradition!" he exclaimed.

Jack Warner made an interesting speech, in which he spoke for the improvement in the color processes of technicolor.

But perhaps, his most interesting announcement was to the effect that the wide film and screen were rapidly being developed, adding incalculably to the realisms of the spectacle as well as to the naturalness of the voices.

He introduced Mr. Straus, who made a graceful little speech, the orchestra played Straus music, Bernice Claire song "My Hero," and Alexander Gray sang a German song.

E. H. Griffith Signs

E. H. Griffith, who made such a success when he directed a number of Pathe pictures, including "Paris Bound" and "Rich People," the latter of which was authored by A. A. Kline, New York playwright, has just signed a new contract with that organization E. B. Durr made the announcement yesterday.

His first picture will be a story written especially for him by Ben Hecht, noted writer of novels and plays. It is entitled "The Big Shot," and is an underworld story.

'NANETTE' GAY AND PICTORIAL

Famous Music Show Bright In Film Version

Melodies Incidental to the Comedy Plot

Honors Shared by Various Cast Members

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

They sing "I Want to Be Happy," they dance "Tea for Three," and quite uncannily, not to say oddly, "No, No, Nanette" turns out to be a back-stage story a la mode. It is garnished with color photography, and brightened by the personalities of Lucien Littlefield, Louise Fazenda and Zasu Pitts, not to speak of the soisette Lilyan Tashman in a very wifely role, Bert Roach, and, to cap its musical interest, Alexander Gray and Bernice Claire. Clarence Badger directed this revision of a popular musical show, and in plot and dialogue it has been kept gayly bubbling along. It is changed from the original stage play, as seen here, but it remains a highly entertaining concoction.

The musical talking film version is available to the picturegoer at the R.-K.-O. Orpheum Theater, where it drew large audiences yesterday. The crowd was obviously amused both by Mr. Littlefield and Miss Pitts. One might estimate by this response that they will be making the primary hits. Nearly everybody, however, exacts the humorous reaction at some time or other. This may be largely explained by the fact that the dialogue in "No, No, Nanette" is persistently and very refreshingly bright.

Lots of clever tricks of business, too, are employed to pep the production. One of the funniest is when Littlefield, as the owner of a stage show, is unwittingly dragged out before the footlights by the chorus boys, and is forced to dance around with them, and later with the chorus girls, as if he really belonged. This bit is worth watching for. It is well on toward the end of the picture. An embarrassing moment—effectually expressed.

Miss Pitts succeeds in being unusually funny in the earlier scenes, and helps to make the beginning enjoyable with her brassy servant girl.

The singing of Gray and Miss Claire, while there is comparatively little of it, is very pleasing. Their airplane number and others at the end of the film will attract.

Miss Fazenda and Miss Tashman do efficacious characterizations as two wives who have troublesome husbands.

Mildred Harris and Jocelyn Lee also are agreeably in the cast.

"Nanette" depends, as did the stage play, on the troubles that its leading character has with ladies to whom he has been too generous and kind, and who refuse to have their allowances stopped. Littlefield is the victim of the bank account assault, and Roach is his legal defender who merrily messes things up.

Then there is Nanette (Miss Claire) whom Littlefield has adopted as a distant relative, and whom he essays to back in a show. Nanette has a jealous fiancee, and so decides to give him a lesson. So she and her "uncle" hie themselves to the seaside for a vacation. Comedy detectives are engaged by the "uncle's" and the attorney's wives and also by Nanette's sweetheart to hunt them down, but everything is cleared up in true farce-like fashion at the close.

Or if it isn't actually cleared up you forget all about the complications during the spectacular song-and-dance close, which is very modernistic, and very brilliantly staged. Producers need never get into any tangle over the working out of a plot nowadays. All they have to do is throw in a little spectacular stuff to wind up with, and probably no one will complain.

In any event, "No, No, Nanette" is a real pleasure of the lighter sort.

Vamping Roles Fall to Lot of Duffy Actress

"With each succeeding role I seem to be adding to the number of people I must vamp," says Mary Boland, noted comedienne now appearing at El Capitan with the Henry Duffy Players in "Ladies of the Jury." "In 'The Cradle Snatchers' for two seasons, I had to vamp one harmless college youth, but now I must exert my powers of fascination on eleven members of a jury to turn them to my way of thinking."

Miss Boland thinks that the role of Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane in "Ladies of the Jury" is one of the funniest ever written.

"It is as gorgeous a part as Gertrude Lennox in 'Meet the Wife,' says the comedienne, "and I'm delighted to have an opportunity to act it on the Pacific Coast."

Mitchell Wants Midnight Show

Irving Mitchell is trying to induce Kolb and Dill to give a professional midnight performance of "Give and Take," in which they are appearing as guest stars with the Henry Duffy Players at the President. The actor, now playing the son in "It Pays to Advertise" with Robert McWade at the Hollywood Playhouse, has a special reason for his request. He acted the role of young Jack Bauer, now being played by James Bush, when Aaron Hoffman's farce-comedy was presented in New York.

Unless the guest stars consent, Mitchell has little chance to see the play as the matinee days at the Playhouse and the President are the same. "Give and Take" was one of eight productions in which Mitchell has appeared on Broadway. His last appearance before coming to the coast was in "The Pearl of Great Price."

ACTOR TO APPEAR

Stanley Smith, playing the male lead in "Sweetie" at the Uptown, will make a personal appearance tonight in honor of the show's fourth anniversary. "Birthday Week" starts at the Uptown with today's matinee and the management announces that personal appearances of screen stars will take place nightly during the current week. Stanley Smith will offer several songs tonight from "Sweetie" in which he plays opposite Nancy Carroll.

Winifred Westover Takes Leading Role as Servant Girl Heroine

"Lummox," the screen version of Fannie Hurst's best-selling novel of that name, will start at the United Artist's Theater Wednesday. "The Locked Door," the current attraction at United Artists, will be seen for the last times Tuesday.

In the role of the servant girl heroine, whose life story is dramatically unfolded in this powerful story, is Winifred Westover. Miss Westover, in this characterization, returns to the screen after an absence of several years, and offers what is said to be an outstanding portrayal.

The selection of Miss Westover for her present role was personally approved by Joseph M. Schenck, and is reported to have ended a search of four months after a representative number of other actresses had been given voice and screen tests for the part.

Boulevard Will Screen 'Behind Make-up' Today

William Powell, who was recently elevated to stardom by Paramount, Fay Wray and Hal Skelly are banded together in the Paramount picture, "Behind the Make-Up," which opens today at the Boulevard Theater.

Powell portrays a difficult role as the Italian variety artist, a genius in his line, but fickle and irresponsible in his love affairs. The film is an adaptation of Mildred Cram's story, "The Feeder," and deals with a third-rate comedian, a waitress in a little cafe and a real performer who is selfish and arrogant.

An added attraction is a Silly Symphony cartoon, "Hell's Bells." On the stage Slim Martin with his band and F. and M. Varieties and specialties round out the program.

Love Story of Old Mexico to Play at Palace

Warner Baxter stars in "Romance of the Rio Grande," a film drama of the land of caballeros and dark-eyed senoritas, which opens a week's run today at the Fox Palace Theater.

Directed by Alfred Santell, this Fox picture features Mary Duncan and Antonio Moreno, in support of Baxter, who is remembered particularly for his sterling portrayal as the hero of "In Old Arizona." Mona Maris, former UFA star, is also seen in a prominent role.

"Romance of the Rio Grande" depicts the conflict of two cousins for the love of the same girl and the possession of a large estate. Lloyd Hamilton in "Peaceful Alley," an Educational comedy, and Fox Movietone News complete the Palace offering.

'Journey's End' Recalls War

An echo from the war years is Robert Sherriff's "Journey's End," the play that continues to exert a magnetic influence over audiences in the Belasco Theater.

Painting a scene at the front lines peopled with kindly Englishmen who cannot forget, even in the welter of destruction, the ideals to which they were bred, "Journey's End" is in a sense the gentlest of realistic war plays. It is well acted at the Belasco by Gilbert Miller's company, chosen and rehearsed in London by Col. Stanley Bell.

Crone Finishes Denny Picture

"The Dark Chapter," Reginald Denny's first effort for Sono Art Productions, was finished yesterday. George Crone directed.

Crone is awaiting the arrival from New York of George W. Weeks, vice-president of the company, when plans will be discussed as to his next assignment. He is scheduled to direct two pictures for Sono Art.

BOSTON ORGANIST HEARD IN RECITAL

Lynwood Farnum Enjoyed by Large Audience at Immanuel Church

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Lynwood Farnum, an organist, whose art is admired and respected wherever organ playing is known, gave a well-chosen program at Immanuel Presbyterian Church last evening before a large audience. The great organ, which has been recently installed in this new church, was exhibited to advantage and Mr. Farnum was received with warm appreciation.

Starting his program with a jig by Handel, the recital was begun in a gay mood. Mr. Farnum seemed to be playing with four hands and several feet, so rapid were the changes from one manual to another. Clean technique and a keen sense of tone values characterized his playing. A dainty Rondo by Couperin gave pleasure and the Carillon by the American, Leo Sowerby, with its bells and celesta stop formed an interesting contrast. The Sowerby work is not clearly defined melodically and as it preceded the forthright Bach in a chorale with eight variations the latter's simplicity of grandeur was all the more apparent.

Bach and Cesar Franck, after all, wrote for the organ as no one else has been able to do. The pipe organ is essentially an instrument of praise to God, and these men walked with their Creator and worshiped Him with great music.

In Franck's "Quasi Lento" and adagio from the Fantasie in C, Farnum displayed a mellow beauty of phrasing that elicited a sympathetic response in the hearts of his listeners. He was at his very fine best in this number. Other compositions by Widor, Wood, Baumgartner and Vierne completed the recital.

Third Week of "Love Parade" Starts Today

"The Love Parade" starts its third week at the Paramount Theater today. This gay musical romance has captivated Los Angeles theatergoers, it is said, and many of them are returning again to see the talented French star, Maurice Chevalier, and hear him sing.

"The Love Parade" is full of sly situations, subtle humor and catchy tunes. Ernst Lubitsch, director, has also added much of the technique for which he is noted.

Music in the production is already becoming popular. "Dream Lover," sung by Jeanette MacDonald, and "My Love Parade," sung by Miss MacDonald and Chevalier, are outstanding. "Everything to Please the Queen" and "Nobody's Using It Now," as rendered by Chevalier are also becoming favorites. Lupino Lane and Lillian Roth are seen in two clever skits.

Clarence Brown Waits in Line for Own Film

Imagine a director standing in line for his own picture! And for forty minutes! Yet that is what happened to Clarence Brown, noted director, yesterday, when, for the first time since it has been showing at the Criterion Theater, he dropped in at the theater to see Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie."

After he had seen the picture for the first time at a public showing, he explained to the management why he had lined up with the rest of the patrons.

"I saw the line waiting," he said. "And I also saw the people coming out of the theater. I thought if I stood in line I could hear at a very good vantage the comments of the patrons on Miss Garbo's first talkie."

Debut Recorded by New Artists

"Bambina" marks the west coast debut for several new artists. Edward Royce presents the first sample of his ability to keep movement and color in the ensembles, and Conrad Tritschler shows fine handling of some unusual and picturesque scenery.

"Bambina" has settled down for a long run, it is said, and the players are preparing their dressing-rooms for a lengthy stay at the Mayan Theater. Nancy Welford is cofeatured with Al St. John. The cast also includes Marie Wells, Earnest Wood, Laurel Nemeth, Wilbur Evans, Russell Scott, Hedley Hall and Fred Walton.

"HALF WAY TO HEAVEN" IS HUMAN

Charles Rogers Film at Million Dollar Has Quality of Simplicity

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Possessing more than a fair share of endearing attributes, "Half Way to Heaven," a Paramount picture, was screened yesterday at the Million Dollar Theater. It is a starring vehicle for Charles Rogers—he whom they refer to as "Buddy"—and as such rides quietly down the ways that lead to drama. For its virtues one owes thanks to George Abbott, a director who, coming to talking pictures from the talking stage, left most of its vices behind him.

The quality that permeates an Abbott talkie is not a thing you can put your finger on. With an art that conceals art, he endows each individual scene with a casual function that seems in itself relatively unimportant, though actually it meshes flawlessly with the one preceding it and coming after. This accomplishes what all the perfect mechanical reproduction in the world never could: Suddenly the spectator finds himself a part of events which might be taking place in his own back yard, little bits of drama which he himself might be photographing with one of those amateur cameras—press the button and you have it. Only that there is nothing amateurish about this.

Abbott still relies to a great degree on his dialogue to make his points, but it is such naturalistic dialogue one forgets that. The scenes in "Half Way to Heaven" are all familiar enough—a carnival, a farmhouse, a train—and the story, which incidentally was adapted by Abbott, has not the odor of the freshest greasepaint. A jealous trapeze artist lets another, of whom he is jealous, drop to his death. When "Buddy" joins the troupe the jealous trapeze artist decides to let him drop, too. He is foiled.

Not very new, certainly; but new as Abbott visualizes it, and suspenseful as the very dickens. Paul Lukas portrays the heavy in a manner which could not be improved upon by anyone in filmdom. Jean Arthur is the girl he covets so exclusively and Rogers, of course, the boy who foils him. "Buddy" appears miscast and this despite the acceptable work he does; though who shall say such a one "looks like" an acrobat, and such a one does not? Who, for that matter, ever saw an acrobat in civilian clothes?

Helen Ware scores in her role of Mme. Blaie, a fortune teller, and others are Oscar Apfel, Edna West, Freddy Nelson and Irving Bacon.

A generous assortment of short subjects, including two newsreels, is also on view at the Million Dollar.

African Natives Will Appear on Chinese Stage

Saturday's Hollywood midnight frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater, in conjunction with the showing of "The Rogue Song," starring Lawrence Tibbett, will be a most extraordinary attraction, it is said.

W. R. Van Dyke, director of M.-G.-M.'s "Trader Horn," brought back two savage cannibals from the wilds of Africa, where a great deal of filming of that picture was made. For the first time these savages in native costume and fancy headgear will make their bow before a civilized audience, being introduced from the stage by W. S. Van Dyke. They will offer their dances and sing their wild rhythms.

Bessie Love, popular M.-G.-M. star, will sing accompanied by a ukulele and will present a new routine of tap dances. Judith Vosselli, one of the feature members of "The Rogue Song" cast, will offer a dramatic sketch.

Rudy Vallee to Croon Melodies in First Film

Rudy Vallee, hailed as the wonder singer of the radio, makes his bow in his first film drama, "The Vagabond Lover," at the R.-K.-O. Theater today. Crooning four new songs, Vallee plays the role of a wandering minstrel seeking fame in the musical world. With him are the Connecticut Yankees, said to be as familiar to radio audiences as the singer himself.

It is to Sally Blane that Vallee croons his songs. Others in the cast are Marie Dressler, Eddie Nugent, Nella Walker, Alan Roscoe, Norman Peck and Charles Sellon. Marshall Neilan directed.

Considered one of America's noted blondes, Ruby Norton headlines the R.-K.-O. vaudeville show. Rounding out the program are Ray and Harrison in a dance satire, Fred Sylvester, Hal Neiman and Meyer Golden's Dance Fables.

M.-G.-M. Plans Large Shipment of Valentines

The New York offices of the M.-G.-M. studios are now sending out to all parts of the world the greatest shipment of valentines ever made up, it is said. The valentines are going to every young lady who ever wrote a fan letter to Ramon Novarro.

The shipment of the valentines started the day that Ramon Novarro opened his engagement in "Devil May Care," at the Astor Theater, so that Alaska, Australia and South Africa might have the valentines by the 14th inst.

Evidently, Novarro is enshrined in the hearts of romantic young women in all parts of the world, according to the demand for Novarro valentine-photos in cities where Novarro is now playing in "Devil May Care," current attraction at the local Carthay Circle Theater.

Deadlocked Jury Discharged in Dugan vs. O'Neill

Woman's Story of Seven-Year Romance Told in Vain

Retrial of Case Requested as Soon as Possible

The trial of the $50,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Ida Dugan, 37 years of age, against Cleveland O'Neill, wealthy contractor, came to an indefinite end yesterday, when Superior Judge Hahn dismissed the jury after the foreman reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, standing eight to four in favor of the plaintiff.

Neither plaintiff nor defendant was in court at the time. Attorneys stated that the court will be asked to set the case down for a new trial as soon as possible.

SERVED SEVEN YEARS

Miss Dugan's story of her seven years of association with O'Neill, which ended with his marriage to another woman, was told on the witness stand yesterday afternoon. She worked for O'Neill for $23 a week for several years, she said, putting by $50 of her salary monthly as payments on a home, which she purchased from the father of the defendant, who, Miss Dugan says, still holds a mortgage on the property.

Mrs. Helen O'Neil, whom O'Neil married shortly after his asserted jilting of Miss Dugan, also testified yesterday. She swore O'Neil was at her home on dates when Miss Dugan said he was with her.

Testimony regarding signatures on a San Diego hotel register to show a close degree of intimacy between O'Neil and Miss Dugan was offered by the plaintiff's attorneys, but O'Neil did not make admission that the signature was his. Miss Dugan had testified she was at the hotel with him.

WOMAN'S MEMORY

Although Miss Dugan remembered the exact date—December 26, 1926—that she and O'Neil became engaged to marry, O'Neil denied that such an agreement ever had taken place.

The defendant told of definite "threats" he said had been made to him. He admitted that he never gave Miss Dugan any valuable gifts. The woman herself testified that the only present she got from O'Neil during their seven years' acquaintance was a ring that "probably cost $2.50."

Attorney Lewis D. Collings represented O'Neil and M. C. Spicer was Miss Dugan's attorney.

Terminal Island Combed by Police in Search for Miscreant

Harbor police still were combing Terminal Island last night for a youth, who snatched $1000 in bills from Mrs. Takie Nago in front of her restaurant at 789 Tuna street, yesterday noon. Mrs. Nago had just drawn the money from a near-by bank to cash anticipated checks of cannery workers.

The youth sped away in a blue sedan, which he abandoned, and fled afoot into the Hammond lumber yards, where he was expected to hide until nightfall.

MRS. NYE'S RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Dr. Herbert B. Smith Will Have Charge of Services at Funeral Parlors

Funeral services for Mrs. Harriett Frances Nye, who died as a result of bronchial pneumonia Tuesday at the family residence, 1017 West Twenty-fifth street, will be conducted at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Bresee Brothers' funeral parlors. Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. Nye was a member, will be in charge of the services. Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mrs. Nye, who was 83 years of age, and who had lived at the West Twenty-fifth-street residence for the last twenty-six years, was born at Marietta, O. Her father, Rev. W. R. Wickes, was for twenty-five years pastor of the First Congregational Church at Marietta. Her husband was the late Charles Nathaniel Nye.

Mrs. Nye's uncle, Lewis Carstairs Gunn, was a forty-niner and played an important part in preventing California from seceding with the Confederacy. Mrs. Nye also was related to the Marston family of San Diego.

Mrs. Nye leaves her sons, William Putnam Nye, who is postmaster at Covina, and A. W. Nye, head of the science department at University of Southern California, and four grandchildren.

"Eight or Nine" Nominated to Reincarnate Christ

Dabney as Resurrectionist Failure, Says Witness

Further unusual occurrences at the Santa Susana headquarters of the church founded by May Otis Blackburn were recited yesterday in Superior Judge Fricke's court, where Mrs. Blackburn is on trial for grand theft.

Clifford Dabney, complaining witness, recalled to the witness stand by Defense Attorney Cochran for the purposes of impeachment, took occasion to deny that it was his idea that he was to have been transformed into a divine being. He asserted that Mrs. Blackburn told him that he would be so transfigured.

"Did you ever hear Mrs. Blackburn tell anybody else that such other person was the Christ?" questioned Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson.

NOMINATED FLOCK

"Yes, sir," answered Dabney, "she named Mr. Dingman, Merritt Woodell; she named myself; she named—there were eight or nine of us men. Mr. Dingman and Mr. Woodell, I guess, still believe it."

There was a flood of objections to the last part of Dabney's statement by defense counsel.

"Well, anyway," continued Ferguson, "did any of these persons named accept the nominations?"

Dabney was not permitted to answer the question but a defense witness, Walter Steffen, gave an instance where, he said, Dabney tried to exert his spiritual power. A member of the Blackburn flock had died and Dabney and others were about the death bed.

RESURRECTION FIASCO

"Hey!" yelled Dabney, snapping his fingers over the face of the deceased and stamping his feet, according to Steffen.

The corpse showed no signs of returning life despite this ministration, Steffen testified, and as Dabney had just missed his (Steffen's) foot when he stamped on the floor, Steffen said he walked out disgusted.

Minnie Turner, known to her fellow church members as "The Great Turning-Back," was the last witness called. She testified largely about the handling of funds of the church and was still being cross-examined when court adjourned.

JOHN BOSCO MEMORY TO BE HONORED

Solemn Pontifical Mass Announced for Sunday at St. Vibiana's Cathedral

A celebration of the beatification of Blessed John Bosco will be conducted by the Salesian Fathers of Southern California at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at St. Vibiana's Cathedral, with Bishop Cantwell as celebrant of the solemn pontifical mass. A reception to the clergy will be given at 1 p.m.

Rev. Frederick Barni, S.C., who will be in general charge of the celebration, announced that all members of the twenty-seven councils of the Knights of Columbus of the Southland are expected to attend the services, which will include a sermon by Rev. Martin J. O'Malley, C.M., D.D.

"We are called Salesian Fathers because the founder of our order took for his patron saint St. Francis de Sales, on account of the latter's gentleness, on which quality the Blessed Bosco depended for his influence over derelict boys," said Mr. Barni. "The institution of Salesian Fathers has 8000 members and 6000 sisters who are called the Daughters of Mary Help of Christians. There are two parishes in Los Angeles, St. Peter's and Our Lady Help of Christians."

MAN KILLS HIMSELF WITH GUN IN PARK

Shot in the right temple, the body of a man identified by papers as Otto Stoltz, 25 years of age, of 1519 Elevado street, was found last night in a roadster standing in Griffith Park near its western limit. A .38-caliber revolver lay beside the body. Police recorded the case as a suicide. Manuel Flores, a park watchman, found the body in the car and notified police. The man had been dead several hours.

REPORTS AS TO MARQUIS DENOUNCED

Miss Bennett Calls Talk About Gloria Swanson's Husband "Ridiculous"

Constance Bennett, screen actress, branded as "too ridiculous to even discuss," reports that she and the husband of Gloria Swanson, Marquis Henri La Bailly de la Falaise, often were seen together during her recent visit to Paris. She made this statement on her return to Los Angeles last night on the Chief.

Miss Bennett, who obtained a Paris divorce from Phil Plant during her visit abroad, declared reports that she and the Marquis had indulged in a series of trans-Atlantic telephone conversations on her return to this country are even more ridiculous.

"That's all I've got to say," she asserted.

On the heels of these reports, the wires bore dispatches to the effect that Miss Swanson is contemplating a divorce, but this she denies. The Marquis explained in Paris that he had consulted a number of times with Miss Bennett about songs for her new picture and that they met for business reasons.

Miss Bennett was accompanied west by her cousin, Peter Parker, 2 years of age. She said the child's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parker, were killed in an auto accident in England. Miss Bennett's mother is caring for a second Parker child, Jan, 5, in New York City, she said.

The actress returns to Hollywood to commence work on her next talking picture, "Lipstick," to be made at the Pathe studios.

City Engineers' Pay Cut Opposed

A protest against the proposed reduction in the salary of the City Engineer from $10,000 to $7200 per annum was filed with the City Council yesterday by the Los Angeles chapter of the American Association of Engineers, Porter Albright, president. The protest contends that if any change be considered in the salary, it should be an increase.

The protest was referred to the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, which is considering the matter.

WITHERS NUPTIAL ROW ENDS

Mother of Bride Relents and Drops Annulment Suit; Couple Go to Housekeeping

Grant Withers and Loretta Young, screen players, are going to remain husband and wife and with the consent of her mother, too. The fact that peace again apparently has descended upon the principals of the recent elopement was indicated last night when George Breslin, attorney for Miss Young's mother, announced annulment proceedings to set aside the marriage will be dropped in Superior Court. This followed the announcement, printed exclusively in The Times yesterday, that the couple were residents at an exclusive Wilshire apartment-house.

The decision by Mrs. George U. Belser, the mother, to drop the court action was decided yesterday following a long conference with Mr. Breslin. The latter declared last night he will file dismissal of the case in court today at Mrs. Belser's request.

"The annulment action was filed by Mrs. Belser when her daughter and Mr. Withers consented to such a step and agreed with Mrs. Belser they might have been too impulsive in going through with the ceremony," Mr. Breslin stated.

"Three days later Mr. Withers informed her on the telephone he had changed his mind and that they had decided to remain as man and wife. Now Mrs. Breslin, in view of their decision, thinks it best to permit them to make the best of their marriage. She has instructed me to drop the case and this will be done today."

The day following their elopement to Arizona Withers and Miss Young announced they had agreed to annulment of their marriage and that they would abide by the wishes of Mrs. Belser. Later Withers consulted an attorney, who filed a demurrer to the suit of Mrs. Belser as his opening gun to fight the case.

"My happiness is the only issue at stake in this little drama," Miss Young said yesterday at First National studio. "We are deeply in love with each other and I am extremely happy. We intend to remain man and wife."

"We love each other and we decided that was all that mattered," Withers stated. "My attorney has told me not to say too much, so I guess that's sufficient for me."

The couple have leased an apartment at the exclusive El Royale, Withers admitted yesterday at the studio. Apartment-house attaches still insisted, however, they are not registered there.

Whether or not Mrs. Belser has bestowed her blessing on the couple last night was not ascertained. Her husband said she was not at home.

All You Who Gave and Lost Give Again, Says Letter

If He Gets Money He Might Find Oil in Oklahoma

Nine Pages Fail to Make New Scheme Very Clear

The shake went on yesterday.

Although already well shaken by the promotion of Julian Petroleum Corporation, Western Lead and one or two other like deals, the old Julian investors have been asked to give up again.

Yesterday in nine full pages with a postscript at the bottom C. C. Julian asked all former stockholders in his various ill-fated promotions to come through with 10 per cent of their original investment in his early promotions.

PLANS NOT CLEAR

The letter received by hundreds who lost money in Julian corporations comes from Oklahoma City and bears the signature of C. C. Julian, who describes himself as an "empire builder."

Not altogether clear, it would appear, however, that Julian now has some idea of drilling for oil in the Mid-Continent fields and would like to have the money with which to operate from the hundreds who have already given up hundreds of thousands of dollars to him.

Millions of dollars and oil wells gushing in for thousands of barrels play the lead in the new Julian letter which follows another letter sent out several weeks ago.

"It took me a long time to realize that we had been betrayed. When I did, a great anger took possession of me." Thus does Julian explain how he feels now, and then later in his letter it appears that everybody will be happy—himself included—if the former stockholders will only send him some more money.

ONE MORE SHAKE

Although near the end of his letter Julian explains, "I am not a writer; I am an oil man," persons receiving the letter were unable to get a very clear idea of the new Julian scheme.

It would appear from the nine pages that Julian has discovered that there is oil in the Mid-Continent field and has come to the conclusion that if his former stockholders can stand for just one more little shake, then, if leases can be obtained, wells might be drilled and oil produced.

Capital letters, underlining and exclamation points play a leading part in Julian's new plea for money.

BOY SCOUTS TO MOBILIZE

"Major Disaster" Summons Saturday Will Be One Feature of Anniversary Week

With the alleviation of pain and hunger as their goal, some 5000 Boy Scouts are expected to take part in the "Major Disaster" mobilization that will take place sometime Saturday as part of the elaborate program that is being sponsored by the Los Angeles Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to a statement by Chief Scout Executive E. B. DeGroot.

Sailing high overhead, the dirigible Volunteer, in charge of Lieut. Lang of the Goodyear Company and E. A. The actual signal that will send the thousands of trained boys to care for the refugees, render first-aid and cook for them in their respective district meeting places, will be a siren blast from the dirigible.

The mobilization is one of the features of the week of the 7th to 13th inst. A full program of scouting activities has been arranged for the week in which the Boy Scouts celebrate their twentieth anniversary.

In addition to the district commissioners, there will be a squad of police at each district headquarters as well as inspecting parties from the Fire Department, Playground Department, California Society of Safety Engineers, American Red Cross and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The problem will not be presented to the Scouts until the time of their arrival, and after the work has been done, it will be inspected by the various committees.

The Hollywood District, under Commissioner Anderson, will mobilize at the Vine Street School; University District, under Commissioner Slater, will mobilize at Twentieth street and Western avenue; Northwest District, under Commissioner Parkinson, will mobilize at the Micheltorena School; Griffith Park District, under Commissioner Axton, will mobilize at the Atwater School; Lincoln Heights District, under Commissioner Lyon, will mobilize at Griffin street and Broadway; Garfield District, under Commissioner Dunn, will mobilize at Third street and Ford avenue; Hollenbeck Heights District, under Commissioner Jones, will mobilize at Euclid Avenue School; Metropolitan District, under Commissioner Bradford, will mobilize at St. Paul's Court Yard, 615 South Figueroa street; Metropolitan District No. 2, under Commissioner Line, will mobilize at John Adams Junior High School; South District, under Commissioner Widrig, will mobilize at Sixty-eighth Street School; George Washington District, under Commissioner Webber, will mobilize at the northwest corner of Manchester avenue and Kansas street; Southwest District, under Commissioner Kennedy, will mobilize at Vermont and Slauson avenue; Inglewood District, under Commissioner Richardson, will mobilize at Regent and Grevilla streets; Highland Park District, under Commissioner Sexton, will mobilize at the Arroyo Seco Playground. Troops in the Verdugo Council, in Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock, also will mobilize under the direction of Scout Executive Harvey Cheeseman.

Anniversary week will close with a Los Angeles Council banquet the night of the 12th inst.

SCOTS TO BE HONORED

The English-Speaking Union, Los Angeles Chapter, yesterday announced it will give a dinner at the University Club, 614 South Hope street, Monday evening the 17th inst., to honor Rt. Rev. Frederick L. MIDWICK RIDERS DEFEAT HURRICANE POLOISTS

THE WHITE KNIGHT COMES THROUGH

Here's our own Eric Pedley, the west coast's greatest polo star, as he takes the ball away from "Laddie" Sanford for the winning goal of the mallet classic yesterday at the Midwick Country Club. SEATTLE TRIBE SIGNS RUETHER

Veteran Southpaw Added to Indian Mound Staff

Sheiks May Get Outfielder from Red-Yank Swap

Wrigley Promises Backstop to Replace Sandberg

BY BOB RAY

Bill Klepper, the rotund owner of the Seattle ball club, pulled off a deal yesterday that figures to considerably strengthen the Indians, when he signed "Dutch" Ruether, veteran southpaw pitcher, to an Indian contract.

DUTCH RUETHER

According to dispatches from the north, Klepper purchased Ruether from the Missions and promptly signed the cagy lefthander to a 1930 contract. Red Killefer, Mission prexy, last fall gave Ruether permission to make a deal for himself and Dutch apparently got a better offer from the Indians than he did from any of the other Coast League clubs.

Ruether, who won twenty-nine games for the Seals in 1928 and turned in fourteen victories against ten losses for the Missions last year, announced that he was pleased with th terms given him by Seattle and that he expects to pitch the Tribe to about twenty-five triumphs during the coming campaign.

GUNS FOR ANGELS, STARS

Ruether will probably bear down particularly against the Angels and Hollywood, who turned him down when the Dutchman asked them for jobs. And when Ruether wants to pitch he's a tough hombre to beat, so that means bad news for the Seraphs and Stars.

Hollywood's chances of obtaining a Cincinnati outfielder to bolster their 1930 outfit loomed yesterday with the announcement from the East that the New York Yankees had traded Leo Durocher to the Reds for cash and a player to be determined later. The wire report also stated that the player would probably be used by the Yankees to be sent to a Coast League club. That means that either Hollywood or Oakland would get the athlete from the Yankees, for the New Yorkers are indebted to both the Stars and Oaks.

Inasmuch as the Cincinnati club is overstocked with outfielders, due to the Reds' recent acquisition of Harry Heilmann and Bob Meusel, it seems quite plausible that the Yanks have landed a fly chaser for Oscar Vitt's Sheiks, with whom they have a working agreement.

Among the Cincinnati club's 1929 outfielders who figure to be the ones ultimately named in the deal and finally winding up in a Hollywood uniform are Pid Purdy, who went up from Seattle to the Reds a couple of years ago; Ethan Allen, an exceptionally speedy ball hawk; Bill Zitzman and Curt Walker. Evar Swanson, the ex-Mission and Vernon outfielder, played regularly for the Reds last year and made a big

TILDEN ATTRIBUTES TENNIS DEFEAT TO BRIDGE PLAYING

CANNES (France) Feb. 5. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden, American tennis champion, was beaten today by E. C. Peters, sixth ranking British player, in one of the biggest upsets ever witnessed on the Riviera. The match was decided at 9-7, 8-6. Tilden attributed his downfall to overconfidence and failure to keep his mind on the game.

"If I played negligently," he remarked, "it was because my mind was on bridge." He seemed not greatly perturbed over his defeat. Tilden's tennis against Peters was far below par while the Britisher was playing over his head. Tilden later returned to the court and, paired with Cecilie Aussem of Germany, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Tottenham in the first round of mixed doubles at 6-1, 6-3.

California to Face Bruin Quintet in Two Games While Trojans Face Cards in North

BY RALPH HUSTON

California's Golden Bears will arrive here tomorrow just in time to say good-by to Southern California's Trojans. The Berkeley hoopsters will pull in at the Espee station aboard the Padre to meet the U.C.L.A. Bruins tomorrow and Saturday nights at the Olympic Auditorium. The Trojans depart on the Lark for Palo Alto, where they will meet Stanford Saturday night in the third game of their series.

The Bears are in third place in the title race at present, but can't be counted out of the running for the crown. They have four games left, two with the Bruins and two with Stanford. If they can win all four contests, while the Trojans are losing two of their remaining three, "Nibs" Price's outfit will annex the title.

WILBUR CALDWELL

The Bruins, having won only one of their last three games, are all set for a comeback, as they are trailing right on the heels of the league-leading Trojans. Caddy Works is experiencing difficulties in bringing his men out of a slump, largely caused, it is said, by the already lengthy season. The Bruins got away to a great start, entering the league race in top form because of a previous long practice season. They have apparently slumped recently, but Works thinks they may be ready to go again tomorrow night.

Works expects to start his usual quintet of Capt. Larry Wilda, Carl Knowles, Dick Von Hagen, Carl Shy and Frank Lubin. The Bears are expected to use Kent Purcell, Capt. Perry Ten Eyck, Wilson Tripp, Davis and Vendt, although Joel Coffield, who did well against the Trojans here last week, may see more service than a basketball substitute usually gets.

Extra-Hole Match Features Quarter-Final Round

Mrs. Pressler Wins Easily Over Miss Lawson

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Golfers courageous!

Courage is of all kinds, but none could be finer than the gritty courage exhibited by Mrs. Gregg Lifur yesterday, when she defeated Mrs. Roy Green, 1 up on the twenty-first hole, in a sensational quarter-final match of the annual midwinter championship over the north course of the Los Angeles Country Club.

MRS. ROY GREEN

But Mrs. Lifur's courage could no more than equal that displayed by the Los Angeles city women's champion, who lost only after putting up a superbly game battle.

This match, the classic of the tournament so far, even overshadowed the defeat of Mrs. Harlow G. Higbie, noted Chicago woman golfer, who lost to Mrs. C. J. Woerner of the Los Angeles Country Club, 1 down on the eighteenth green.

Mrs. Leona Pressler, the medalist, defeated Miss Helen Lawson, 5 and 4, and today faces Mrs. Woerner.

MISS GOTTLIEB WINS

In the remaining match Miss Beatrice Gottlieb, the splendid young golfer from New York, defeated Mrs. F. M. Slade, 3 and 2. Miss Gottlieb meets Mrs. Lifur this morning in what should prove to be the finest match of the day.

Showing improvement in every championship she has played in during the past few years, Mrs. Green reached a new peak yesterday when she gave Mrs. Lifur, one of the foremost woman golfers in the United States, as hard a tussle as she has had in some time.

For drama, thrills and chills, few matches played on a Southern California course have equaled this epic contest.

Playing cautiously, with little regard for medal scores, Mrs. Green, out in 44, and Mrs. Lifur, out in 45,

MAX BAER IS SIGNED FOR OWENS

Northern Knockout Star to Appear in Olympic Go Early Next Month

Max Baer, knockout rival of Frankie Campbell, will make his first Los Angeles appearance at the Olympic on March 4. He was signed yesterday to box Ernie Owens.

ERNIE OWENS

While Campbell has been bowling over all opposition here Baer suddenly came to the front in Frankie's home town and hasn't been defeated to date. His kayo record runs around twelve or fifteen opponents.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams also announced a full set of cards for the next four weeks. The lineup is:

February 11—Armando Santiago vs. Billy Townsend.

Februar, 18—Les Kennedy vs. Dynamite Jackson.

February 25—Eddie Mack vs. Maurice Holtzer.

March 4—Baer vs. Owens.

Final signing of the Mack-Holtzer was negotiated yesterday, also, following Mack's knockout of Joey Sangor Tuesday night. Complications may develop due to the arrival back in town of Goldie Hess, who already holds a contract to meet Mack.

BASEBALL PRACTICE SOON

With the first call for baseball practice scheduled to be sounded on Patterson Field in about one more week Coach Bill Anderson, Occidental diamond mentor, is beginning to wonder what sort of a turn-out of aspirants will greet him in the not-too-distant future. Headed by Capt. Bill Adams, veteran third-sacker, about twenty prospects will undoubtedly answer the call.

Clever lobbing enabled Bob Considine of Washington, D. C., and Ernest Kuhn, New York, to beat Frank Bonneau, New York, and Harold McGuffin, Philadelphia, 12-11, 2-6, 6-3, in a first-round match, which carried over from yesterday after the opening set had been played.

Shifting to a hard-hitting attack, Kuhn and Considine then gained their quarter-final bracket at the expense of Jacques and Giles Verstraten, father and son, at 6-3, 6-1.

The Hunter-Throckmorton and Coggeshall and Murphy teams had reached the vantage point yesterday and did not play today.

In the quarter-finals tomorrow Hunter and Throckmorton play Walter Swaybill and Stanley Sharte, New York; Rockafellow and Cutler meet Considine and Kuhn; Appel and Hall encounter Raymond Stone and Irving Raymond, Columbia University, and Coggeshall and Murphy take on Ed Burns and Reg Talmage, New York.

The quarter-finals in singles also are on tomorrow's schedule.

BARBUTTI FLOPS AS SPRINTER

Olympic 400-Meter Champion Finishes Last in 50 and 70-Yard Events at Newark; Dr. Martin Trims Conger in 1000-Yard Run, Feature of Evening's Program

BY TED VOSBURGH

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWARK (N. J.) Feb. 5. (AP)—Ray Barbutti learned tonight that as a sprinter he is a good quarter-miler. The big ex-Syracuse University football star who won the Olympic 400-meter championship for America's only flat race victory in the games at Amsterdam went out of his class and finished a hopelessly distanced last in a special sprint series that marked his return to competition following his recent reinstatement by the A.A.U.

Too big and heavy for the light fast field that opposed him Barbutti finished fifth and last at both fifty and seventy yards while in the sixty-yard event he ripped away a startling block and never got under way at all.

The honors in the series went to Bill Bruder of the Newark A.C., who finished first in the fifty and sixty, and second in the seventy. He tallied thirteen points. Bob Talbot, a club mate, was second with eleven; Bob Wiere, New York A.C. third with five; Bob McDonald, Yale, fourth with 4; and Barbutti last with none.

The big competitive thrill of the evening came when Ray Conger, the slender Iowan who holds the national 1000-yard championship, was beaten at the distance by Dr. Paul Martin of Switzerland in 2m. 15s., speedy time for the flat One Hundred and Thirteenth Regiment Armory track.

Phil Edwards, young negro internationalist who starred for New York University and the Canadian Olympic team, bowed to both Martin and Conger in a thrilling finish. Edwards set the early pace but could not gain enough of a lead to

The services will be conducted by the Masonic Lodge. All Angel players who were teammates of Sandberg last year will be honorary pallbearers.

MARSHALL MAT WINNER

Airplane Spin Beats Dr. Sarpolis in Straight Falls in Olympic Wrestling Main Event

Everett Marshall, the air-minded ace of the wrestling world, disposed of Dr. Karl Sarpolis, Chicago's gift to the manly art of muscle-massaging, in his customary straight-fall fashion last night at the Olympic Auditorium.

A generous gathering of followers of the mat behemoths turned out for the affair and saw Marshall twice flatten the dear doctor with his famous airplane spin hold in exactly 33m. 15 s. To be slightly more explicit, Marshall scored the first fall in 31m. 37s. and then polished off Sarpolis for the second fall in the rapid time of 1m. 48s.

EVERETT MARSHALL

Although he lost, Dr. Sarpolis did something that Joe Malcewicz and Stanley Stasiak, Marshall's previous two local main-event opponents, failed to do in their matches with the airplane spin demolisher. That something was that Sarpolis succeeded in getting a hold on Marshall. In fact, the Doctor managed to clamp five holds on the grappler the critics refer to as the next world's champion, but Marshall wriggled out of all of them with comparative ease.

Early in the match Sarpolis slapped Marshall to the mat with a headlock, but Ev got out of it with one jump. Later the Doctor applied an armlock, which Marshall easily rolled out of. A flying body scissors and a couple of "split" holds were later applied on Marshall, but he simply broke out of them, which was very discouraging, to say the least, for the Chicago medicine man.

Sarpolis did his best work with his feet, landing several effective kicks on Marshall, one of them opening a cut over Ev's right eye.

Marshall, as usual, did most of his work with arm holds, finally tossing the Doctor with the airplane spin.

Sarpolis rushed out for the second fall in a very pugnacious manner and promptly made the mistake of shooting a straight left to Marshall's cut eye. That made Marshall mad and he promptly ended the match in short order, two reverse headlocks and the eventual airplane spin ringing down the cur-

Cincinnati Reds Get Durocher From Yankees, McWeeney From Brooklyn in Two D

NEW MANAGER ADDS PLAYERS

Dan Howley Sends Luque to Dodger Outfit

Coast Club Expected to Get Unknown Player

Yankees to Use New Man to Pay Off Debts

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Cincinnati's Reds of the National League today drew on clubs of Greater New York for two players, surrendered one and promised to deliver another later. The transfer of Leo Durocher, flashy fielding shortstop but light hitter, was effected by the Yankees to the Reds for an unannounced sum of money and an unidentified player. The Cincinnati player, however, is not expected to join the Yankees, but will be used to pay an obligation the club owes in the Pacific Coast League.

Cincinnati gave Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban pitcher, to Brooklyn in an even trade for Douglas McWeeny, a big pitcher with a world of "stuff," but weak last year in control.

SURPRISE MOVE

Alert observers along the baseball Rialto were surprised that Durocher could be waived out of the American League. The Springfield (Mass.) boy hit only .246 for New York last season, but he was regarded as the best fielding shortstop in the business. He has played with the Yankees two seasons, but has been the property of the club for four years, spending one year at Atlanta and another at St. Paul on option.

He is only 24 years old, but one of baseball's most gifted conversationalists and famed from one end of the diamond to the other as a "jockey" who makes himself objectionable to opposing players by "riding" them.

If Durocher becomes a regular for the Reds the far-famed double-play combination of Ford and Critz will be broken up. The Cincinnati shortstop and second baseman in 1928 assisted the Reds in making a record of 194 double plays. Critz is regarded by many experts as the best fielding second baseman in baseball.

The trade between Cincinnati and Brooklyn involves two pitchers who were ineffective last year. Luque, the only Cuban player in the majors, is nearing 40 years of age, but still is a smart, resourceful pitcher. McWeeny, who is only 31 years of age, is a big fellow who had a good year in 1928, but never could get started in 1929.

Dan Howley, manager of the Reds, has moved to the National from the American League and the addition of Durocher marks the third American League player to go with him. The others, Bob Meusel of the Yankees and Harry Heilmann of Detroit, are expected to strengthen the Reds' outfield.

"BOBBY" RESTING

The New York Giants announced that Lou Allen, Harvey Ballew and Edd'e Marshall, young infielders, and Sam Leslie, who is to be converted from a first baseman into an outfielder, will go to the San Antonio training camp with the pitchers and catchers who are to report the 17th inst.

Summer Races Are Sought for Border Track

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Feb. 5. Tentative dates for a summer race meeting at the Agua Caliente Jockey Club which will be inaugurated this year were announced this afternoon by James N. Crofton, general manager of the plant. Authority for holding the meeting now is being sought from the Mexican government.

The summer season would be of about sixty days' duration, starting June 28, and running until September 7. A meeting of jockey club officials is to be held next week with a view to final decision. Word is expected from the authorities prior to that time.

Listo, 4-year-old My Play colt, shattered the track record for a mile and one-sixteenth here this afternoon, to win the San Anselmo allowance race for aged horses. Though in repeated trouble in the early running, Jockey George Ellis held Listo to the rail throughout the journey and drew his reward at the stretch turn. Here Gold Rush, the pacemaker, went wide, carrying Seth's Hope with him. Listo found clear racing room for the first time and went on to win by a length and one-half. Sidney Grant got up for the place and Seth's Hope saved the show.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

A BELATED CHRISTMAS PRESENT

IT MUST have been a pleasant dream for Mr. Dean B. Cromwell to wake up the other morning and find Mr. Maurice Guyer a member of his track squad and eligible to run for Southern California this spring.

Mr. Guyer is the flaming-haired boy who ran for Santa Ana Junior College last year and competed for the L.A.A.C. in the junior and senior national A.A.U. track and field championships at Denver.

By virtue of his junior college transfer Guyer is eligible to race in the colors of the Trojans the same as Frank Wykoff of the "Fastest Growing City."

And what a sweet team that will make along with Maurer—three boys who with Sir Charles William Paddock set a new world's 440-yard relay record around a two-turn track and a new national A.A.U. 880-yard relay mark at Denver.

Potentially, Guyer is probably the greatest 220-yard prospect in the country today. He is also a good century flyer, but finds it easier to get up steam in the furlong than he does in the shorter dash.

At Denver he placed second to Leland and Alf in the junior 100 and second to Alf in the junior 220. The latter race was won in new junior A.A.U. record time of 21.5, and Guyer was less than a yard back of Alf at the finish. He overhauled Haynes of Denver in the closing strides and might have done the same thing to Alf had the race been five yards longer.

But his best sprinting of the Denver meet was in the 880 relay. Running the third lap he not only made up a gap of a yard on Jones, the New York ace in the hole, but gave Frank Wykoff an additional two yards over Cuhel, the N.Y.A.C. anchor man. The L.A.A.C. boys averaged 21.6s. for each 220, which means no stops en route.

"IN THE BAG"

EDDIE MACK'S knockout of Joey Sangor in the fifth round the other night certainly confounded all the whispering boys who were sure the friendship between the two fighters and their managers meant collusion at the cross roads.

It takes an incident like this to restore confidence in fights and fighters when the woods are full of those who see nothing but evil and speak nothing but evil.

Joe Roth and Lew Sangor, respective managers of the two fighters, have been friends for years. So have Eddie Mack and Joey Sangor, their charges.

There never was a bolder line-up for one of those tag fights that ever and anon put the boxing game in ill repute.

But Mack and Sangor attended to the stifling of all such reports splendidly. The gymnasium rallbirds who know it all—and never hesitate to tell it—were put to rout.

Mack and Sangor staged one of the best fights from the first bell until Sangor's finish in the fifth round that has been seen in a local ring for months.

If that was Sangor's farewell to the ring game he made his exit in a blaze of glory. He went out fighting like a little champion. He was as glorious in defeat as Mack was convincing in victory. It was a great "in the bag" fight, and we need more like it.

A NEW ARENA

QUIETLY and without a great deal of ballyhoo the newest addition to the city's fistic emporiums opens its gates next Monday.

This is the Eastside Arena sponsored by Leo Newman.

It is smaller than the Olympic, slightly larger than Hollywood and is said to represent an outlay in cash of approximately $100,000.

In round numbers it seats 3200 persons.

Just what success the new venture will achieve is a matter of conjecture.

It caters to a large territory and may in time build up a clientele that attends neither of the other city arenas.

One of the bright spots in the line-up is the presence of smiling Joe Lillard, who in the old days of the four-round fights at Vernon was Jack Doyle's ticket dispenser. Also Fane Norton, a veteran ex-scribe, who will see that the public is kept thoroughly acquainted with matters of import.

Robleto and Navarro Mix

Johnny Navarro and Canto Robleto, two very promising bantams, meet in an eight-round rematch at the Pasadena Arena tonight. Navarro took the place of Charlie Kaiser against Robleto at the arena three weeks ago and won by a technical knockout. Robleto's friends claim the boy seriously injured his hand and was unable to continue.

The six-round semifinal marks the professional debut of Glen Bowers, Alhambra's sensational amateur featherweight, who was runner-up for the world's title at the last Olympics. Bowers is taking on Harry Wallinder, a Hollywood boxer.

The four-round bouts will be Hymie Rudin vs. Frankie Abendino, 135 pounds; Billy Wager vs. Joe Para, 165 pounds; Glen Dinger vs. Frank Leonard, 148 pounds.

BEAR BOXERS DRILL FOR CARD MATCHES

BERKELEY, Feb. 5. (Exclusive)—By way of preparation for the Stanford matches on the 14th inst., Coach Stanley Jones of the University of California's boxing varsity has twenty-five men working out daily in the Harmon gymnasium ring.

Outstanding in the heavyweight division are Rusty Gill, the fullback of the football varsity; Powers and Jim Robinson. In the light-heavyweight division are Bob Cahn, Fred Stone and George Garner. Capt. Dwight Gribben and George Sherwood, both team veterans, are competing for the middleweight position.

The welterweights include Wilbur Kindig, "Red" Hargraves and Del Pero. The lightweight division brings forward Ed "Tiger" Nemitz, Al Dubecker and Al Pacanelli. The featherweights include J. Hillaman, Al McDonald, Art Ribbel and E. Rocco. Jans, a Chinese, tops the bantamweight applicants.

Fans See New Arena Sunday

Manager Leo Newman of the East Side boxing arena now being rushed to completion at East Ninth and Lorena streets, plans to have the big auditorium ready for inspection by the fans Sunday. Workmen started placing the reserved seats yesterday. The reserved sections will seat 2313 persons, while the gallery will bring the capacity up to 5200. Lighting and other equipment is rapidly being installed and when the doors are thrown open for the opening show Monday night, the fans will see as perfectly equipped boxing arena as the West can boast.

Newman has Ritchie King and Joe Guerrero boxing his opening main event. Guerrero is the Mexican lightweight champion, having won the title in a battle with Johnny Lamar at the Olympic. King won the lightweight championship of the Navy three different times.

The card supporting King and Guerrero will see Willie Henry and Pete Moore, heavyweights, in the semi-wind-up and Hymie Miller and Art Molina, 126-pounders, in the special. Hymie Rudin takes on Bobby Reister and Joe Singer meets Sig Bennett.

CATCH BIG MACKEREL OFF HERMOSA BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, Feb. 5.—Pulling in a four and one-half-pound mackerel last week Judge Beecher of Los Angeles caught the largest fish of that specie seen here in many years. Beecher's catch measured twenty-four inches from tip to tip and put up quite a scrap before it was hauled in.

With the return of good weather fishing in this neck of the woods is improving. Large hauls of perch, mackerel, sole and sand dabs are carried ashore daily by visiting anglers.

ford scored for the Hurricanes. McCarthy swung around the posts to score for Midwick, while the crowd went into ecstasies. Pedley then came through for Midwick again with another goal, giving them a 4-to-3 lead.

WONDERFUL RIDING

In the fifth chukker it seemed as though the game was on ice as far as Midwick was concerned. McCarty and Pedley scored while Balding scored once for the Hurricanes.

The Hurricanes had all the best of the sixth chukker with a burst of wonderful riding in which they scored three goals. Laddie Sanford tallied, as did Long Jim Colt twice. Colt was exceptionally good and deserves a great deal of credit. He was the whole show in this chukker.

In the seventh Neil McCarthy had a bad spill which looked as though he was through for the day. Neil was very game, however, and resumed after a short rest. He had bounced on the turf on his stomach and was badly out of breath. Long Jim Colt almost scored for the Hurricanes in this session. If he had, the game would have surely gone to Sanford's team. Eric Pedley came through to tally for Midwick, however, when things looked the worst.

TALLY TIED

In the eighth chukker the Hurricanes tied up when Balding and Colt made goals. The Hurricanes were particularly good and it seemed as though they were deserving of victory. They were fighting hard. The eighth period was called by Timer Billy Medill when Sanford rode across Burke.

The game was extended into an extra chukker for the first time in Coast open history. In the ninth chukker Pedley, like all true White Knights of old, came through with the winning goal after a thrilling struggle between mounts and men.

The line-ups:

Midwick		Hurricanes
McCarthy (4)	No. 1	Sanford (3)
Sorgatz	No. 2	Balding (1)
Pedley (6)	No. 3	Colt (4)
Burke (1)	Back	Howard

Hurricanes	0	1	0	1	2	0	5	—10

Payne-Lamar Winner Wants Mack Battle

The winner of the Cecil Payne-Johnny Lamar fight at the Hollywood American Legion stadium wants Eddie Mack as his next opponent. Both Payne and Lamar have expressed a preference for Mack and Tom Gallery has his hooks out for the bout. Lamar is particularly anxious to get Mack because his manager, Jack Russell, says Mack has come to Los Angeles from Denver and hand-picked his opponents when Lamar, a local boy who has fought better fights than Mack and has never been kayoed in his career, can't even get to first base.

Cecil Payne is making Johnny Lamar scale 133 pounds at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If Lamar is half a pound overweight he will have to work it off or no fight. That's the ultimatum the Payne crowd has issued to Jack Russell and Tom Gallery. Lamar isn't worrying about making weight. In a pinch he can do 130 pounds, but he wants to win this fight and he is one of the best short-enders to go to the post at Hollywood in months.

McGough will be favorite to beat Manuel DeLeon, young Mexican, in the semi-wind-up. Johnny De Coursey is fighting Tommy Hoffman in the six-round special. Hoffman is the favorite.

withstand the closing sprints of Martin and Conger.

It was the first winning race of the season for Martin, a veteran of three Olympic Games as a representative of Switzerland.

Sol Furth, New York University track captain, equalled the world's indoor record of 8 1-5s. in beating out Monty Wells, former Dartmouth star, in the seventy-yard low hurdles. The present mark was set by Earl Thomson, eleven years ago and he had the advantage of spikes, while Furth ran with smooth shoes.

Eddie Roll, former Colgate flyer, now in the colors of the Newark A.C., showed the way to Pete Bowen of the University of Pittsburgh, national quarter-mile champion; Johnny Gibson, Bloomfield (N. J.) speedster, and Eddie Blake of the Boston A.A., in a 500-yard special. The time of 60s. was fast for the flat track.

Bowen was second with Gibson third and Blake fourth.

Willie Ritola, Finnish-American veteran, failed to appear for the two-mile handicap as advertised. In his absence sturdy young Joe McCluskey, Fordham freshman who holds the intercollegiate freshman cross-country championship, beat Gus Moore of the Brooklyn Harriers by fifty yards, just the amount of his handicap. Moore ran from scratch.

SHELL 400's TRIUMPH

The Shell Oil 400's took the lead in the Municipal Basketball League race last night by downing the Karper Furniture Company quintet, 37 to 20, for their fourth straight triumph. The game was played at Los Angeles High. Meriney, with 11 points, was the scoring leader. Half-time score favored the Shell Oilers, 14 to 8.

Speed Counts in Basketball

BY SOL METZGER

Your basketball star has to be nimble of brain, quick of sight, snappy of foot and lightning itself with his hands, whether he be an alumni fed hick on the college colors or just pure lily white. His game is to outwit and outmaneuver the opposition no matter whether pater or alma mater pays the bills.

So, when you see a team centering its plays around No. 1, the cut-back artist, with No. 2 tearing down and crossing in front of him, keep your eyes peeled. The players have to. If you do you'll see some pretty quick stuff pulled.

B and C are not going to be fooled by any of the plays that have already been shown. No, sir! C moves wide this time to cover No. 2 as he should be covered and B is all set to handle No. 1. Again they are outsmarted. No. 1, instead of dribbling for the basket from the foul-line, makes a quick pivot and tries a chest shot from that distance with no one rushing him. Not a bad stunt as he's familiar with the shot because it's the same as the foul shot. And so it goes.

league - leading Trojans, is busy working his charges up to the proper pitch for the improved Stanford five. The Trojans split even in two contests when they met the Cards previously, "Husky" Hunt's outfit showed vast improvement last week-end when it split two games with the Bruins, although the latter team thereby annexed a 2-1 bulge in the series. The Cards came back strongly in the second half of the first game to win, 40-37, and dropped the second contest, 15-29.

Barry, Dr. Thurber, Student Manager Bonhomme, Cahn and twelve athletes make up the party. Frank Smith, Jack Gardner, Bill Pierce, Aaron Nibley and Henry Cano, forwards; Jess Mortensen and Hank Walbot, centers; "Web" Caldwell, Capt. Johnny Lehners, Jim Truher, Ray Harris and "Moose" Thompson, guards, are the performers.

Because the circus which has been going on in the Shrine Auditorium lately has taken over their playing court, the Trojans have been hard up for practice lately, and Barry isn't entirely satisfied with their condition.

In the semi-wind-up Howard Cantonwine, the 215-pound Iowan, tossed Ted Thye, former middleweight champion who has invaded heavyweight ranks with 195 pounds of beef, in 27ms. and 22s. A reverse-double-wristlock finished the rough but rather uninteresting match.

ELDER TIES RECORD IN 50-YARD SPRINT

CINCINNATI, Feb. 5. (AP)—Jack Elder, Notre Dame track and football star, ran the fifty-yard dash in 5 2-5s. here tonight on the indoor track at St. Xavier College to win from Robert Brand, St. Xavier, and Dick Mahoney, Notre Dame, who finished in that order. Elder's time of 5 2-5s. tied the national intercollegiate indoor record for the distance.

The first competition of the spring semester is scheduled for the 13th inst., against the Berkeley Tennis Club.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR STATE AMATEUR PLAY

DEL MONTE, Feb. 5. (AP) — The California amateur golf championship for 1930 will be held here September 1-7, next, Chester S. Lyday of Los Angeles, secretary of the California Golf Association, notified local officials today.

The tournament, annually attended by 300 or more golfers, will be played on four courses, namely, Pebble Beach, Cypress Point, Del Monte and Monterey Peninsula. It will be preceded by the north vs. south team matches at Pebble Beach, August 30-31. The Del Monte championship for women has been set for September 3-7.

As the dates chosen embrace the Labor Day week-end, more than 500 entries are expected this year. Local officials pointed out that Pacific Coast stars who compete in the California event will have plenty of time to get to the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, Pa., for the national amateur championships, September 22-27, next.

MRS. LIFUR WINS MATCH

Defeats Mrs. Green, 1 Up, 21 Holes, in Great Battle; Mrs. Higbie Loses Close Match

And then the battle started.

Mrs. Green holed out a fine par on the 220-yard, par 3 eleventh hole, to take the lead, 1 up. Mrs. Lifur came back with two beautiful pars on twelve and thirteen to take the lead from her opponent, 1 up, and then apparently had the match sewed up tight by winning the sixteenth to lead, 2 up, and two to go. Mrs. Green three-putted sixteen, and thereby lost the first of her golden opportunities.

SQUARES MATCH

The seventeenth, a tricky, barranca-guarded hole of 355 yards, cost Mrs. Lifur her advantage, when she took a 6 to Mrs. Green's 5.

Coming to the eighteen with a half to win, Mrs. Lifur was on in four, ten feet past the pin, only to have Mrs. Green pitch four feet from the pin. Mrs. Lifur's putt hit the back of the cup and rolled out, while Mrs Green holed hers to carry the match extra holes.

Both drove traps on nineteen, but both were out with no advantage. Mrs. Lifur chose a spoon, but partially missed the shot, the ball rolling into another trap. Mrs. Green's long iron was beautifully played, coming to a stop on the apron for an easy roll-up shot. Mrs. Lifur played out to the edge of the green, and it looked like the match was over when Mrs. Green pitched four feet above the hole.

Four-foot putts are easy to miss, however, and Mrs. Green need not be criticised for failing to hole the putt. Mrs. Lifur pitched dead and got her putt for a squeaky half.

SPECTACULAR PUTTS

The twentieth hole, 470 yards from tee to green, furnished the biggest thrill of the round. Both had fine drives, and good seconds with difficult pitches left to the green. Mrs. Green stuck hers twenty-two feet from the pin, and Mrs. Lifur was two feet inside.

Judging her distance perfectly, Mrs. Green holed her putt for a 4, and almost certain victory. Almost any other woman would have given up completely, but not Mrs. Lifur. Taking her time to carefully survey every undulation of the green, she calmly sunk the putt to carry on.

The twenty-first hole was over in a jiffy, when Mrs. Lifur banged her second on the green. Mrs. Green was short, but stiff battling, chipped ten feet past the pin, and just missed her putt coming back. Mrs. Lifur almost dubbed a four-footer that hit the side of the cup, but decided to drop in with the winning 4.

The cards:

Men's par (out)	554	344	353—36
Mrs. Lifur	755	454	474—45
Mrs. Green	556	355	474—44
Men's par (in)	434	453	444—35—71
Mrs. Lifur	544	463	466—42—87

Their chances of getting him depends on how he looks throwing arm shape up for spring training. If Grace's wing has all its old speed and vigor, which it lacked last season, the Cubs can also be expected to turn over Schulte to the Angeles outfit.

George Harper, the veteran outfielder the Angels got from Boston Braves in the Wheeler deal, has not yet signed a contract. That makes it certain Berger has sent back his contract unsigned.

Mike Gazella, the third baseman Hollywood obtained from the Yankees, has sent in his signed contract to the Stars and is now training cross-country to report at Shelks' spring-training camp in San Diego.

Doman Bout Sidestepped by Campbell

Frankie Campbell's managers don't seem anxious to sign for a Campbell-Vigo Doman fight at Hollywood. Doman has signed, but Tom Maloney and Cal Working, managers of Campbell, won't talk business. Early in the week Tom Gallery, matchmaker at Hollywood, says they told him to get Doman, but now they don't want the fight. Doman is a hard puncher who has had several heavyweight fights at Hollywood.

Redlands Has Championship in the Sack

Leading the Southern California Conference by virtue of wins over Occidental, La Verne twice and Caltech, Coach Ashel Cunningham's undefeated Bulldog quintet is making a strong bid for the hoop championship.

A surprise win over Occidental by a 33-18 score started off the season and since that time the Bulldogs have defeated La Verne, 11-7, in an overtime game, and 26-21, and last Saturday took the most one-sided conference game in several seasons from Caltech, 58-16.

Capt. Rod Lee is leading the 1930 Bulldog edition, with Ball, Loper and Keele at forwards and Beiden and Ebel at guards. Loper and Keele have been staging a real race at forward, with the latter, an Indian protege of "Sandy" McGilbra, improving rapidly. Hilton Bell, the other Redlands forward, is making a strong bid for conference high-point honors, having scored fifty points in four league contests. The rest of the team scoring is as follows: Lee (c) 25, Beiden (g) 21, Keele (f) 20, Loper (f) 12.

The Bulldogs meet Whittier next Saturday on the Poet court and the following week journey to Pomona for what will probably decide the conference championship.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

The 8th inst., Whittier at Whittier; the 15th inst., Pomona at Pomona; the 22nd inst., Caltech at Redlands; March 1, San Diego at Redlands.

DePaul Cagers Conquer Club Quintet, 27-24

DePaul University's wandering basketballers from Chicago added the Hollywood Athletic Club's quintet to their list of victims last night when they trimmed the Movie City Cagers, 27 to 24. The DePaul five held a 10-4 margin at half-time.

"King" Cole, sub forward for the H.A.C. team, carried off scoring honors by caging a dozen points, four more than his team-mate, Chuck Kearney, collected. The DePaul points were rather evenly distributed among the visitors' six players. DePaul meets the Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet tonight. Line-ups:

SHELL OILERS AND SERVICE MEN MEET

Ice hockey players of the oil industry will swing sticks tonight at the Palais De Glace rink when the Well Pullers of the Shell Oil and the Service men of the Van Fleet-Durkees hook up in a Southern California Senior League game.

It will be a case of a strong defensive sextet in Van Fleet-Durkee uniforms clashing with the powerful offensive outfit of the Shell line-up. Ted Iriland, goalie of the Van Fleets, and Tom Howard and Walt Richards, defense men, constitute an iron-clad resistance against attack for the Service puckesters. With "Tiny" Barr and Buster Smith doing the high scoring, the Oilers are conceded to be offensively the most formidable team in the league.

COCHRAN GAINS LEAD IN REISELT CUE TILT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Welker Cochran of Hollywood, former 18.2 balkline billiard champion, registered a slight gain over Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia in their three-cushion match today, although they divided the fifth and sixth blocks.

Cochran won the afternoon block, 50 to 40 in fifty innings, but Reiselt took tonight's meeting by a 51-50 margin in forty-four innings. The division brought them to the halfway mark of the match, with Cochran leading, 300 to 276. Cochran had a high run of eight this afternoon to Reiselt's five. Each had seven for his best cluster in the night block.

SPIDER PLADNER VICTOR

PARIS, Feb. 5. (AP)—Spider Pladner, former flyweight champion of France, defeated Arthur Boddington, British bantamweight, on points in a twelve-round bout here tonight.

'Ambling Alp' Faces Owens in Jersey Go

NEWARK (N. J.) Feb. 5. (AP)—Back from the stormy atmosphere of Chicago, Primo Carnera, Italian Ambling Alp, will display his size and prowess before Newark's fight fans tomorrow night in a ten-round bout with "Cowboy" Billy Owens of Oklahoma.

Just what the result will be, no one dares predict. The principal result of Carnera's invasion of the West was an investigation which resulted in the decision that the Italian giant's size had frightened his opponent, Elzear Rioux, into a forty-seven-second knockout. Owens has a record which is little if any better than that of Rioux, but it is reported more than Carnera's towering bulk will be needed to put him down for the count.

The high spots on the Oklahoma cowboy's record are two technical knockouts at the hands of George Godfrey, by no means a little fellow, in 1926. Presumably Owens has shown improvement since then and by now he may be able to stay with the big fellows as well as tackle them.

Owens has something of a weaving style which alone may cause trouble for the big Italian.

As for Carnera, unless tomorrow's battle brings the upset, his ability seems due to remain an open question until he goes into the ranks of the top-notch heavyweights.

Richfields and Tigers Collide on Ice Tonight

The San Francisco Tigers and Los Angeles Richfields collide in a regular league hockey game at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tonight. If the Oil men win, they will tie San Francisco for second with 25 points.

Present standings give the Tigers 25 points and the Oilers 23, all of which makes tonight's points all the more precious. Since the winning of second place means qualifying for the championship playoff it behooves the various teams to hustle toward that coveted goal.

Snowshoe Race Carded

A snowshoe race for amateurs will be one of the feature events on the program for the Big Bear Lake winter carnival Saturday and Sunday, it was announced yesterday by Max Green, chairman of the winter sports committee of the State Chamber of Commerce for Southern California.

Inauguration of a new thriller, an aero snow sled, capable of 100 miles per hour on the glassy surface of the Big Bear Lake, is also expected to draw many visitors to the snow-mantled valley. The sled, powered by an airplane motor, carries eight passengers on its thrilling trips across the lake.

The California State Chamber of Commerce is working with the Big Bear Valley Chamber of Commerce in furthering the interest in California winter sports.

Canadians to Have Carnival

As an adjunct of the twentieth annual reunion and field day of the Canadian Tourists' Society, to be held all day Saturday, the 15th inst., at Exposition Park (Los Angeles Coliseum?) an elaborate sports program will be put on by noted Olympic, Pacific Coast and national champions, mostly gymnastic events.

Those taking part will be teams from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, hand balancing and tumbling teams under Coach Ben Price, student teams in pyramids and parallel bars from the University of Southern California, under coach Charlie Graves, and also other gymnasts from various clubs and colleges, in athletic feats, stunts and drills.

Of unusual interest this year will be Chief Coach Ralph Borrelli's great Exposition Playgrounds "circus" in various athletic stunts.

ILLINOIS STARTS FIGHT TO GET WALKER FORFEIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—A legal battle to prevent Mickey Walker, middleweight boxing champion of the world, from regaining control of $10,000 he forfeited to the Illinois Boxing Commission in 1929, was being prepared in San Francisco today by William E. Trautman, First Assistant Attorney-General of Illinois.

Walker forfeited the amount when he failed to meet an opponent agreeable to the commission within six months after he met Tommy Loughran in Chicago in March, last year. It was agreed the $10,000 was to go to a national charitable organization, and the Shrine Hospital of San Francisco was chosen.

William H. Hanlon of the California Boxing Commission, now has the money, but has been unable to turn it over to the hospital because Walker obtained a temporary restraining order. Final disposition of the matter is expected soon in the Superior Court at Sacramento.

SHIP TERMINAL PROGRESS TOLD

Long Beach Harbor Project Makes Headway

Engineer Reports Job Over Half Completed

Will be Ready for Opening by January Next

BY WALDO DRAKE

Long Beach's new $2,100,000 ship terminal yesterday was 55 per cent complete, Maj. R. G. McGlone, harbor engineer, announced that general progress has been so satisfactory that the big project, comprising 40.8 acres of modern passenger and freight wharves and sheds, trackage and rail classification yards, will be opened for full operation on January 1, next.

Its completion will give the port of Long Beach outer harbor facilities equal to any in operation or building on the Pacific Coast. In itself, the new terminal is but the first unit of a $15,000,000 development program outlined for the outer harbor, bounded on the east by the Long Beach breakwater and on the west by the inner harbor entrance channel.

The present unit is contained within the shoreward arm of the breakwater and has as its base a rectangular fill of 24.5 acres. From the southeasterly end of this base and along the inner side of the breakwater extends the main terminal, 1616 feet long and 350 feet wide. Its steel transit sheds will be but one story at present, but will later be raised to two-story structures. Two rail lines are being built on the ship side of the pier and two more in the rear of the sheds, with room for four more tracks. Two-story structures will be built at the inshore end of the two transit sheds for passengers, with overhead ramps for egress to Pico avenue. Across the 400-foot channel is being built a 500-foot stub wharf.

The west side of this open wharf will be utilized as a navy landing, thus filling a long-felt want at Long Beach. The new terminal will have the added advantage of central location, being less than five minutes' ride from the center of Long Beach. A 1200-foot turning basin is being dredged directly off the end of the long pier, the channel and the basin having a depth of thirty-five feet.

LASSCO LINE PLANS FOR ALOHA FESTIVAL

Special preparations to care for the expected increase in passenger traffic to Honolulu for Hawaii's first Aloha Festival of Flowers and Song, to be held next April 9, 10, 11 and 12, were announced yesterday by the Los Angeles Steamship Company. Six sailings of Lassco liners to Honolulu are planned between March 1 and April 5.

Lassco officials plan to decorate the liners in Hawaiian floral fashion, that the travelers may be in the islands' atmosphere from the moment they depart Los Angeles Harbor until their return. The festival will be held in the full flowering of Hawaiian springtime, when the islands are literally deluged in colors by myriad varieties of flowers and blooming trees.

Aloah Festival will open with an Aloah ball, followed by flower shows, interisland singing competitions, ancient Hawaiian pageants and water carnivals, closing with golf, swimming, tennis and polo tournaments.

The United States Shipping Board announced yesterday that the laid-up freight steamer Henry County will be turned over to the Navy Department about the 20th inst., then to be loaned by the Navy to the State of California for a nautical schoolship.

The steamer, to be turned over to the Navy Department in operating condition, is now undergoing complete overhaul, having been laid up at Norfolk since 1921. She is of 4155 deadweight tons and is equipped with reciprocating engines.

When the globe-girdling North German Lloyd liner Columbus stops here April 23, till local records for bunkering from barges will go by the boards. Shell Oil Company will employ five barges to supply the big ship with 32,000 barrels of fuel oil within ten hours. Williams, Dimond & Co., agents, yesterday received sanction from the Harbor Commission for bunkering lines to be paid along the dock at Berth 60 as well as from the barges, to facilitate the job.

Frank Johnson, marine insurance broker, yesterday was selected as chairman of the general committee to represent the fishing industry division recently effected by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce.
